Better Law Enforcement Through Better Training
I. THE COLLECTION

The Criminal Justice Video Library consists of approximately 600 videos in VHS or DVD format, covering 74 subject areas. A "McGruff - the Crime Dog" costume and "McGruff" puppet are also available for loan.

II. ELIGIBLE USERS AND BILLING PROCEDURES

1. User priority shall be given to the Law Enforcement Training Center and Nebraska criminal justice agencies. A fee of $3.00 per video will be charged to all criminal justice agencies, state agencies and schools. Catalogs are available for purchase at a cost of $7.00.

2. Individuals and non-criminal justice agencies may order the videos. A fee of $6.00 per video will be charged to non-criminal justice agencies and a fee of $15.00 per video will be charged to individuals.

3. The "McGruff" costume is available for use only by law enforcement agencies. A fee of $16.00 is charged for a 5-day period. Return postage is paid by the Crime Commission.

4. A "McGruff" puppet is also available for use only by law enforcement agencies. A fee of $6.00 is charged for a 5-day period.

III. LOAN PROCEDURES

1. Request videos by title. Order by telephone, by E-mail, by fax, or by mail.
   a. Telephone: (402) 471-3846
   b. Fax: (402) 471-2837
   c. Mail address: Nebraska Crime Commission, P.O. Box 94946, Lincoln, NE 68508
   d. E-mail: Sarah.Schoen@ncc.ne.gov

2. Request videos as soon as you are certain of the exact date needed. Give alternate dates and titles when possible. You will be notified if a requested video is not available.

3. A video request should contain the following information:
   a. Titles requested
   b. Dates needed
   c. Name, address, and telephone number of borrowing agency or individual

III. LOAN PROCEDURES - Continued

5. Return postage is not included with videos.

6. No videotapes or DVDs may be used for television transmission without the borrower submitting a written statement of television clearance from the producers of the video.

7. Videotapes/DVDS are not to be copied or duplicated by the borrower. This is a violation of the United States Copyright Laws. Videos may not be shown where an admission fee is charged or for fund raising purposes.

8. Study guides prepared by the production companies are available for many videos - see individual descriptions. Study guides are sent only when requested.

9. All videotapes available for loan are in the 1/2" VHS format.

10. Certain videos contain sensitive information and shall only be loaned to law enforcement agencies.

IV. CARE OF RENTALS

1. The borrower is responsible for returning videotapes and DVDs in good condition. Any damage beyond normal wear and tear will be charged to the user.

   In the event that a videotape or DVD is lost or damaged beyond repair, the borrower will be charged the amount necessary to replace the program.

2. Similarly, borrowers of the "McGruff" costume and puppet are responsible for returning the costume in good condition. Any damage beyond normal wear and tear will be charged to the borrower.

1997 SUPREME COURT UPDATE (VHS)

Alert  1997  26 minutes  AD

This video discusses major Supreme Court decisions from 1997 and explains how they may affect law enforcement officers. Included are discussions on (1) lawful authority to control passengers in lawfully stopped vehicles, (2) the weapons frisk authority in stopped vehicles, (3) the "knock and announce" requirement applied to forced entries of private premises, (4) what pretextual stops of motor vehicles are and the conditions under which they can be lawfully performed, and (5) the rules applicable to seeking consent from a motorist who was stopped because of a traffic law violation. A study guide is available.

911 POLICE TACTICS (VHS)

LOTI Productions  1993  30 minutes  AD

This program demonstrates and explains officer tactics for clearing stairwells, entering rooms, and clearing hallways when a lethal threat may be present. As always, officers should check their department’s use of force policy before viewing this video.

A GUIDE TO MYSPACE.COM FOR POLICE OFFICERS

Law Enforcement Intelligence Report  2007  55 minutes  AD

This video contains a presentation by Sgt. Corey McDonald, who was a school resource officer in New Hampshire. He registered as a member of myspace.com, which is an on-line social networking website, and spent a year on-line learning about how teens interact via the internet.

MySpace is free to join and has nearly 100 million members, mostly teenagers. Law enforcement should care about this website because it is an excellent source of intelligence information and a place to be pro-active with teens. While Sgt. McDonald was on the site, students would send him e mails and, as he built up trust, they would inform him of potential crimes. He made many positive contacts during the year he was on-line. He also learned that kids will talk about everything on MySpace and they have a false perception of anonymity.

McDonald presents basic information regarding how to get started on MySpace, how to navigate the site, how to avoid the landmines, conducting investigations, how long information is stored on the site, and emergency requests for disclosure. This is an excellent video for in-service training.
A PARENT'S GUIDE TO MYSPACE.COM
Omni Publishing Company  2006   37 minutes   AD
Sergeant Corey McDonald registered as a member of myspace.com (an on-line social networking website) for a full school year while he was a school resource officer at a New Hampshire High School. As a result of his experience, he has developed five "must know" facts for parents and safety guidelines that they can share with their children who are on myspace.com.

Included in the video are (1) how to sign up and navigate the site, (2) how to find your child and access their web page, (3) how to track your child’s friends, conversations, and group memberships, (4) how to delete sites, pictures, blogs, and friends and (5) what help is available from law enforcement.

ACCIDENT INVESTIGATION, PART 2 (VHS)
MTI  1988  25 minutes   AD
Through the realistic dramatization of an accident scene, viewers of this program are able to "investigate" an automobile collision. The investigating officer is faced with the challenge of diagramming the accident scene. By using two different measurement methods, he reconstructs the accident on paper to provide an accurate representation of the incident in a court of law. Formulas for various evidence gathering techniques are well-illustrated.

ACCIDENT SCENE MANAGEMENT, VOLUME 1  (VHS)
ALERT  1995  30 minutes   AD
Officers reporting to an accident scene need to be able to prioritize their time spent at the scene and recognize areas of concern. This program illustrates and explains the five important areas of accident scene management. A training guide is available.

ACQUAINTANCE RAPE, DRUGS, AND YOU (VHS)
Syndistar  1995  30 minutes   SH AD
Designed primarily for high school or college students, this video provides information on date rape and date rape drugs. Interviews with victims are included and the program describes how to prevent date rape and what to do if it does occur.

ACTION FOR THE FIRST RESPONDER/NEGLIGENT RETENTION (VHS)
LETN  1991  50 minutes   AD
This video is divided into two parts, each 25 minutes long. Part one (Action For The First Responder) provides information to law enforcement officers responding to hazardous materials releases including evacuation, release of toxic fumes, and protecting in-place citizens. Part two (Negligent Retention) covers the negligent retention of suspects or offenders by police officers including changes in law, how to reduce potential liability, the role of the supervisor, and documentation. A study guide is available.

97
ACTIVE COUNTERMEASURES AND CRIME SCENE DIAGRAMMING (VHS)
This video is divided into two sections, each 28 minutes long. A study guide is available upon request.

Part one: In a situation where weapons are either unavailable or inappropriate, law enforcement officers may have to rely upon defensive tactics. This segment demonstrates and explains basic unarmed striking and blocking techniques which will be defensible in court. Control theory, body mechanics, and techniques to control a violent subject are also covered.

Part two: Crime scene documentation is important when establishing probable cause for arrest and proof beyond a reasonable doubt. This segment is designed to give officers a working knowledge of crime scene diagramming and includes demonstrations of crime scene photographs, what to include in a diagram, and three dimensional diagrams.

ADMINISTRATIVE SEGREGATION (VHS)
L.E. NET 1990 10 minutes AD
Administrative segregation is necessary in correctional facilities for those inmates who may be dangerous or vulnerable to attacks from other inmates. This program (a) discusses the difference between administrative and disciplinary segregation, (b) explains the procedure for placing an inmate in administrative segregation, including the rights of the inmate, and (c) identifies when it is appropriate to release an inmate from administrative segregation.

ADULT ABUSE (VHS)
The legal system established to provide protection for the elderly and other high-risk adults is complex and presents a challenge for law enforcement investigations. This video presents two scenarios and follows law enforcement officers as they investigate (1) the abuse of a retarded person and (2) an elderly woman abused in a nursing home.

ADVANCED INVESTIGATIONS OF MYSPACE.COM AND OTHER SOCIAL NETWORKING SITES
Omni Publishing 2004 46 minutes AD
This program contains a presentation by Sgt. Corey McDonald, an officer from New Hampshire, who has experience in investigations of social networking sites. Segments include: 1) investigative purposes, 2) the dangers of myspace.com (e.g. cyber-bullying), 3) parents can be liable for what their kids post online, 4) first investigative steps and possible tools, 5) popular sites, including descriptions of Facebook, Gizmo, CraigsList, and MySpace, 6) open site and closed site considerations, and 7) introducing MySpace evidence in court.
AGGRESSIVE DRIVING/ROAD RAGE (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2001 45 minutes AD

This video documents efforts in Illinois and Massachusetts to identify and catch aggressive drivers by using unmarked police vehicles. A key element of both programs is the use of cruiser cameras to record the traffic violations. Both programs have been successful in getting some of the worst drivers off the road. A study guide is available.

AIDS IN PRISON: FEARS AND FACTS (VHS)

Fed. Bureau of Prisons 1990 25 minutes AD

This program is designed to be shown to inmates and contains valuable information on how AIDS is transmitted, personal protection against AIDS, and the difference between HIV positive and AIDS. The video also contains interviews with inmates infected with the AIDS virus.

AIR BAGS: A CRASH COURSE FOR RESCUE PERSONNEL (VHS)

American Coalition for Traffic Safety 1991 15 minutes AD

This program, designed for law enforcement officers and rescue personnel, explains how air bags function and how to identify cars equipped with air bags. Because air bags are designed to deploy only in frontal or near-frontal crashes, it is possible that personnel will be involved in rescuing someone from a car with an air bag that did not deploy. A demonstration of typical crash situations is included in the video.

ALABAMA OFFICER ASSAULT/BODY LANGUAGE, PART 1 (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1999 42 minutes AD

This program uses in-car police video of a traffic stop in Alabama to demonstrate what can happen when an officer becomes too complacent. While the officer begins to handcuff the suspect, he is assaulted and knocked unconscious by the suspect. A passing truck driver stops to render aid and possibly saves the officer’s life. An analysis of this incident discusses what mistakes were made by the officer. A short segment follows which describes how to recognize and interpret a suspect's body language. A study guide is available.

ALBUQUERQUE HOSTAGE-SNIPER INCIDENT/STANDING MODIFIED SEARCH (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1999 36 minutes AD

This program documents a bank robbery in Albuquerque, New Mexico. The bank robber took a hostage and stepped outside, with the hostage, to talk to the police. A police sniper fired a shot into the bank robber’s head, killing him instantly. The incident is captured on video. The lessons learned from this incident are discussed during the epilog.

An eleven minute segment at the end of this program demonstrates how to control a subject using the "standing modified search” procedure. A study guide is available.
ALERT MISSOURI COP NABS KILLERS

In The Line of Duty

2005  45 minutes  AD

A law enforcement officer in Missouri made a speeding stop on a young man and his sister, who were en-route to Las Vegas. His alert questioning led him to believe something was wrong with their behavior and the validity of their answers. He was able to search the trunk of their car and during the course of his investigation, he was able to get confessions from both that indicated they had killed their mother and grandparents in Indiana and were fleeing the scene of the crime. An interview with this officer is included in this program, and he explains the red flags that arose during the traffic stop that made him suspicious of their behavior. A short segment at the end of the video discusses police pursuits.

AMERICA ON ICE (VHS)

LA Educational Media

1990  25 minutes  AD

Ice is a smokeable, addictive form of crystal methamphetamines which can produce an eighteen-hour high. This video is a training program for law enforcement officers and shows how Ice is made, how to recognize it, how it is used, the physical effects, possible violence associated with Ice users, and how to test for Ice in the field. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

ANDY'S BICYCLE SAFETY VIDEO (VHS)

Crime Prevention Resources

1997  9 minutes  EL JH

This video teaches kids the basics of bicycle safety and is appropriate for ages 10 to 15. Included are tips on wearing helmets, maintaining a bike, riding single file, signaling turns, and placing ID numbers on the bicycle.

ANIMAL ABUSE: WHY COPS CAN AND NEED TO STOP IT (VHS)

In The Line of Duty

Animal abuse is a crime and is a precursor to other types of crime. Almost every one of the nation's most vicious criminals has a history of animal abuse. This video contains several unpleasant scenes of animal abuse... i.e. kids torturing a dog and setting it on fire, a dog fight video, a cat is tortured and then skinned alive. The point is made that law enforcement has typically not dealt with animal abuse as vigorously as other crimes. However, a number of police departments are taking animal abuse cases more seriously. Specifically, the police department in Granite City, Illinois, has created an animal abuse unit. Other departments are making similar efforts. This is a good video for roll call training. A study guide is available.

ANNUAL SUPREME COURT UPDATE (VHS)

1989  30 minutes  AD

The law is constantly being redefined through court rulings. This program discusses several recent U.S. Supreme Court rulings that affect the way police officers may enforce the law. Included in this video are decisions regarding drug profiling, the "plain view" doctrine, use of force, drug testing, training liability, and Miranda warnings.
ARE YOU SAFE? - NATIONAL TEST ON CRIME PREVENTION (VHS)
Natl. Crime Prevention Resources 1990 45 minutes SH AD
This video focuses on personal and property crime including street crime, home security, safety while driving, responding to strangers at the door, and rape prevention. Originally aired on CBS, the program contains crime scenarios followed by multiple choice questions and the viewer is encouraged to participate. This video can be used as a teaching tool for crime prevention and neighborhood watch programs. A study guide is available.

ARMED ROBBERS STOPPED BY K-9's/CANINE TRAINING FOR STREET COPS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 35 minutes AD
This video documents the capture of three armed robbers who tried to escape by swimming across a canal. The use of dogs enabled police officers to capture the suspects without using lethal force. Another segment contains an interview with a K-9 unit commander who explains the capabilities and limitations of police dogs. A five-minute segment at the end of the program contains an update on a police department in Florida which uses the Internet to provide information on domestic violence cases. A study guide is available.

ARMED ROBBERY SURVIVAL TECHNIQUES (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 35 minutes AD
This program, designed for convenience store employees, presents several scenarios and shows what not to do when confronted by an armed robber. At the conclusion of the video, key points are discussed regarding the correct actions to take before, during and after a robbery.

ARSON INVESTIGATION TECHNIQUES (VHS)
Police departments play an important role in the battle against arson. Sometimes the police officer is the first person to arrive at the scene of a fire and what he or she notices around the property can be helpful in establishing an arson case. This program discusses myths associated with arson, the steps to be taken for an inspection of the fire scene, common motives for arson, and what types of evidence are needed in court to prosecute an arson case.

AURORA COLORS: DEALING WITH THE GANG ISSUE (VHS)
Humana Hospital 1991 18 minutes AD
This program examines approaches taken by the community of Aurora, Colorado in dealing with youth gangs. Included are (1) interviews with gang members, (2) why kids join gangs, (3) a gang intervention unit organized by the Aurora Police Department, (4) the Aurora Dare Program, (5) parental responsibilities, and (6) a gang task force created by city government.
AUTO THEFT AWARENESS FOR THE PATROL OFFICER (VHS)

About 1.5 million cars are reported stolen each year in this country. An alert police officer who knows the signs of a car theft is the first line of defense against this type of crime. This video shows an officer how to recognize suspicious situations, signs of vehicle theft, and suspicious driver behavior. Also covered in the program is a demonstration of burglary tools used by car thieves and how phony vehicle identification tags are produced. The video concludes with an explanation of how automobile chop shops operate and signs an officer can look for to indicate a chop shop may be operating in the area. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

AUTOMATIC WEAPONS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT (VHS)
ALERT 2001 13 minutes AD

This video provides an overview of the use of automatic weapons by law enforcement officers including (1) history, (2) benefits and limitations, and (3) training drills. A study guide is available.

AUTOPSY: VOICES OF DEATH (VHS)
BIPOLAR Productions 2000 45 minutes AD

This video shows a complete autopsy performed by Thomas Noguchi, retired chief medical examiner of Los Angeles County. Dr. Noguchi makes a determination as to the decedent’s precise cause of death. This video is graphic in nature. Viewer discretion is advised.

BALANCING MEDICAL ISSUES AND SECURITY NEEDS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1996 30 minutes AD

There are always security concerns for correctional facilities when inmates need medical attention. This video discusses how facilities can balance security requirements with inmate medical needs. Included are segments on faking illnesses, mental health problems, and sick inmates as security risks. A study guide is available.

BALTIMORE OFFICER SHOOTS HOMELESS PERSON (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 39 minutes AD

Captured on video, this program examines what happened when Baltimore police officers responded to a call about a man with a knife on a busy intersection. The crowd watching the incident was hostile to the officers who responded. The incident ended tragically when one of the officers shot and killed the suspect after he did not respond to repeated warnings to put his knife down.

The lessons learned from this incident are reviewed at the end of the video and include such issues as maintaining a safe distance, communicating in a non-threatening way, avoiding tunnel vision, and using less lethal methods of force. A study guide is available.
BASIC AND POWER HANDCUFFING TECHNIQUES (VHS)
ALERT 1994 30 minutes AD

Handcuffing is the most common tactical skill used by a police officer, yet it is seldom practiced. This video contains several handcuffing demonstrations including: (1) subject commands, (2) the eleven golden rules of handcuffing, (3) proper techniques, and (4) power handcuffing from five positions. A study guide is available.

BASIC SECURITY PRINCIPLES (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD

This video covers several concepts aimed at strengthening jail security including (1) the importance of communications and the chain of command, (2) recognizing security breaches, (3) searching inmates, (4) taking care of keys, (5) noticing mood or morale changes in inmates, and (6) inmate counts. This is an excellent program for new jail employees or to serve as a refresher for experienced employees.

BEYOND THE BENCH (VHS)
Police Executive Research Forum 1996 17 minutes AD

This program highlights the benefits of increased judicial leadership in addressing juvenile DUI violations caused by alcohol and other drugs. Included are interviews with two judges who have worked with community groups to influence public attitudes. Both judges agree that their neutrality has not been compromised by their public visibility. A study guide is available.

BIKE PATROLS, PART 1: OVERVIEW AND EQUIPMENT (VHS)
ALERT 2002 15 minutes AD

This video looks at the bike unit of the West Palm Beach Florida Police Department. The bikes are proving to be especially effective in street level drug enforcement and crowd control. In certain situations, the bikes have quicker response time than a patrol car. Included is a look at the necessary equipment for a bike patrol. A study guide is available.

BINGE DRINKING / FIRST AID FOR A STUPOROUS VICTIM
In the Line of Duty 1999 35 minutes AD

This video, aimed at campus law enforcement officers, describes the symptoms of binge drinking and how various colleges are addressing this problem. Some creative approaches are discussed and campus policemen are interviewed. A short segment on how to handle stuporous victims of binge drinking is also included.
BINGE DRINKING: THE FACTS (DVD)
Human Relations Media 1998 20 minutes SH COL AD
More than five times as many teens die from alcohol overdose than from any other drug. Binge drinking has been depicted as a fun and harmless activity and a rite of passage for young people, but the facts show it can be deadly. Segments in this program include: (1) the physiology of drinking, i.e. what happens to your body when you drink, (2) blood alcohol concentration, (3) impaired judgement, (4) acute alcohol intoxication, (5) graduating to alcoholism, (6) drinking games, (7) dealing with drinkers, and (8) you can die from drinking! This is an excellent program for all ages, but especially valuable for the 16-24 age group. A study guide is available.

BLOODBORNE AND AIRBORNE PATHOGENS (VHS)
ALERT 1999 45 minutes AD
This program is designed to make law enforcement officers aware of safety concerns that may arise when they are exposed to bloodborne and airborne pathogens. Hepatitis B, Hepatitis C, HIV, and tuberculosis are discussed and officers are shown how to use protective equipment to limit their exposures to these pathogens. The video also discusses what to do in case an officer is exposed to one of these pathogens. A study guide is available.

BLOOD-BORNE PATHOGENS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 31 minutes AD
People infected with various diseases can transmit these diseases if their blood comes into contact with another person's bloodstream through an open wound or through mucous membrane. On any given day, law enforcement officers may be exposed to blood spills, open wounds, or needles. This video discusses blood-borne diseases and describes devices available to protection. Also discussed are universal precautions. At the end of the program is a short segment on force continuum. A study guide is available.

BLURRED LINES (VHS)
PBS 1996 28 minutes SH AD
A DWI driver is involved in a head-on crash. He kills three people. He survives. Another DWI driver kills two girls on bicycles. These two incidents are examined in detail during this program to show the deadly consequences of combining alcohol and automobiles. Other segments in the video show a trooper making a DWI arrest, DWI road blocks, and the trial of a DWI offender. This is a good video to show to students or community organizations.
BOMB THREATS, BOMBS, AND YOU (VHS)
The Information Source 1995 21 minutes AD
Each year, more than 3,000 workplace bombing incidents occur in the United States. This program utilizes data from the FBI and other agencies to present basic information on how to prepare for and respond to bomb threats. Included are segments on (1) a bomb incident plan, (2) chain of command, (3) search techniques, (4) when a bomb is found and (5) dealing with an explosion. This video can be shown to employees in the workplace or used for in-service law enforcement training.

BOOKING AND ADMISSIONS (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD
This program explains procedures to be followed when admitting a new inmate including (1) how to determine if an inmate is being admitted illegally, (2) common indications that demonstrate if an inmate is too ill or seriously injured to be admitted, (3) how to conduct a health screening of a new inmate, and (4) why and how to conduct a property inventory.

BREAKING THE SILENCE (VHS)
Metro. Wash. Council of Govt. 1995 10 minutes AD
This video focuses on the abuse of the elderly and disabled. It includes definitions, examples of abuse or neglect by caregivers, and warning signs that abuse may be occurring.

BRENTWOOD TENNESSEE BANK ROBBERY AND SHOOTOUT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 49 minutes AD
This video focuses on a bank robbery in Brentwood, Tennessee (a suburb of Nashville) where the lone bankrobber fired on police officers and was eventually shot and killed. Several officers were involved. Two received gunshot wounds. The entire incident lasted seven minutes and a total of sixty rounds were exchanged. The officers involved in the incident are interviewed and each offers his/her perspective on the event. Issues discussed include crossfire, tunnel vision, the importance of clear communications, and survival mindset. A short segment at the end of this program discusses new types of concealed weapons that are being used against law enforcement officers. A study guide is available.

BUILDING ENTRY WITH A BATTERING DEVICE/SUICIDE AWARENESS (VHS)
LETN 1994 50 minutes AD
This video contains two 25-minute segments: (1) Building entry - the high-risk building entry is one of the most dangerous assignments in law enforcement, both in terms of physical threat and liability concerns. An officer with the Houston Police Department demonstrates how to use a "moby" battering device for breaching a door. (2) Suicide awareness - the number one cause of death in jails is suicide. This segment covers liability, policy, training issues, and methods of intervention.
BULLYING: NOT JUST A GUY THING (DVD)

AIMS 2003 30 minutes EL JH

This program, aimed for students in grades 4 to 8, makes the point that school bullies are not always boys. This video presents the story of Amy, a middle school student, who is bullied by a group of other girls. Eventually she confronts one of her bulliers and the lives of both girls are changed. The lessons learned include a discussion of what bullying is and how students targeted for bullying should respond. This is an excellent video to show to elementary or middle school students.

CHILD ABUSE: AN INVESTIGATIVE INTERVIEW (VHS)

Kinetic Inc. 1987 50 minutes AD

Interviews with victims of child abuse can be very difficult to conduct. This video re-enacts an interview with a girl who has been abused by a relative and demonstrates correct and incorrect methods of interviewing. A review at the close of the program provides nine points to remember when interviewing.

CHILD ABUSE: THE PERFECT CRIME (VHS)

PBS 1990 55 minutes AD

This program offers an overview of society's response to child abuse victims. A specific case involving a two year old victim is examined as it proceeds through the criminal justice system. Interviews with child abuse victims, law enforcement officers, medical providers, and counselors are included. Other segments in the video are: (1) counseling groups of abusive men, (2) school programs where kids are taught about child abuse, (3) use of ad litem attorneys to represent child abuse victims, (4) medical examinations of children, (5) parental rights, (6) the difficulty of gathering evidence in child abuse cases, and (7) how to talk to a child who is confessing abuse.
CLANDESTINE DRUG LABS - PART 2 (VHS)
MTI 1990 30 minutes AD
This program emphasizes the importance of inter-agency cooperation (law enforcement, fire department, emergency medical) when investigating an illegal drug lab. Included are procedures for conducting a raid on a drug lab and responsibilities of individual agencies when a situation escalates into a hazardous materials incident. Several scenarios are presented to demonstrate correct investigation procedures. The program is recommended for use by law enforcement and other personnel.

CLANDESTINE DRUG LABS, PART 1: MULTI-AGENCY AWARENESS (VHS)
MTI 1990 30 minutes AD
Illegal drug labs are showing up in all types of jurisdictions. All response personnel (law enforcement, fire, and emergency medical) are at great risk when they are on the premises of a drug lab. This video describes how to identify illegal drug lab operations, physical hazards (including booby traps), chemicals that may be found in drug labs, and environmental impact. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

CLASSIFICATION OF INMATES (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 37 minutes AD
Proper classification can identify inmates who have a tendency to use violence and may pose a threat to correctional officers or other inmates. This video examines levels of classification, factors involved in classifying inmates, and the role of the line officer. A study guide is available.

CLOTHED SEARCHES (VHS)
Lockup USA 1992 30 minutes AD
Conducting thorough clothed body searches is important to prevent contraband from entering a correctional facility. This video demonstrates correct methods for searching male and female inmates, including where to look for contraband. This is an excellent program for training new correctional officers or as in-service training for experienced officers. A study guide is available.

CLUB DRUGS: FROM RAVE TO THE GRAVE - HIGH SCHOOL (VHS)
Syndistar 2000 20 minutes JH SH
This video uses the scenario of a rave party to illustrate the potentially deadly effects of club drugs. Included are interviews with a doctor, police officer, and drug counselor. The various types of club drugs are described and the dangers associated with these drugs are explained. This is an excellent video to show to junior high or high school students.
CLUB DRUGS: FROM RAVE TO THE GRAVE (VHS)

COATES’ KILLER INTERVIEW (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 34 minutes AD
South Carolina Trooper Mark Coates was gunned down by motorist Richard Blackburn during what appeared to be a low-risk traffic stop. The incident was captured on police video. During an interview, Blackburn gives his version of what happened during the traffic stop, including what lessons he believes should be learned from the incident. A study guide is available.

COLLISION SCENE PRESERVATION (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 32 minutes AD
This video demonstrates the proper ways for law enforcement to protect and secure an accident scene including (1) locating and preserving evidence, (2) dealing with injured persons and witnesses, (3) taking photos, and (4) avoiding "guesstimating." The point is made that whatever the officer does (or does not do) at the scene, he or she will be held accountable for it in court. A study guide is available.

COMBAT SHOOTING TECHNIQUES (VHS)
AIMS 1989 18 minutes AD
This video recreates actual shooting incidents and will help prepare law enforcement officers for life-threatening situations. Included are techniques for shooting at close and intermediate range with a combat pistol as well as situations that require the use of a shotgun. The program also teaches officers how to visualize dangerous situations and emphasizes the importance of constant practice.

COMMON PROBLEMS FACED BY THE LINE OFFICER (VHS)
Lockup USA 1999 27 minutes AD

CON GAMES AND CON ARTISTS (VHS)
Performance Dimensions 1993 27 minutes  AD
This informational video demonstrates and explains several common con games, all designed to bilk money from innocent victims. Included are these con games: (1) quick change, (2) shell and pea, (3) magic shot glasses, (4) three card monte, (5) pigeon drop, and (6) rocks in the box. A short segment also describes what police officers should say to victims of con artists.

CON GAMES BEHIND BARS (VHS)
LA Educational Media 1991 35 minutes  AD
This program, designed for correctional employees who have regular contact with prisoners, demonstrates how to prevent manipulation by inmates. Included are examples of common forms of manipulation and how to combat them. This video can be used for new employee orientation or as in-service training for current staff.

CON GAMES INMATES PLAY: SECOND EDITION (VHS)
AIMS 2002 18 minutes  AD
Psychological manipulation occurs every day in a correctional facility. Each employee is susceptible to falling prey to inmate con games. This video is designed to help employees avoid being manipulated by the inmates. Segments include (a) how inmates choose a victim, (b) the set-up, (c) who gets chosen, (d) the non-assertive officer, (e) the yard crew,
(f) the appreciative inmate, (g) the shift change, (h) the shakedown, and (i) how to avoid being set up. A study guide is available. This is a good program for use in basic or refresher training.

CONDUCTING AN INVESTIGATION IN THE CORRECTIONAL FACILITY (VHS)
Lockup USA 2003 30 minutes  AD
Every correctional facility, no matter how large or small, is going to have incidents that will require some type of investigation. An investigation may be necessary for everything from rule violations to serious crimes. This program contains information on how to conduct either administrative or criminal investigations including establishing the need for the investigation, preparation, choosing an investigator, interviewing witnesses, documentation, and gathering evidence. A study guide is available.

CONDUCTING FRISKS AND STRIP SEARCHES (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1991 10 minutes  AD
Designed for correctional staff, this program demonstrates the correct procedures for conducting a frisk search and a strip search. This is an excellent video for new personnel or could be used for refresher training for existing staff.
CONFESSIONS OF A DYING DRUG DEALER (VHS)

PVN-TV 1988 50 minutes SH AD

This program was taped live inside an active Detroit heroin/crack house. The dealer is Josh Hamlin, a drug addict who would only permit this interview while armed with a rifle at his side. Josh represents the epitome of a narcotics dealer, both physically and philosophically. He is a victim of his own foul trade. He has already lost his right arm due to infectious gangrene caused by dirty needles and heroin addiction. Both of his legs are equally infected.

The interview with Hamlin explores his addiction and motive for selling drugs. Josh is quite candid and directs many of his answers at youngsters caught up in the drug scene. This video could be used with high schools, youth groups, or substance abuse centers. Due to some revealing scenes, viewer discretion is suggested.

CONFLICT RESOLUTION (VHS)

Lockup USA 1997 25 minutes AD

Jails and prisons are not the types of places to let personal problems grow unchecked, so they must be resolved as soon as possible. This video includes segments on (1) the nature of conflicts, (2) resolving problems among inmates, (3) staff and inmate problems, and (4) resolving conflict among staff members. A study guide is available.

CONFRONTING DRUNK DRIVING (VHS)

Human Relations Media 2004 27 minutes JH SH

The number one cause of death for teenagers is driving while intoxicated. Peer pressure, media influences, and alcohol advertising can all have powerful effects on a young person's decision to use alcohol. This program addresses those issues, as well as new developments related to teen alcohol use such as zero-tolerance laws. This video includes interviews with teens, emergency room doctors, and a parent whose teenage son was killed by a drunk driver. This is an excellent video for viewing by high school students. A study guide is available.

CONNECTICUT TROOPER SHOOTING - BACKUP: BUSTING METH LABS (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2004 45 minutes AD

This incident was captured on police in-car video. After a low speed pursuit, a driver was stopped by police near his home. The driver emerged from his car carrying a tire iron and charged at the police officer. The driver ignored verbal commands to halt and was shot and killed by the officer. A step by step analysis of the incident is included. It is readily apparent that the officer had no choice but to fire his weapon when his verbal commands were ignored. A short segment at the end of the video discusses busting meth labs. A study guide is available.
CONTACT AND COVER (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 38 minutes AD
A series of officer killings led the San Diego Police Department to adopt policies on officer safety which they call "Contact and Cover." These policies are designed to discourage any assaults on the contact officer. A police video provided by the Collinsville, Illinois Police Department shows a vehicle stop by two officers which nearly resulted in physical harm to the officers. Collinsville has since adopted the "Contact and Cover" policy initiated by San Diego, including hand signals. A study guide is available.

CONTAINING SECURITY THREAT GROUPS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1996 28 minutes AD
Now, more than ever, correctional facilities are experiencing problems with gangs or other groups that threaten security. This video looks at the State of Ohio’s response to containing these security threat groups. The program also examines gangs that pose as religious groups looking for protection under the Constitution and the role of the line staff in stopping gang activity. A study guide is available.

CONTAINING WORKPLACE VIOLENCE IN CORRECTIONS (VHS)
Lockup USA 2000 28 minutes AD
This video is designed to make correctional staff more aware of workplace violence involving staff vs. staff conflicts. Most workplace violence involves threats, harassment, property damage, and intimidation. This program includes discussions on causes, consequences, warning signs, and preventative measures. A study guide is available.

CONTRABAND CONTROL - 1991 (VHS)
Lockup USA 1991 30 minutes AD
This program, designed for use by correctional officers, emphasizes the importance of controlling contraband to improve the security of the facility. Included in the video are (1) the definition of contraband; (2) types of contraband, including a collection of contraband seized over the years inside the U.S. Penitentiary at Marion, Illinois; (3) how contraband is smuggled inside a facility including common hiding places; and (4) methods of controlling contraband. Study guide available.

CONTRABAND CONTROL - 1992 (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD
Designed for correctional employees, this video includes (1) a definition of contraband, (2) when and why it is necessary to search for inmates, (3) a demonstration of the proper procedure for searching a cell for contraband, and (4) which areas of the jail must be closely watched to prevent the entry of contraband.
CONTRABAND CONTROL, PART 2, COMPREHENSIVE FACILITY SEARCH (VHS)

Lockup USA 1994 48 minutes AD

Correctional officers need to be vigilant when detecting smuggling of contraband into and inside their facility. This video demonstrates contraband searches in several areas of an older correctional facility in Pennsylvania. Included are visitor patdowns and searches of the dining hall, attorney room, day room and yard, workshop, law library, and laundry room. A study guide is available.

CONTROL AND MODIFICATION OF INMATE BEHAVIOR (VHS)

Lockup USA 1999 25 minutes AD

This video stresses the importance of behavior modification for those inmates who cannot follow the rules. It also addresses ways to control the behavior of the general population inmates through the "carrot" approach. This program also serves as a good orientation on the topic of inmate behavior for new staff. A study guide is available upon request.

CONTROL OF KEYS, TOOLS AND SUPPLIES (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD

Inmates can use keys, tools, food, chemicals, and medical supplies to escape or cause injuries to themselves or others. This video explains how correctional officers may develop a safe and effective system for controlling jail keys and tools.

CONTROL PROCEDURES FOR PASSIVE DEMONSTRATIONS (VHS)

L.E. NET 1990 30 minutes AD

Non-violent demonstrators usually adopt a tactic of letting their bodies go limp and forcing officers to remove them. This program demonstrates pain compliance techniques, including the transport wrist lock, which may be used to remove demonstrators. Also shown are pressure point compliance techniques which may be used when pain compliance techniques are unsuccessful. A discussion of legal issues regarding proper use of force is also included. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

CONTROLLING PERIMETER SECURITY (VHS)

Lockup USA 1999 27 minutes AD

Perimeter security in a correctional facility is extremely important and includes stopping contraband from coming into the facility as well as preventing escapes by inmates. This video includes segments on patrolling the perimeter, parking lot security, inmates crossing the perimeter, precautions during delivery of goods, and screening professional visitors. A study guide is available.
CONVENIENCE STORE ROBBERIES SLASHED (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996  30 minutes  AD
Convenience store robberies in Gainesville, Florida were epidemic when police decided to look at ways to address the problem. A line officer made the first suggestion for reversing the trend and the Gainesville solution became a national model for reducing convenience store robberies. This program examines the changes made by the community of Gainesville which resulted in a dramatic drop in robberies. A study guide is available.

COP CONNED BY ESCAPED KILLER
In the Line of Duty 2006  29 minutes  AD
A Louisiana officer allows an escaped felon (murderer) to leave despite many signs pointing to the felon as the man who fits the description. The officer’s interview with the felon is caught on his police video camera. Veteran officers discuss the mistakes made during the interview, and what the officer should have done. A short segment at the end of this program shows a Texas officer who is assaulted during a traffic stop by a passenger in the stopped car. What could have been a deadly incident was stopped when a passer-by intervened to stop the attack.

COP SHOT IN FACE KILLS ASSAILANT
In the Line of Duty 2007  30 minutes  AD
A Georgia Deputy Sheriff, while serving a felony warrant, was shot in the face, leg, and chest. He returned fire and was able to kill his attacker. This program includes a summary of the incident and an interview with the deputy. He reviews his thought process, his actions, and what mistakes he may have made. His most important decision was when he refused to surrender to his serious injuries and fired the shots that eventually killed his attacker. There are several lessons learned included at the end of this video.

COPING WITH COMMUNICABLE DISEASES (VHS)
Lockup USA 1993  36 minutes  AD
This video shows corrections officers how to assure that their facility is not exposed to communicable diseases by providing necessary information about these diseases. Included are segments on HIV, hepatitis A, hepatitis B, and tuberculosis. Information is provided on universal precautions, the booking and intake process, developing an exposure control plan, and OSHA guidelines. A study guide is available.

COPING WITH CROWDED JAILS (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1991  10 minutes  AD
Crowded jails can cause a wide range of problems for correctional employees. This program looks at the causes of jail overcrowding and includes examples of non-jail alternatives to ease crowding for both pre-trial inmates and after conviction.
COPING WITH THE JOB (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD
This video, designed for correctional officers, includes (a) identifying the causes of stress in corrections work, (b) how stress can affect a person physically and emotionally, (c) identifying and eliminating defense mechanisms and destructive habits, and (d) developing positive coping techniques for problems that arise on the job.

COPING WITH THE OLDER INMATE (VHS)
Lockup USA 1994 30 minutes AD
This program is designed for correctional officers and explains the special needs of the older inmate. Segments are included on the intake process, medical and psychological problems, and housing requirements. A study guide is available.

COPS AND ETHICS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 30 minutes AD
This video presents ethical situations faced by law enforcement officers every day. Several real incidents involving ethics that were caught on videotape are shown. These incidents are examined and discussed. Also included in this program are six scenarios that involve ethical issues. Questions are posed after each scenario. A study guide is available.

COPS, DOGS, AND SOLID ARRESTS (VHS)
When dogs are needed in an investigation, law enforcement officers should be aware of what these dogs are able to do and how to prepare for their arrival. This program covers procedures for tracking dogs and command dogs and shows both types of dogs in action. Examples shown include a canine tracking team on the trail of a criminal and a command dog entering a building to search for suspects.

CORRECTIONS OFFICER SURVIVAL, PART 3 (VHS)
Lockup USA 1993 30 minutes AD
This program demonstrates what can happen when corrections officers lose their concentration and bring personal problems into the facility. The supervisor’s role is discussed as well as the officer’s relationship with inmates. Included are three scenarios where an officer’s personal problems affected job performance, sometimes with disastrous results. A study guide is available.

CORRECTIONS/JAILERS SAFETY, PART 1 (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 32 minutes AD
Soledad Prison in California houses 11,000 of the nation's most violent offenders and being a correctional officer in this facility is a daunting and challenging task. A veteran officer working in Soledad gives expert advice during this video on how correctional officers can protect themselves against the dangers that can get you injured or killed. This is an excellent program to view whether as basic or refresher training. Two short segments at the end of the video discuss pit bull fighting and drug smuggling. A study guide is available.
CORRECTIONS/JAILERS SAFETY, PART 2 (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 31 minutes  AD
This program continues building on the lessons learned in part one of this video. A veteran correctional officer from Soledad Prison gives tips on how to maintain a safe work environment. Topics in the video include (1) disciplinary action, (2) maintaining professionalism, (3) treating inmates equally, (4) establishing dialogue with inmates, and (5) contraband searches. There is also a short segment at the end which demonstrates some of the latest advances in electronic technology to assist law enforcement. A study guide is available.

COULD A RUSSIAN SCHOOL SIEGE HAPPEN HERE?
In the Line of Duty 2007 30 minutes  AD
A recent attack by terrorists at a school in Russia resulted in a hostage situation, bombs, and the death of 323 innocent people, including 156 children. What would happen if such an attack happened at an American school? This program looks at the psychological impact of school shootings and includes discussion of shootings in a Minnesota school where seven kids were killed as well as the Columbine school shooting in Colorado. A short segment at the end includes lessons learned from these incidents.

COUNTER ASSAULT AND SURVIVAL TACTICS: FIGHTING THROUGH PEPPERSPRAY (VHS)
ALERT 1995 30 minutes  AD
Officers may at times be sprayed with OC or pepperspray when arresting a suspect. This program demonstrates OC use on an officer and presents tactical options on what to do after an attack. When training with OC spray, a certified instructor should always be present. A study guide is available.

COURTHOUSE SECURITY
In The Line of Duty 2005 51 minutes  AD
This program examines two recent incidents where courthouse security was inadequate, resulting in deadly consequences. At the Fulton County Courthouse in Atlanta, three persons were murdered, including a judge and a police officer. In St. Louis, one person was murdered and others were seriously injured at the county courthouse. In both cases, preparation was lacking and the level of security provided was not acceptable. Segments in the video are: (1) risk assessment, (2) transporting prisoners, (3) small jurisdictions, (4) judges, and (5) lessons learned. A short segment at the end of the video discusses foot pursuits.
COURTROOM PERFORMANCE (VHS)
MTI/MOTOROLA 1979 25 minutes AD
Examines the patrol officer's role in the courtroom. Points discussed include: physical appearance and demeanor, preparation, use of notes and reports, relationship with prosecutor, relationship with and tactics of the defense, proper verbal and nonverbal communications, and role functions and witness relationship with the judge and jury. Follows an attempted murder trial through its critical stages. Courtroom testimony by an experienced professional officer helps the prosecutor wrap-up a conviction despite some discrepancies in the case.

COURTROOM SKILLS AND TACTICS (VHS)
As a law enforcement officer testifying in court, what you say and how you say it can play a key role in the prosecution of a suspected criminal. This video recreates a courtroom scenario and demonstrates proper techniques and methods to be used when testifying. Included are demonstrations of a preliminary hearing, a criminal case, and a civil case.

COURTROOM TESTIMONY (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2000 28 minutes AD
The arrest of a criminal suspect does not end the case for most police officers. The officer must be able to testify effectively in court. This video contains advice and tips from an attorney who teaches courtroom demeanor for the St. Louis Police Department. This is an excellent program for new officers or as refresher training for experienced officers. A study guide is available.

CRACK COCAINE (VHS)
AIMS 1990 15 minutes AD
This program contains an excellent overview of cocaine and crack and includes segments on physical effects, freebasing cocaine, how crack is produced (including a demonstration), packaging methods for crack, and methods of smoking crack. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

CRACK: ONE DEADLY RECIPE (VHS)
PVN-TV 1988 22 minutes AD
This program is aimed towards law enforcement officers and contains information about the most common way crack cocaine is made and used. The video features an actual fifteen minute crack "cook-up" session in which a Detroit cocaine dealer demonstrates how simple it is to make crack, using ordinary household products. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.
CRANK: MADE IN AMERICA
Films For The Humanities 2004  56 minutes  AD

The number one illegal drug problem in rural America is methamphetamine, or "crank." Meth is cheap, easy to make, and highly addictive. It has the lowest recovery rate for addicts. This program, filmed in Iowa, looks at a number of people struggling with meth addictions and illustrates the long-term effects of the drug. The physical effects are described, and the history of meth is explained. This is an excellent video for any adult audience that needs an overview of the methamphetamine problem in America. Interviews with meth users are included. An HBO production.

CRIME CHECK: ADVANCE FEE SCHEMES (VHS)
KDN  1992  17 minutes  AD

This video focuses on victims of white collar crimes where money is paid in advance for services that are not performed (i.e., foreclosure scam, loan scam). Included are prevention tips, ways to identify con artists, and guidelines for dealing with a new company. This is a good program for viewing by the general public.

CRIME CHECK: FRAUDS AND SCAMS AGAINST SENIORS (VHS)
KDN  1990  22 minutes  AD

This program details the most common forms of fraud being committed against senior citizens. Included are investment frauds (pyramid and Ponzi scheme), con games (pigeon drop and bank examiner scheme), home improvements, and medical treatments. Prevention tips and basic rules to follow are also discussed. This is an excellent video to show to a senior audience.

CRIME CHECK: RETAIL EMPLOYEES (VHS)
KDN  1989  28 minutes  AD

This video is designed for employer and employee viewing and includes these four topics: (1) Robbery - what to do before, during, and after an armed robbery; (2) Shoplifting - how to decrease, what to do if you catch a shoplifter; (3) Bad checks - how to eliminate this problem, includes proper identification, two party checks, and altered checks; (4) Credit card fraud - credit card scams and how to avoid.

CRIME SCENE PRESERVATION (VHS)
AIMS  1991  18 minutes  AD

This program is aimed at correctional officers and begins with the premise that the way the first officer on the scene responds may determine the success of the subsequent investigation. The video contains four crime scene scenarios and demonstrates control of suspects and witnesses, establishing the crime scene perimeter, securing the crime scene, preservation of evidence, and taking notes for later testimony.
CRIME SCENE PRESERVATION ALERT (VHS)

Using video from an actual murder scene, this program demonstrates and explains key factors in preserving a crime scene. Included are segments on collecting and documenting evidence, limiting access to the crime scene, making the crime scene safe, and legal considerations. A study guide is available.

CRIME SCENE PRESERVATION/BODY ARMOR/ACCIDENT SAFETY (VHS)

This video describes how law enforcement officers can effectively maintain and preserve a crime scene. It includes techniques for handling evidence. Crime scenes discussed include homicide, rape, arson, accident, and night time. Examples of classic crime scene clues are also explained. Two short segments at the end of the video discuss body armor worn by criminals and a trooper who was struck by a car while investigating an accident scene. A study guide is available.

CRIMINAL JUSTICE RESPONSE TO DOMESTIC ABUSE IN LATER LIFE (VHS)

Domestice abuse in later life, also known as "elder abuse," often involves spousal and sexual abuse. The elderly are especially vulnerable to injuries. This video is designed to educate police officers responding to elder abuse incidents. Included in the program are interviewing skills and evidence collection specific to elderly victims and a look at the most common types of elder abuse (i.e. physical, emotional, sexual, and financial).

CRISP COUNTY DEPUTY'S MIRACLE COMEBACK

This program shows an incident captured on the in-car video of a rural Georgia deputy sheriff. The deputy makes a traffic stop at night on a highway, and the driver immediately jumps out of his car when the deputy reaches the driver-side window. The deputy is shot in the face at close range and falls to the ground. When the driver’s gun jams, he starts pistol whipping the deputy, and tries to take the deputy’s firearm. The deputy gets off the ground and returns fire as the driver gets in his car and leaves the scene.

The bullet did not penetrate the deputy’s brain or spinal cord, and he made a complete recovery. The deputy is interviewed in this program and a final segment presents a list of "lessons learned", i.e. there is no such thing as a routine traffic stop and it is important to practice weapon retention skills and keep your fear in check.

CRITICAL HOUR: ADMISSION IN JUVENILE JUSTICE DETENTION (VHS)

This video re-enacts several admission scenarios during a typical day at a juvenile detention facility. Standard admission procedures are examined and suggestions are offered on how to establish rapport with the juvenile inmate and maximize information.
CRITICAL INCIDENT RESPONSE (VHS)
L.E. NET 1989 30 minutes AD
This video examines the July, 1989 airliner crash in Sioux City, Iowa, and the response of law enforcement agencies. Although the disaster in Sioux City was initially a rescue effort, law enforcement personnel played a vital role in traffic control, security, and controlling the media. The program stresses the importance of having an overall disaster plan in place. Included in the program is an explanation of post traumatic stress which is common to officers responding to critical incidents involving multiple loss of life.

CRITICAL INCIDENTS IN JAILS (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1991 10 minutes AD
Critical incidents (i.e. hostage situations, fire, natural disaster, suicide) can occur in large and small jail facilities. This program emphasizes the importance of developing policies and procedures and implementing training before a critical incident occurs. Also discussed is the process of review and documentation following a critical incident.

CROSS GENDER SUPERVISION - JAIL OPERATIONS (VHS)
American Jail Association 1992 15 minutes AD
This video discusses ways to prepare staff for the introduction of cross-gender supervision. It defines sexual harassment and explains the dangers inherent in introducing sexual overtones to the jail environment. It also explains how courts have balanced the interests of equal employment opportunities and inmate privacy.

CROSS-GENDER SUPERVISION (VHS)
Lockup USA 1998 28 minutes AD
In recent years, correctional officers have increasingly been assigned duties involving supervision of inmates of the opposite sex. This program explores the issues and concerns arising from cross-gender supervision. Included are segments on male officer supervision of female inmates, female officer supervision of male inmates, and pitfalls of cross-gender supervision. A study guide is available.

CROSSING THE LINE: THE TRUTH ABOUT Gangs (VHS)
Perennial Education 1993 28 minutes JH SH
This program takes an inside look at what the consequences of joining a gang are, as well as specific tips for avoiding risky behavior that could lead to gang participation. Gang members, a prison warden, and a police officer present the hard realities of gang life. Kids who have stayed out of gangs give concrete advice on how to handle peer pressure.

CROWD CONTROL (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2000 42 minutes AD
This video examines the success that the LaCrosse, Wisconsin Police Department has had in handling massive street demonstrations. LaCrosse utilizes the "Madison (WI) Method," which dictates that officers show restraint, talk with the crowd, and use peacekeeping leadership. Included in the video are scenes of actual crowd control incidents and discussion regarding behavior in a crowd. A study guide is available upon request.
Cruel Spirits: Alcohol and Violence (VHS)
MTI 1989 32 minutes JH SH AD

Alcohol-related violence is more widespread than commonly believed. This program examines the relationship between violent crime and drinking. Included are: (1) interviews with prison convicts, (2) a halfway house for women with drinking problems, (3) a visit to a hospital emergency room, and (4) an alcohol-related riot on a California beach. The physical effects of alcohol on the brain are also explained. This is an excellent video for school resource officers to show before junior high or high school audiences.

Cultural Awareness (VHS)
Public Agency Training Council 1993 32 minutes AD

Aimed at law enforcement officers, this program emphasizes that each officer should understand the population he or she is policing. Several scenarios are used to illustrate how cultural bias may be communicated through language and demeanor. Cultures discussed include Hispanics, Blacks, Asians, and persons from the Middle East. Also included are cultural differences, culturally "hot" words, and the importance of demonstrating respect and courtesy.

Cultural Diversity 1: Street Level Spanish (VHS)
ALERT 1997 32 minutes AD

This program teaches basic Spanish words and phrases that police officers may need in interviewing, domestic calls, and traffic stops. These words and phrases are demonstrated during various scenarios presented in the video. Included is a segment on understanding the Hispanic culture. A study guide is available.

Cursory Search and Cursory Search Takedown (VHS)
AIMS 1997 19 minutes AD

In a detailed step-by-step manner, this program explains and demonstrates techniques for executing a cursory search and a cursory search takedown. The five vital components of a cursory search are described and shown. Segments on handling an armed suspect and searching females are included. As always, officers should check their department’s use of force policy before viewing this video and should practice these techniques with a qualified instructor.

D.A.R.E. To Say No (VHS)
MTI 1988 16 minutes EL JH

Narrated by a police officer and kids, this program defines drugs (i.e. alcohol, marijuana) and their effect on the body, explains why people use drugs, and shows how to say no to drugs. Realistic dramatizations are intercut with classroom discussions led by a D.A.R.E. (Drug Abuse Resistance Education) officer. This video is designed for use with a young audience.
D.U.I. ANALYSIS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 34 minutes AD
This program looks at procedures used by the Champaign, Illinois Police Department in dealing with drivers under the influence (DUI). Included are segments on (1) alcohol, (2) drugs, (3) case studies, (4) after the stop, and (5) lessons learned. This is an excellent video for in-service training. A study guide is available.

DANGEROUS PURSUIT (VHS)
King World 1996 60 minutes AD
This video contains helicopter videos of various police pursuits in Los Angeles. The educational value of the program may be somewhat limited but it does show the endless variety of tactics that suspects will attempt when they are involved in a police pursuit.

DATE RAPE / DATE RAPE DRUGS / CRIME SCENE PRESERVATION
In the Line of Duty 1999 30 minutes AD
One study has shown that 25% of female college students have experienced a date rape attempt, but only 3 to 15% of these crimes are reported. This program emphasizes the need for campus police and administrators to develop a protocol on how to handle rape incidents. Other segments of this video discuss date rape drugs (Rohypnol, GHB, and GBL) and their physical effects and how to preserve the crime scene. A few examples of what campus police are doing to address date rape are also included.

DATE RAPE DRUGS: WHAT YOU NEED TO KNOW (VHS)
Intermedia 2001 22 minutes SH AD
Date rape drugs, such as GHB, Ecstasy, or Rohypnol are easily disguised in alcoholic drinks presented in a party situation. This video features interviews with teen and adult victims, rape counselors, and law enforcement officers. Discussions include (1) how this crime is perpetrated, (2) the physical effects of these drugs, and (3) tips on self-protection.

DATE RAPE: BEHIND CLOSED DOORS (VHS)
Kinetic Inc. 1994 35 minutes SH AD
This video defines rape as a crime of violence, not a crime of passion. The myths and misconceptions surrounding date rape are discussed. Viewers learn specific actions they can take to avoid becoming victims of date rape as well as coping strategies should it happen to them or someone they know. This is a good program to show to school or community groups.

DEAD BY YOUR OWN HANDGUN (VHS)
Hornbeck Video 1995 58 minutes AD
This video demonstrates the IDORA method of handgun retention including frontal assaults, side attacks, rear assaults with and without a choke hold, multiple attackers, pain compliance myths, and street fights vs. gymnasium sparring. Officers should check their department’s use of force policy before viewing this video and should practice these techniques with a qualified instructor. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.
DEADLY DISTINCTION (VHS)
Handgun Control, Inc. 1989 13 minutes AD
This program discusses the impact of assault weapons in the hands of criminals, including a demonstration of firepower. The distinction between automatic, semi-automatic, and hunting weapons is shown and interviews with police officers are included.

DEADLY FORCE ISSUES (VHS)
ALERT 1999 25 minutes AD
A Kansas City police officer describes his use of deadly force. A demonstration of realistic shooting scenario training follows. Other segments in this video focus on (1) Legal concerns in a deadly force incident and (2) What to expect after a lethal force incident, including an explanation of post traumatic stress disorder. A study guide is included.

DEADLY FORCE: REASONABLE AND JUSTIFIED (VHS)
MTI 1991 28 minutes AD
This program is intended to stimulate discussion about officer judgement and justifiable reasoning when making deadly force decisions. The video portrays 20 different situations in which police officers must make a split-second judgement call concerning when to use or not use deadly force. In each situation the circumstances are constantly changing, thereby making a clear-cut shooting decision very difficult. In several of the situations, there may be more than one way to respond. An instructor is necessary to properly show the video. Study guide available.

DEALING WITH ABUSIVE INMATES (VHS)
Lockup USA 2003 31 minutes AD
There will always be a small percentage of inmates in a correctional facility who can be disruptive and direct verbal abuse either towards other inmates or correctional officers. This program addresses (1) the causes of verbal abuse, (2) how an officer should respond to verbal abuse, (3) preventing verbal abuse, (4) documentation. A study guide is available.

DEALING WITH AGGRESSIVE BEHAVIOR (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD
This program, produced for correctional officers, identifies common causes of inmate aggression. Included in the video are segments on suicide warning signals, why drug and alcohol abusers and mentally ill inmates present special concerns for violence, common signs of drug or alcohol use and withdrawal symptoms, and verbal crisis intervention. A study guide is available.
DEALING WITH DOMESTIC VIOLENCE IN CORRECTIONS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1998 26 minutes AD
This program is designed to make correctional officers aware of the serious problems related to domestic violence and how abusers can affect their careers. There are segments on the causes and symptoms of domestic violence and its impact on victims. Corrections is a high stress occupation and some officers may need to seek professional counseling to deal with personal problems.

DEALING WITH HIGH-LEVEL RESISTANCE: STUNNING TECHNIQUES (VHS)
High level resistance is an assault where the subject is trying to injure, overpower, or use deadly force on a police officer. This video discusses and demonstrates stunning techniques that can be used to effectively subdue a subject while minimizing potential liability. Included are (1) the history of stuns, (2) elements in creating a strike, (3) angle kick, (4) radial stun, (5) brachial stun, and (6) suprascapular stun. A study guide is available. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

DEALING WITH INMATES AT HOLIDAY TIME (VHS)
Lockup USA 1994 22 minutes AD
Holidays can be the most difficult periods of incarceration for many inmates. Typically, there are increases in suicide attempts, assaults, contraband, and escape attempts. This program urges facilities to take a proactive position when dealing with these problems. The video offers suggested solutions including religious and outside community programs, family-oriented activities, and sporting events. A study guide is available.

DEALING WITH NAKED SUSPECTS
Public nudity can take the form of protest, an exhibitionist, or an intoxicated or mentally ill person. While these situations can be humorous and innocent, they can also be dangerous for the police officer who has to control the situation. This program contains discussion on what techniques an officer can use when dealing with public nudity, including using the force continuum, determining the danger level, and using a team approach.

A short "What Would You Do" segment at the end of the video shows a traffic stop of a woman who claimed she was pregnant and bleeding. The police doubted her story and did not call for medical help. She was kept in jail overnight. She gave birth to a premature baby the next day. The baby died and a lawsuit is pending. The officers involved were recommended for termination.
DEALING WITH SEXUAL HARASSMENT (VHS)

Lockup USA 1995 33 minutes AD

This video explores the kinds of sexual harassment which can take place between staff members of a correctional facility. Although based in a prison setting, the training provided in this program is applicable to any law enforcement agency. Included are segments on types of sexual harassment, who are victims, what victims must do, sexual harassment involving a superior, and establishing policies and procedures. A study guide is available.

DEALING WITH THE ELDERLY (VHS)

This program examines special problems in dealing with elderly citizens, including those with Alzheimer's disease. This is a good video for in-service or refresher law enforcement training.

DEALING WITH THE FEMALE OFFENDER (VHS)

Lockup USA 1993 25 minutes AD

Female inmates need different approaches in day-to-day facilities’ management and correctional officers may need to learn new techniques and skills. This program discusses differences in female inmates, medical concerns, privacy issues, women as caretakers, and improvement of female self-esteem. A study guide is available.

DEALING WITH THE HIGH PROFILE/CELEBRITY INMATE (VHS)

Lockup USA 1994 27 minutes AD

A celebrity inmate is someone who is well known or famous before they are arrested and housed in a correctional facility, while a high profile inmate has become a celebrity by the notoriety of their crime. This program discusses extra security and protective custody for these inmates including staff response and dealing with the news media. A study guide is available.

DEALING WITH THE MENTALLY ILL (VHS)

Too often, when police officers are confronted with persons who are mentally disturbed, the end result is incarceration, violence, and sometimes even the use of lethal force. This program looks at the highly successful Crisis Intervention Program implemented by the Albuquerque Police Department. The goal of the program is to show officers how to defuse emotions and establish communications with the mentally disturbed person. Segments in the video include: (1) overview of the problem, (2) crisis intervention training, (3) situations that arise in the field, and (4) critical points that must be observed when dealing with mentally ill persons. A study guide is available upon request.
DEALING WITH TODAY’S INMATE, PART 2 (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 28 minutes AD
Today’s inmate is more likely to be a member of a street gang than ever before, have a reduced sense of value in human life, and be more prone to violence. This program includes a profile of today’s inmate, gang affiliations, and the effects of overcrowding. A study guide is included.

DEATH NOTIFICATIONS/OHIO OFFICER ASSAULT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 40 minutes AD
Notifying the next-of-kin about the death of a family member is one of the toughest jobs any police officer ever has to do. Learning how to deliver a death notification professionally and compassionately is the focus of this program. This video includes an interview with an emergency room physician who has made many death notifications himself. He offers valuable advice on how officers should conduct themselves during the notification and what kinds of reactions they may expect. In the end, communication is the key to success - both verbal and non-verbal.

A short segment at the end of the video shows a traffic stop in Ohio where the officer was unable to gain control of the suspect because of the suspect’s physical size. It wasn’t until a citizen stopped to help that the officer was able to handcuff the suspect. The mistakes made by the officer are discussed. A study guide is available.

DECISION EXERCISES: DEALING WITH DIFFICULT SITUATIONS (VHS)
AIMS 1990 25 minutes AD
This program is aimed at managers and supervisors and presents several dramatizations of management/employee situations. Included are sexual harassment, discrimination, drug abuse, missing deadlines, personal problems affecting work performance, adapting to new technology, and handling employee complaints. The video offers suggested solutions for each problem.

DECISION MAKING SCENARIOS FOR CORRECTIONS OFFICERS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1998 19 minutes AD
This program presents fifteen scenarios designed for classroom discussion. The scenarios range from common to life-threatening situations and are based on actual incidents that have occurred in correctional facilities. A series of possible answers are presented for each scenario and agencies should refer to their policies and procedures when choosing the correct answer. A study guide is available.

DECISION MAKING SCENARIOS FOR SUPERVISORS (VHS)
Lockup USA 2000 10 minutes AD
This video shows 12 scenarios that are often faced by correctional officers and presents a question after each scenario with a choice of answers. The correct answers are not given during the program, as institutions may have different methods for dealing with each situation. An instructor is needed to show this video and discuss each scenario.
DEFENSE WITHOUT DAMAGE (VHS)

Designed for law enforcement officers, this program demonstrates low-force, low-liability self-defense skills. Eight situations are presented: six demonstrate removing a resisting subject from a car and two involve attacks on an officer while he is seated in his car. This video presents practical, effective ways to deal with confrontational situations. As always, officers should check their department's use of force policy before viewing this program.

DEFENSIVE TACTICS FOR CORRECTIONS OFFICERS, PART 1 (VHS)

Lockup USA 1991 30 minutes AD

This program presents an overview of the fundamentals of defensive tactics and demonstrates some basic, effective procedures that can be performed by any correctional officer. Also included is a discussion of legal considerations regarding use of force. Demonstrations include segments on balance, leverage, momentum, vulnerable areas, personal weapons, control during prisoner escort, and re-creations of situations found in a correctional setting.

DEFENSIVE TACTICS FOR CORRECTIONS OFFICERS, PART 2 (VHS)

Lockup USA 1992 42 minutes AD

This program is designed for the correctional officer with little or no training in defensive tactics and includes demonstrations with simulated attacks from inmates. Defensive tactics demonstrated include: ready stance, step and drag, lateral sidestep, quarter turn, self-defense stance, knee strikes, and control and restraint techniques. A study guide is available.

DEKALB COUNTY (TN) DEPUTY SHOOTING (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2004 42 minutes AD

This video reviews the escape of a prisoner from the DeKalb County Jail. The woman prisoner fled the jail after obtaining an officer’s gun and keys to the cruiser. While on the run she assaulted a police officer and kidnapped her son. After a nine hour search, she emerged from the woods threatening to kill herself and her son. During negotiations she became more agitated which resulted in an officer shooting her in the head.

The jail had procedures in place at the time of the incident that were not followed by the deputies on duty. The video reviews the mistakes made at the jail which triggered this incident and notes the importance of training.
DETECTING DANGER, PART 1: PATDOWN SEARCHES (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 34 minutes AD
This program is in a lecture format with video clips and is taught by former Illinois Police Chief Steve Rhoads. The lecture focuses on two main elements: (1) what officers need to learn about themselves to lessen the likelihood of danger and (2) what officers need to know about subjects that could lessen danger. Also included is a discussion on the three types of verbal challenges an officer should give before making an arrest. The point is made that it is more important for an officer to "act in a circumstance than it is to react." A study guide is available.

DETECTING DANGER, PART 2: HIGH-SPEED AND LOW-SPEED PURSUEITS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 35 minutes AD
This program is in a lecture format with video clips and is taught by former Illinois Police Chief Steve Rhoads. The lecture focuses on two main elements: (1) what officers need to learn about themselves to lessen the likelihood of danger and (2) what officers need to know about suspects that could lessen danger. Also included is a discussion on gestures and body language. At the end of the program is a short segment on high-speed and low-speed pursuits. A study guide is available.

DETECTING SUBSTANCE ABUSE (VHS)
Lockup USA 1998 28 minutes AD
This program warns correctional staff about the dangers of substance abuse and shows how to get help for those employees who have this type of problem. The video illustrates how to detect substance abuse and advises what to do if a co-worker has a problem. This is a good program for use with in-service training. A study guide is available.

DEVELOPING SUPERVISORY SKILLS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1997 27 minutes AD
The correctional supervisor serves as a liaison between management and line staff and his or her role is crucial in the operation of an institution. This program is aimed towards new supervisors and contains segments on (1) the transition to supervisor, (2) common problems, and (3) building staff relations. A study guide is available.

DEVELOPING THE FIELD TRAINING OFFICER (VHS)
Lockup USA 1998 28 minutes AD
Field training officers (FTO) are an important part of the corrections training process. A good FTO is a teacher, motivator, and a coach who knows how to transfer his/her knowledge to a new recruit. This video includes segments on the FTO/recruit relationship, the training process, and the evaluation process. A study guide is available.
DIALLO TRAGEDY (VHS)
LETN 2001 30 minutes  AD
This video recreates the shooting of Amadou Diallo. He was a black man who was shot and killed by four police officers in New York City. It was a low-light situation and the police thought Mr. Diallo was in possession of a firearm and was going to fire at them. After the shooting, it was discovered that Diallo was unarmed. The shooting lasted four seconds and 41 shots were fired. The police officers were charged with second degree murder and were found not guilty at trial. The case became a highly controversial news story in New York. This program explains how the shooting happened and describes how split-second decisions have to be made in a lethal force situation.

DIFFUSING AGGRESSIVE BEHAVIOR (VHS)
AIMS 1990 18 minutes  AD
This program teaches law enforcement officers how to handle angry, aggressive people and diffuse incidents before anyone gets hurt. Several dramatizations of confrontational situations are used to point out a variety of behaviors that indicate a person may be close to violence. The video demonstrates the best physical stance to take to avoid getting hurt in a sudden attack and discusses the importance of taking control of the subject slowly and carefully.

DOMESTIC DISPUTES: AN ANALYSIS OF OFFICERS KILLED (VHS)
AIMS 1993 15 minutes  AD
Dealing with domestic disputes is dangerous and unpredictable. This video presents the results of a ten-year study on officers killed while dealing with domestic disturbances. Actual cases are dramatized and an explanation is provided regarding mistakes made by officers that may have caused their deaths. This is an excellent video for new recruits or in-service training.

DOMESTIC RESPONSE (VHS)
Syndistar 1988 15 minutes  AD
Domestic violence calls are high risk and require sound tactics. This program, through the reenactment of a domestic dispute, demonstrates the proper procedures to be used by law enforcement officers when responding to domestic violence situations.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE - 1998 (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 60 minutes  AD
This is an excellent comprehensive program on domestic violence. Included are segments on: (1) the problem, (2) interviews with victims, (3) why victims stay with their abusers, (4) the batterer, (5) how to interview victims, including children, (6) victimless prosecution, and (7) successful approaches used by various police departments, including Albuquerque, New Mexico.
DOMESTIC VIOLENCE RESPONSE (VHS)
L.E. NET 1989 30 minutes AD
The domestic disturbance call is one of the most dangerous situations a police officer may face. This video takes a look at the Savannah, Georgia Police Department's domestic violence policy. The main thrust of the policy focuses on a strong attempt for an arrest to be made every time the police department responds to a domestic violence situation. Arrests are made not only where physical abuse is obvious but also if threats of violence are made or when the officers feel the victim may be in jeopardy after they leave. The video also discusses legal issues involved in domestic violence situations.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: FACES OF FEAR (VHS)
PBS 1996 60 minutes AD
Hosted by Diane Sawyer, this program examines the cross-cultural phenomenon of domestic violence and looks at how agencies and organizations are responding to this criminal activity. Included is a look at police departments in Nashville and San Diego where integrated responses have been developed aimed at incarcerating the batterer. The impact on children is also explored by looking at an intervention and counseling program in Miami.

DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: MORE THAN A PRIVATE AFFAIR (VHS)
AIMS 1988 22 minutes AD
This program encourages law enforcement officers to evaluate their attitudes and responses to domestic violence. Dramatic vignettes and interviews with actual victims and batterers show how the cycle of domestic violence can be broken. Also, two police officers dramatize the step-by-step tactics for effectively answering a domestic violence call.
DOMESTIC VIOLENCE: THE LAW ENFORCEMENT RESPONSE

Law Enforcement Resource Center 2004 141 minutes AD

The role of law enforcement in domestic violence cases has changed dramatically over the last several years. These four videos are designed for officers who respond to domestic assault calls and focus on law enforcement problems directly linked to the nature of this crime. Each of the first three videos is approximately 30 minutes long. Video Four is 51 minutes.

Video Three contents: (1) Investigating and Documenting Strangulation and Choking Cases, (2) Serving and Enforcing Civil Protection Orders, (3) Investigating Cases Which Involve Harassment or Stalking, (4) Tribal Jurisdiction: Issues for Law Enforcement and (5) 911 Communications and Dispatching.

Video Four contains excerpts from interviews with experts in the domestic violence prevention field and addresses some of the issues that will be raised in the training. This video is designed primarily to provide instructors with additional background information before beginning the training, but segments may also be shown to the classroom audience. An instructor’s guide is available for all four videos.

DON'T CALL ME GUARD (VHS)

Lockup USA 1997 29 minutes AD

This program discusses misconceptions regarding correctional officers including segments on how the job has evolved, risks and demands, physical and psychological stress, control without using force, and how to improve the image of the correctional officer.

DRIVING UNDER THE INFLUENCE: IT COULD NEVER HAPPEN TO ME (VHS)

MTI 1987 18 minutes AD

Each year more than 25,000 people are killed in alcohol related accidents. An effective method for detecting and processing alcohol-impaired drivers has become increasingly crucial. This program provides a step-by-step guide to successful DUI arrests. A realistic dramatization illustrates the principle techniques used in recognizing, arresting, and processing an intoxicated motorist. Topics covered include probable cause, Miranda warning, sobriety testing, and the proper use of accurate observation.
DRUG AVENGERS (VHS)
Lancit Media 1988 60 minutes  EL

The drug avengers are three children from earth's future who are selected to travel back in time to the 20th century. Their mission is to teach today's kids about the dangers of drugs. This video consists of ten cartoons—four designed for grades 1-3, five designed for grades 4-6, plus a common pilot episode. Each cartoon is five minutes long and contains a message (i.e. peer pressure, trusting your instincts, how the body reacts to drugs). A study guide is available.

DRUG AWARENESS/IDENTIFICATION (VHS)
Lockup USA 1993 27 minutes  AD

This program is intended for correctional officers and discusses the identification of five categories of illegal drugs: cannabis sativa, stimulants, hallucinogens, depressants, and narcotics. The symptoms of drug use, drug smuggling techniques, and drug awareness during the booking process are also included in the video. This is an excellent program for new correctional officers or a refresher training for experienced officers. A study guide is included.

DRUG DANGER: EASY TO START, HARD TO STOP (VHS)
Kinetic Inc. 1994 12 minutes  EL JH

This video, designed for grades 4–8, features older kids discussing methods they have successfully used to resist peer pressure to drink or use drugs. It also shows the evolution from occasional use to addiction and warns that, in some cases, a person may become addicted immediately.

DRUG DANGER: IN THE BODY (VHS)
Kinetic Inc. 1993 12 minutes  EL JH

This video, designed for grades 4-8, focuses on marijuana and alcohol, as well as tobacco. In live action and computer animation, kids see medical consequences of drug abuse.

DRUG DANGER: IN THE BRAIN (VHS)
Kinetic Inc. 1993 12 minutes  EL JH

Using simple terms, this video helps kids understand why drugs are so dangerous. The program shows the various ways drugs block, slow down, speed up, and change messages that flow to and from the brain. The content is designed for children in grades 4 through 8.

DRUG ENFORCEMENT TECHNIQUES (VHS)
L.E. NET 1988 30 minutes  AD

This video contains useful information about new drugs such as crack, "Ice," and "Bazooka." Characteristics of drug couriers are discussed including potential hiding places for drugs in automobiles. Crack is also discussed in some detail including methods of manufacturing and smoking crack and the effects of crack on users. Also presented are dangers of drug production (i.e., combustible gases) and how to handle drugs that are confiscated for evidence. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.
DRUG INTERDICTION, PART 1 (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 36 minutes AD
This video documents a stop of an R.V. in Illinois. The officer suspected drugs were in the vehicle, but the subject did not consent to a search. The officer had a canine with him, who walked around the vehicle and detected the presence of narcotics. Due to a computer glitch, there was little that could be learned about the suspect. The officer did not know if he had probable cause to detain the subject and allowed him to leave the scene (via taxi). The officer then received permission to search the vehicle without a warrant and found 690 pounds of marijuana. The local media was very critical of the officer’s actions in allowing the suspect to leave the scene. The suspect was arrested nine days later in Oklahoma. A discussion about this incident focuses on legal considerations and lessons learned.

A fourteen-minute segment at the end of this program looks at three drug interdiction stops and those behaviors by the suspects that may indicate they are concealing narcotics in their vehicles. A study guide is available.

DRUG TRAFFICKING (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice 1988 28 minutes AD
This program begins with a documentary that looks at how the New York City Police Department is fighting the once wide-open drug trade of Manhattan’s lower east side. A panel discussion follows, featuring the administrator of the Drug Enforcement Administration. The video provides the viewing audience with varied strategies about what can be done to curb drug trafficking.

DRUG WARS: CRANK COUNTY (VHS)
Crime Prevention Resources 1997 25 minutes JH SH AD
Using interviews and stories from law enforcement officers, emergency medical workers and users, this video depicts the lethal potential of methamphetamine (also known as crank). The program depicts the dangers of meth, including its psychoactive and physical properties. This is an excellent video to show to students or community groups, or it can be used to gain a comprehensive understanding of the drug.

DRUG WARS: THE HIGH TIMES (VHS)
Crime Prevention Resources 1999 27 minutes JH SH
This video, aimed at junior high and high school students, shows the consequences of alcohol. A teen gets drunk at a party, drives home, and is stopped by police. He fails the DWI test and is booked into jail. Another teen drinks alcohol at a party, passes out, and is revived in a hospital emergency room. The physical effects of alcohol are described in detail by a doctor. This is an excellent program for the use of school resource officers.
DRUGS AND YOUR AMAZING MIND (VHS)
Alfred Higgins  1988  18 minutes  EL JH
This video, designed for use with intermediate to junior high grade levels, explains the damage that can be done to the mind through drug abuse and the dangers of commonly misused drugs (stimulants, depressants, designer drugs). Also included are interviews with teenage drug users, an explanation of peer pressure, and how to say no to drugs.

DRUGS AND YOUR AMAZING MIND, EDITION 3 (VHS)
Alfred Higgins  1994  17 minutes  EL JH
This video, designed for use with elementary to junior high grade levels, explains the effects of commonly misused drugs. A series of vignettes show where kids may encounter situations for drug abuse. Included are segments on smoking, cocaine, stimulants, peer pressure, alcohol, depressants, marijuana, hallucinogens, and inhalents.

DRUGS IN THE JAIL (VHS)
American Jail Assoc.  1991  10 minutes  AD
Drugs in a jail indicate a breach in security. This video, aimed at jail personnel, looks at drugs that may be used by inmates and how they can be smuggled into the jail.
Demonstrations of searching cells and inmates for drugs are included.

DRUGS: ASSET SEIZURE (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice  1991  28 minutes  AD
This video looks at the Broward County (Florida) Sheriff's asset seizure program and follows with a discussion of asset seizure by a director of an organized crime task force, a chief of police, and a defense attorney. Included in the discussion are the purposes of asset seizure laws, possibilities of misuse, and when to use criminal vs. civil actions.

DRUGS: COMMUNITY RESPONSES (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice  1991  28 minutes  AD
In Philadelphia, community groups stake out street corners to discourage drug sales. In Los Angeles, "operation cul-de-sac" blocks off streets to form drug free zones. This video looks at these two programs and includes a group discussion with a police officer and community anti-drug leader. The discussion focuses on how community groups operate, police saturation patrols, cooperation between police and community groups, and closing down crack houses.

DRUGS: TREATING OFFENDERS (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice  1991  28 minutes  AD
This video examines shock incarceration programs and begins with a look at a boot camp in rural New York for drug offenders between the ages of 16 to 29. A group discussion follows and includes drug treatment and probation programs, shock incarceration programs, and the recidivism rate for offenders who leave these programs.
DRUGS: USER RECOGNITION FOR THE STREET OFFICER (VHS)
AIMS 1987 19 minutes AD
This video presents law enforcement officers with the information they need to recognize when a person is under the influence of a specific illegal drug. The symptoms and behaviors associated with drugs commonly used in the streets are illustrated and described. These drugs include cannabis, LSD, alcohol, barbiturates, amphetamines, cocaine, and heroin. Since drug use can lead to unpredictable behavior (i.e. hostile and aggressive), the video suggests safety procedures for officers to follow.

DRUGS: USES AND ABUSES - STEROIDS
CAMBRIDGE EDUCATIONAL 2000 24 minutes SH COL AD
This program examines the use and abuse of anabolic steroids and GHB, a synthetic steroid-like substance and date-rape drug. Interviews with pharmacists, fitness trainers, a football coach, an athlete, former users, and addiction counselors add perspective to the problems of using steroids. Side effects are discussed, including liver tumors, renal failure, impotence, and "roid rage", which can lead to violence and even suicide. This is an excellent program to show to citizen or school groups and it goes beyond the "just say no" mentality to present an informed look at potentially dangerous substances.

DRUGS: YOUTH GANGS (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice 1991 28 minutes AD
This program begins with a look at Los Angeles gangs and includes interviews with gang members and police gang units. A group discussion follows and examines the climate for forming gangs, how to attack the gang problem from a law enforcement perspective, and the impact of drugs on gang formation.

DRUNK AND DRUGGED DRIVING: A NATIONAL TELECONFERENCE (VHS)
Northwestern Traffic Institute 1988 120 minutes AD
This program is divided into 2 one-hour segments. Part I features an explanation of the horizontal gaze nystagmus test including a demonstration of testing procedures, use in court, and admissibility of evidence. Included in part 1 is a question and answer session with the studio audience and a panel of experts. Part 2 discusses the relationship between drug use (non-alcohol) and traffic accidents and includes types of drugs used, how to recognize drug users (i.e. symptoms) and videos of drug-impaired persons.

DUI PATROL: WINNING IN COURT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 41 minutes AD
The material used in this video is based on techniques used by the Indianapolis DUI Task Force, which is a highly successful, pro-active unit. The video is designed to familiarize officers with proper techniques used in DUI stops and how to testify in court on these cases. The program is divided almost equally between DUI patrol and making the case in court. This is a good video for basic or refresher training. A study guide is available.
DWI SOBRIETY CHECKPOINTS (VHS)
L.E. NET 1990 30 minutes AD
This program begins with a review of the latest Supreme Court decision on sobriety checkpoints. Also included is a discussion of guidelines for sobriety checkpoints, a demonstration of a sobriety checkpoint in operation, and drug recognition procedures.

DYING HIGH: TEENS IN THE E.R. (VHS)
Human Relations Media 2003 25 minutes SH AD
This program, aimed at teenagers who make dangerous choices involving drugs and alcohol, is designed to increase awareness of the consequences of risky behavior. The video shows what goes on in emergency rooms as doctors treat teens for drug overdoses, alcohol poisoning, and automobile accidents. Individual incidents are documented and interviews with doctors and teens are included. A man who was called to the hospital to identify the body of his son is interviewed. Doctors and nurses explain exactly what happens in an emergency room and the tragic results of risky behavior. This video is an excellent tool for showing that reckless actions can lead to lethal results. The target audience is junior and senior high school students. A study guide is available.

DYING TO GET THERE - THE REAL COST OF RECKLESS DRIVING
Meridian Education 2004 21 minutes SH
Designed for a teenage audience, this program discusses the consequences of careless and reckless driving. Traffic accidents are the leading cause of death among teens. Interviews with teenage drivers and their parents provide firsthand stories of auto accidents, and images of high speed car crashes carry the message that driving is a serious responsibility. This is a good program to show to high school and community groups.

DYNAMICS OF OFF-DUTY ENCOUNTERS, PART 1 (VHS)
ALERT 1995 30 minutes AD
Without a departmental policy that spells out off-duty responsibilities, police officer off-duty encounters can be a liability to law enforcement agencies and can affect on-duty responsibilities. This video discusses patterns of encounters, safety reminders, liability of secondary employment, and how off-duty encounters can affect on-duty performance. A study guide is available.

DYNAMICS OF OFF-DUTY ENCOUNTERS, PART 2 (VHS)
ALERT 1996 35 minutes AD
The off-duty encounters of police officers can be a liability to law enforcement agencies and can affect on-duty responsibilities. This video examines off-duty dress, equipment (i.e. firearms), and drawing techniques. Liability and legal issues are also discussed. A study guide is available.
E MAIL AND INSTANT MESSAGING: INVESTIGATIONS AND TRACKING
Law Enforcement Intelligence Report 2007 55 minutes AD
This video presents basic information about e-mailing and instant messaging via the internet, and provides valuable tools to officers investigating crimes. It is presented in a lecture format with PC screen shots.

ECSTASY RISING
FILMS FOR THE HUMANITIES 2005 44 minutes SH COL AD
Hosted by Peter Jennings of ABC News, this program looks at the phenomenal popularity of Ecstasy, which is one of the most widely used illegal drugs. More than two million new users try Ecstasy each year. The program looks at the history of the drug, i.e. how it was discovered by a chemist in 1976, and how its use spread across the country. There are real risks associated with using the drug, as well as anti-drug campaigns that may be overstating the dangers. Even a single dose can have side effects on the brain, and the long term effects are not known. This is an excellent program that presents an informed and balanced look at Ecstasy.

EDGED WEAPON DEFENSE AND DISARMING TECHNIQUES (VHS)
ALERT 1994 30 minutes AD
This video contains demonstrations of defense and disarming techniques designed to counter a suspect armed with an edged weapon. Included in the program are types of knife attacks, the power stance, basic knife defense and disarming blocks, and removing a knife from a suspect’s hand. A study guide is available.

EDGED WEAPONS TRAINING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2004 42 minutes AD
This program provides demonstrations by a physical training officer in how to deal with a knife attack. The first error officers make is underestimating the attacker and overestimating their own capabilities. The mistakes that officers make in trying to disarm the subject are discussed and demonstrated, and the correct movements to make are shown. The most critical thing to do is keep a safe distance from the attacker, and then choose the right tool to take down the subject – resorting to lethal force as a last resort.

A short segment at the end of the video discusses passenger side approaches in traffic stops. It includes a police cam video of a stopped car that is sideswiped by a semi-truck while the officer is making the passenger side approach. The type of approach chosen by the officer ultimately saved his life. An instructor’s guide is available.
EFFECTIVE COURTROOM TESTIMONY, PART 1: PREPARING FOR COURT (VHS)

ALERT 1998 46 minutes AD

The testimony of a law enforcement officer is often critical in the outcome of a case that comes to trial. This video includes advice from a law enforcement attorney and an officer. Relevant court decisions are reviewed. Other segments include: (1) how to review and prepare for court; (2) how to quantify your training and experience; and (3) the necessity to become familiar with major court decisions. This is a good in-service training video. A study guide is available.

EFFECTIVE COURTROOM TESTIMONY, PART 2: PRINCIPLES AND PERFORMANCE (VHS)

ALERT 1998 60 minutes AD

This program explains the basic principles of effective courtroom testimony for police officers. Included are segments on professional and personal credibility when testifying; how to articulate facts and observations; avoiding derogatory or biased remarks; the importance of notes, reports, and tapes; non-verbal factors that could affect your testimony; and how to correct mistakes made while testifying. A study guide is available.

EFFECTIVE INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATIONS (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD

This video, designed for jail personnel, contains segments on non-verbal communications, how to listen between the lines when talking to inmates, effective methods for giving orders, and how to reinforce positive behavior. This is a good program for new jail employees or as in-service training for experienced employees.

EFFECTS OF POLICY CHANGES (VHS)

Lockup USA 1996 27 minutes AD

Even minor policy changes within correctional facilities can cause major impacts on the inmate population. This program demonstrates the effects of policy changes through two examples: no smoking and television policies. The importance of communications, collaboration, and prior planning is emphasized. A study guide is available.

ELDER ABUSE: HIDDEN FROM VIEW (VHS)

Victims Services Agency 1992 10 minutes AD

Elder abuse is one of the most under-reported crimes in America today and includes physical, emotional, and psychological abuse or financial exploitation. This program provides an introduction to elder abuse and identifies the role police officers can play in identifying and investigating these cases. Included are segments showing officers interviewing an elderly woman beaten by her caregivers and an elderly man beaten by his grandson. A training guide is available.
EMERGENCE AND INVESTIGATION OF THE OCCULT, CULTS, AND NON-TRADITIONAL GROUPS (VHS)

Individual involvement in the occult and non-traditional groups is becoming a widespread problem for law enforcement agencies. This program provides valuable information for police such as: (1) a description of the four groups who are responsible for 98% of the cases that law enforcement officers are likely to investigate, (2) behavioral signs and a profile of persons involved in cult activity, (3) a demonstration of paraphernalia associated with occult activity, and (4) precautions to be taken when making an arrest. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

EMERGENCY ACTION (VHS)

American Lung Assoc. 1989 30 minutes AD

This video demonstrates the following emergency techniques which are useful for law enforcement and emergency response personnel: (1) mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on adults, children and babies; (2) CPR on adults, children and babies; (3) the Heimlich maneuver on adults, children and babies; (4) poison or drug overdose; (5) external bleeding; (6) burns; (7) chemical burns; (8) fire emergencies; and (9) frostbite.

EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS PLANNING (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1991 10 minutes AD

In times of emergencies, jails cannot depend on community resources. Therefore, it is essential that each jail develop an emergency response plan. This program discusses initial responses to a jail emergency, the implementation of an emergency plan, and four ways to prevent emergencies in jail.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAMS (VHS)

Lockup USA 1993 48 minutes AD

Emergency Response Teams (ERT) assist correctional line officers in high profile incidents where there is the threat of violence. Unruly and violent inmates are the focus of ERT skills. This program discusses and demonstrates (1) proper equipment and tools, (2) four man ERT techniques, (3) use of pepper sprays, and (4) setting up an ERT. A study guide is available.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE TEAMS PART 3: SITUATION SPECIFIC (VHS)

Lockup USA 2004 27 minutes AD

This program looks at scenarios where an emergency response team is needed in a correctional facility. The scenarios in the video are: (1) a violent outburst in a housing unit, where inmates are armed with homemade weapons, (2) a fire call, including evacuating the unit, (3) inmates fighting, and (4) inmates who refuse to report for lockdown. This is an excellent video for basic or refresher training.
EMOTIONAL SURVIVAL FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT (VHS)
Gilmartin, Harris, and Associates 2001 120 minutes AD
The topic of this video is how law enforcement officers can maintain the quality of their personal lives. The program is presented in a lecture format by Kevin Gilmartin to an audience of law enforcement officers and is divided into segments for easy viewing. Segments include: (1) how police officer attitudes change over time, (2) personal life versus on-duty, (3) situational values versus core values, (4) personal time management, (5) money management, (6) fitness and wellness, and (7) multiple personal roles.

EMPLOYEE CONDUCT AND RESPONSIBILITIES (VHS)
Lockup USA 2000 23 minutes AD
Mistakes and incompetent performance by correctional employees can put other people in jeopardy and affect the efficient operation of the facility. This applies to security and non-security staff members. This video is excellent for basic or refresher training and includes sections on (1) employee responsibilities, (2) teamwork, (3) professional conduct, and (4) reporting dishonesty. A study guide is available.

ENABLING THE DISABLED: THE AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT IN CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES (VHS)
American Correctional Assoc. 1993 20 minutes AD
The Americans With Disabilities Act (ADA) guarantees people with disabilities equal employment opportunities and access to public and private facilities. This video explains the general requirements of the ADA and what changes must be made by correctional facilities to accommodate inmates, visitors, and employees with disabilities. The program also offers suggestions on how a facility can comply with the ADA on a limited budget.

END THE SILENCE: STOP THE BULLYING (DVD)
Sunburst Visual Media 2004 17 minutes JH SH
This video is designed for educators to use in the effort to help young people see that they have the power to stop bullying episodes from happening. Real-life scenarios engage students and challenge their belief that bullying is an insurmountable problem. Presenting anti-bullying strategies helpful to both students and staff, this program demonstrates what can happen when both work together to create a positive school environment that is not only conducive to learning but is felt to be safe and supportive. A teacher’s guide is available which offers discussion questions, suggested activities, and reproducible handouts. An extensive suggested reading section is also provided.

ENFORCING THE INMATE DISCIPLINARY PROCESS (VHS)

Lockup USA 2000 29 minutes AD

It is a fact of life in corrections that inmates are going to break the rules of the facility from time to time. This program explains the stages of the inmate disciplinary process. Included are segments on (1) the need for discipline, (2) the role of the housing officer, (3) the disciplinary hearing, and (4) dealing with problem inmates. A study guide is available.

ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS FOR LOCAL LAW ENFORCEMENT (VHS)

Midwest Environmental Enf. Assoc. 1989 35 minutes AD

With the hazards of toxic waste, local law enforcement officers need to become aware of the requirements of environmental laws. Certain types of hazardous waste disposal have been defined as criminal activity. This program discusses hazardous wastes that may be generated by local businesses and common illegal activities. The video emphasizes the need for law enforcement agencies to work together with regulatory agencies and use criminal penalties when necessary to enforce violations of environmental law.

ESCAPE PREVENTION

Lockup USA 1993 33 minutes AD

This program is designed to show correctional officers that the best way to assure their facility is secure, is to become aware of factors which can cause an escape. The video includes a review of an escape from a county jail in New York and demonstrates what mistakes were made by staff. The elements that aid and prevent inmate escapes are also discussed. A study guide is included.

ETHICAL CONSIDERATIONS

Street Cop 2005 21 minutes AD

Ethics training is an essential part of a law enforcement officer’s training. The producer of this video, Pat McCarthy, is a veteran of the Chicago Police Department. He shares a personal story about a corruption incident that had devastating effects on the Chicago Gang Unit. He also interviews the Deputy Chief of the Chicago Police Department, a 14-year veteran of the Internal Affairs Division. This is a good program for in-service of basis training.
ETRCHICS AND PROFESSIONALISM (VHS)
Lockup USA 1994 29 minutes AD
This program is designed for correctional officers and defines several aspects of professional conduct including attitude, appearance, and off-the-job behavior. The video discusses ethical pitfalls, reporting ethical violations of fellow officers, and emphasizes that high standards of ethics allow an officer to maintain the respect of inmates and staff. This is a good program for in-service training. A study guide is available.

ETHICS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT (VHS)
AIMS 1989 19 minutes AD
This program stimulates discussions about ethics on the job by dramatizing incidents involving unethical behavior on the part of law enforcement personnel. Included are: an officer steals money from a suspect, officers accepting free meals from merchants, a group of officers beat up an unarmed man, an officer calls in a fake report of a drug deal to gain entrance into a suspect's home, and a captain tries to get out of a drunk driving violation.

EVALUATING THE PERFORMANCE OF CORRECTIONAL STAFF (VHS)
Lockup USA 1999 25 minutes AD
Supervisors need to constantly evaluate line staff and identify the strengths and weaknesses of each person. This program has segments on evaluation factors, probationary employees, counseling the line officer, the importance of documentation, and terminating an employee. A study guide is available.

EVANSVILLE BANK ROBBERS/PURSUITS
In the Line of Duty 2006 40 minutes AD
This program looks at two bank robberies in Evansville, Indiana that occurred within two months of each other. The first incident results in a car chase into Kentucky followed by a foot pursuit. The two bank robbers are apprehended with the aid of a police dog. The robbers fired 30 rounds at the police during the vehicle pursuit. Nobody was injured. The lessons learned include staying in your assigned roles during a foot pursuit and relying on your training.

The second incident also results in a vehicle pursuit with shots fired at the police. The pursuit ends when the robbers’ vehicle is blocked on an off-ramp by police cars. Eventually the incident ends when both robbers commit suicide inside their vehicle. The lessons learned include neutralize the threat quickly and don’t be reckless.
EVERYTHING YOU NEED TO KNOW ABOUT SUBSTANCE ABUSE IN 22 MINUTES (VHS)

Human Relations Media 2003 22 minutes EL JH SH

This video, aimed at teens, provides simple, straightforward information about alcohol, tobacco, and other drugs. It presents the most current information on the physical effects and legal consequences of using drugs. Segments include (1) alcohol, (2) tobacco, (3) marijuana, (4) inhalants, (5) stimulants, including cocaine and methamphetamine, (6) club drugs such as ecstasy and GHB, and (7) performance enhancing drugs such as steroids and creatine. This is an excellent drug prevention video. A study guide is available.

EXPLOSION OF GANG VIOLENCE IN THE UNITED STATES (VHS)

Ray Gott, an officer with the Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Department and an expert in gang issues, is the featured speaker of this program. He provides his insights regarding gang violence, what police departments can do to reduce the gang presence, and recommendations for the future.

EXPLOSIVES AWARENESS (VHS)

This program focuses on how police officers should handle investigations of explosive devices. The types of explosives discussed include dynamite, blasting caps, M-80’s, pipe bombs, gunpowder, mining explosives, and plastic explosives. The effects of some of these explosives are demonstrated through actual explosions. A separate segment is included on letter bombs: how they are made, how to recognize them, and a demonstration of their effect. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

EXPLOSIVES TRAINING FOR STREET OFFICERS (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2000 38 minutes AD

This program begins with an interview with a bomb technician from Boston who experienced a bomb detonating in his face while he tried to destroy it. Types of bombs that police may encounter are discussed and demonstrated. The video ends with an interview of a bomb investigator who gives tips for street officers who are called to investigate potential explosives. A study guide is available.

EXTREME DRIVING QUIZ

Films for the Humanities and Sciences 2001 47 minutes SH COL AD

This program uses professional drivers to demonstrate how to survive extreme auto hazards including: brake failure, wrong-way drivers, stalled on railroad tracks, road rage, carjackings, rollovers, submerged car, multi-car pileups, tailgating by drunk drivers, bum and rob attacks, and driving in extreme weather conditions (i.e. thunderstorms, hailstorms, tornadoes). This video can be used for general audiences or for officer refresher training. It uses a questions and answer format during each driving scenario.
FACING DISASTER, PART 2 (TERROR/CATASTROPHIC EMERGENCY)

In the Line of Duty 2005 44 minutes AD

Part One of this program dealt with a disaster that could be anticipated (Hurricane Charley in Florida). This program focuses on terrorist attacks or catastrophic emergencies. Segments include: It Can Happen Here, Preplanning, New York City Blackout, Incident Command, First-in-Teams, and Lessons Learned. An eight-minute segment at the end of the video discusses suicide bombers and car bombs. A study guide is available.

FACING DISASTER, PART I (HURRICANE CHARLEY)

This program focuses on what Florida law enforcement agencies encountered before, during, and after Hurricanes Charley, Frances, and Ivan during the summer of 2004.

This video concentrates on Charlotte County, Florida which suffered tens of millions in property damage and five deaths from Hurricane Charley. The sheriff’s office was badly damaged, yet the officers still had to do their jobs during and after the crisis. Segments include: waiting out the storm, aftermath, preplanning, lessons learned, and advice for command staff. A short segment at the end of the video discusses dealing with stress. A study guide is available.

FELONY STOP PROCEDURES/DRUG PROFILING UPDATE (VHS)

Officers are killed and seriously wounded each year because incorrect procedures are used when making a felony stop. This program demonstrates felony stop procedures for one car and two officers, two cars and two officers, night stops, tinted windows, stopping vans, and what to do if the subject tries to run away. The video also includes an explanation of a Supreme Court decision regarding drug courier profiling and a review of the characteristics of a highway drug courier.

FELONY VEHICLE STOPS (VHS)

AIMS 1992 40 minutes AD

This video demonstrates, in a detailed manner, the proper procedures for pulling a suspect’s car over, positioning and parking patrol cars, extracting suspects from their vehicles, isolating and immobilizing them, and finally approaching, searching, and handcuffing the suspects. Included are nighttime stops and a stop with an unusual vehicle (i.e. van). This program is excellent for new recruits or in-service training.

FEMALE ISSUES IN CORRECTIONS (VHS)

Lockup USA 2001 28 minutes AD

This program is designed to make correctional staff more familiar with issues confronting female inmates. Segments include (1) profile of the female inmate, (2) medical and psychological problems, (3) how females communicate and relate to correctional staff, (4) programs for females, and (5) when the female is released. A study guide is available upon request.
FIELD INTERVIEWING: RECOGNITION OF DECEPTION (VHS)

ALERT 1994 40 minutes AD

Law enforcement officers need to be able to know when a suspect may be lying. This program examines field interviewing techniques and demonstrates three types of lying, how the officer should behave, the objectives of the field interview, and how to assess the behavior of the suspect. This video is excellent for basic or in-service training.

FIELD TRAINING OFFICER VIDEO SCENARIOS (VHS)

California Post 1999 71 minutes AD

This video is designed for use by field training officers (FTO). It contains twelve common situations that law enforcement officers may encounter. The FTO showing the video has the discretion to explain how to handle each scenario, depending upon department policy. The scenarios on the video are (1) shoplifting, (2) domestic violence, (3) traffic stop, (4) burglary, (5) armed robbery, (6) auto burglary, (7) mentally disturbed, (8) hate crime, (9) missing person, (10) drunk in public, (11) loud music, and (12) narcotics violation.

FINGERPRINTS/AFIS (VHS)

Using the characters of Sherlock Holmes and Doctor Watson, this video demonstrates new technology available to police officers when investigating a crime scene. Included in the program are demonstrations of alternate light sources and the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS). The information presented is on an introductory level.

FIRE FIGHTING FOR CORRECTIONS OFFICERS (VHS)

Lockup USA 1999 29 minutes AD

Most of the fires in correctional facilities are small ones and can be contained by correctional officers if they are trained in fire fighting techniques. This program discusses the partner system and demonstrates fire fighting equipment, search and rescue techniques, and ventilation techniques. A study guide is available upon request.

FIRE OR DON’T FIRE (VHS)

AIMS 1992 26 minutes AD

The question of when to use deadly force is one of the most critical issues facing a law enforcement officer. This program discusses the factors that determine when deadly force should be used including legal implications. Ten scenarios involving the possible use of deadly force are shown and the narrator (an ex-police officer) presents his opinions on the correct actions to take. This is an excellent video for new or experienced officers.

FIRE SAFETY (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD

This video, designed for jail personnel, contains segments on fire safety hazards, high risk areas, and procedures to follow if a fire starts and inmates need to be evacuated.
This video emphasizes the critical decisions that need to be made in shoot/don’t shoot situations. Included are segments on the fundamentals of shooting, natural points of body armor, target training, and use of cover. A study guide is available.

FIREARMS TRAINING FOR CORRECTIONS (VHS)

Lockup USA 2003 35 minutes AD

This program is intended to give correctional officers an overview of safety issues relating to firearms training on the firing range. It is to be used as a supplement to a hands-on firearms training program. It is useful for new trainees or as a refresher program for veteran officers. Segments include: (1) general safety on the firing range, (2) handgun safety, (3) shotgun safety, and (4) rifle safety and firing positions. A study guide is available.

FIREARMS TRAINING SAFETY - COMBAT SHOOTING (VHS)

ALERT 2001 23 minutes AD

This program provides basic information regarding the operation of a firearms range. Included in the video is information on (1) necessary supplies, (2) firing range rules, (3) ammunition and simmunition, (4) types of targets, (5) close range shooting, (6) shooting drills, (7) multiple targets, (8) moving and shooting, (9) tactical reload, and (10) decision making training. A study guide is available.

FIREARMS TRAINING UPDATE (VHS)

This program concentrates on the physical aspects of firearms training and demonstrates loading, firing, and reloading revolvers, semi-automatic pistols, and shotguns. Also included is a segment on firearm safety and a brief explanation of a Supreme Court ruling on deadly force.

FIRST AID FOR FIRST RESPONDERS: HEART ATTACKS AND ADULT CPR (VHS)

ALERT 1998 28 minutes AD

This program contains discussion and demonstrations of basic CPR techniques. Law enforcement officers are often first on the scene for heart attack victims and what they do can make the difference in a citizen’s survival. Demonstrations include one man and two man techniques and the use of an automatic external defibrillator. There is also discussion on officer and agency liability concerns when performing CPR. A study guide is available.

FIRST RESPONSE TO ARMED AND BARRICADED SITUATIONS, PART 2 (VHS)

ALERT 1998 28 minutes AD

Continuing the teaching points from part one, this video contains segments on (1) tactical objectives, (2) safety concerns, (3) active listening, (4) body language and gesturing, (5) identifying a suspect in a house, (6) suicide by police, and (7) compliant surrender. A study guide is available.
FISH! (VHS)
Charthouse Learning Corp. 2003 17 minutes AD
This entertaining video is useful for motivating employees in any occupation. The entire program was filmed at a fish market in Seattle. The owners and employees are interviewed and they explain how they keep an energetic and positive attitude working in an open-air market, doing repetitive work and handling ice-cold fish twelve hours a day.

The FISH philosophy can be applied to any organization. The four principals of this philosophy are explained, and the point is made that everyone can choose to bring energy, passion, and a positive attitude with them each day. FISH is a tool to help lead people towards creating that type of work environment. A study guide is available.

FIT FOR DUTY: FAT OR FIT (VHS)
Medina 1990 15 minutes AD
This program concentrates on weight control and aerobic power designed to improve stamina for law enforcement officers. The skin-fold caliper test is demonstrated to measure composition of body fat as well as the walk/run test to determine endurance. Specific "to do" assignments are included to build on those introduced in the video "Fit for Duty: Roll Call for Fitness."

FIT FOR DUTY: MAXIMUM FORCE (VHS)
Medina 1990 15 minutes AD
This program, the last in a three part series, focuses on the highest injury areas of law enforcement officers: the lower back, knees, and shoulders. The program emphasizes building muscle groups to insure flexibility. Included is a flexibility assessment and a series of tests which can be used to develop a personal exercise program. Instructor's guide available.

FIT FOR DUTY: ROLL CALL FOR FITNESS (VHS)
Medina 1990 18 minutes AD
This program is the first in a series of three videos aimed at improving physical fitness among law enforcement officers. The video provides a motivational overview designed to make fitness a way of life. Included in the program are tips on diet, exercise, and cholesterol level. Also included is a starter exercise program with specific "to do" assignments and a list of goals.

FIVE MINUTES FOR SURVIVAL (VHS)
MTI 1978 21 minutes AD
This is a practical program on immediate trauma care. The video emphasizes what any rescuer can do to render care in life threatening situations. Basic life support techniques, such as maintaining an airway and restoring breathing and circulation are demonstrated. The video shows how to deliver emergency medical service, whether the incident occurs in an isolated area or where an emergency kit and hospital facilities are nearby.
FLEA MARKET SHOOTING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 29 minutes
This program contains actual video footage of a murder suspect who resisted arrest at a flea market and was killed by police officers. The video was later used in court to prove that the officers had handled the situation properly. An experienced officer discusses the incident and points out lessons to be learned. This program also contains a 7-minute segment on the use of cameras by police to document domestic abuse incidents. A study guide is available.

FOOD SAFETY IS NO MYSTERY (VHS)
U.S. Dept. of Agriculture 1990 34 minutes AD
Designed for staff involved in food preparation, this program explains and demonstrates food borne illness, personal hygiene, a clean work surface, thawing meat, cross contamination, and safe cooling and reheating.

FOOT PATROL (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice 1987 28 minutes AD
Foot patrol is regaining popularity as a police tactic and has been shown to reduce citizen's fears. This program features a discussion on the strengths and weaknesses of foot patrol and how its use has changed. The results of foot patrol experiments conducted in Newark, New Jersey and Boston, Massachusetts are also discussed.

FOOT PURSUITs (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 32 minutes AD
Law enforcement officers engaged in pursuing suspects on foot expose themselves to more danger than vehicle pursuits. This program gives several examples of actual foot pursuits and tips on the correct techniques to be used. Also discussed are warning signs that indicate a subject is ready to flee. At the end of the program is a short segment by John Walsh, the host of "America's Most Wanted." A study guide is available.

FORCED ENTRY (VHS)
L.E. NET 1990 30 minutes AD
This video discusses the key aspects of a forced entry procedure and re-enacts a residential raid. Discussion includes intelligence gathering before the raid, team assignments and areas of responsibility, equipment, tools for entry, approach principles, and legal aspects of a raid.

FRAUD FILES (VHS)
Crime Prevention Resources 2000 26 minutes AD
This program is designed to educate consumers about fraudulent schemes. Several popular cons are demonstrated including home repair, work at home, a pyramid scheme, and a vacation giveaway. This is an excellent video to show to neighborhood and senior citizen groups.
FRIENDLY FIRE KILLS UNDERCOVER COP (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 32 minutes AD
This program concerns the tragic shooting of an undercover police officer in Oakland, California. The officer was dressed in street clothes and was pursuing a narcotics suspect. When he caught the suspect, he drew his firearm to detain him. Two uniformed officers arrived on the scene and mistook the undercover officer for a car thief. They fired their weapons at him and he was killed. A segment on lessons learned from this tragic incident is included.

A ten minute segment at the end of this video looks at a new "less lethal" device called the Centurion Stick. This device is a control stick made of solid aluminum, cone-shaped on each end. It is a pain-causing compliance device, and the proper use of it is demonstrated. A study guide is available.

FUNDAMENTALS OF BUILDING CLEARING (VHS)
Inst. of Public Service 1989 30 minutes AD
Without a working knowledge of building clearance fundamentals, an entry team can't be successful. This program demonstrates tactical techniques used during building clearing operations, including noise abatement, hand signals, weapons position, corner techniques, door entries and team assignments for two, five, six, or seven man teams.

FUNDAMENTALS OF RURAL SURVEILLANCE (VHS)
Fed. Law Enf. Trng. Ctr. 1996 22 minutes AD
This program contains a step-by-step demonstration of the correct strategies and tactics to use during a rural surveillance. Included are suggested uses of camouflage, radios, and other necessary equipment. The video emphasizes that pre-planning is critical for a successful surveillance.

GANG MANAGEMENT STRATEGIES IN CORRECTIONS (VHS)
American Correctional Assoc. 1994 15 minutes AD
This program, designed for correctional officers, includes (1) characteristics of gangs and potential problems they may cause inside the facility, (2) identifying a gang presence including warning signs of gang activity, and (3) controlling gang activities.

GANG RECOGNITION (VHS)
ALERT 1994 29 minutes AD
Gang activity is no longer just associated with big cities. Gangs have started to form in smaller communities across the country. This video describes common gang identifiers including graffiti, hand signals, clothing, tattoos, colors and signs. The program also discusses the history and movement of Chicago and Los Angeles gangs. This is an excellent video for basic or in-service training. A study guide is available.
GANG VIOLENCE STOPPED (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 30 minutes AD
A Florida high school teacher was murdered by teenagers who were members of a cult called the "Lord of Chaos." The four teens who were charged with the murder had virtually no problems at school and showed no signs of the impending violence. This program includes interviews with police officers who investigated the crime and school administrators. An ending segment includes things to watch for to determine if gangs or other covert groups are active in your area. A study guide is available.

GANGS IN THE LOCKUP (VHS)
Lockup USA 1992 30 minutes AD
Gangs are a fact of life in the street and in the correctional institution. This video is designed to familiarize correctional officers with the activities of inmates who are gang members and to show how these activities can be controlled. Included are segments on gang philosophy, why people join gangs, and identifying gang members. A study guide is available.

GANGS UPDATE (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1999 52 minutes AD
This video provides an excellent, updated overview of the gang problem in our country. Included are segments on (1) gang characteristics, (2) tendencies, (3) prison gangs, (4) Asian gangs, (5) hate groups, and (6) European gangs. This is a good program to be used for basic or refresher training. A training guide is available.

GANGS: A MATTER OF CHOICE (VHS)
Medina 1989 18 minutes EL JH AD
This program is recommended for young school age children and their parents and includes: why kids join gangs, the realities of gang membership, the affects of gang membership on the family, early warning signs, alternatives to gang membership, and how to create an anti-gang environment.

GANGS: BUSINESS ACTIVITIES IN THE LOCKUP (VHS)
Lockup USA 1997 29 minutes AD
Gang members will try to carry on their illegal activities even though they are in a correctional facility. Corrections staff need to be observant and enforce rules equally for all inmates. This program contains segments on gang business activities (i.e. drug dealing, extortion, recruitment, staff corruption, controlling "legal" activities) and stresses the importance of staff vigilance to defuse the influence of gangs in the facility. A study guide is available.
Gangs: Move 'Em Out of Your Life (VHS)

Ontario Police Dept. 1988 45 minutes EL

This video was designed to show children how easy it is to get involved with gangs and what happens once they join. It features discussions between elementary school kids, police, and teachers as well as interviews with active and former gang members. The targeted grade levels are the 3rd through 6th grades. Study guide available.

General Cultural Diversity in Corrections (VHS)

Lockup USA 2000 24 minutes AD

People of all races and nationalities are incarcerated in correctional facilities and correctional officers need to be aware of and respect cultural differences. This video describes some cultural differences and stresses the importance of communication between staff and inmates, including body language and facial expressions. A study guide is available.

Georgia Deputy Groundfight/Gunfight Training, Part 1 (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2002 29 minutes AD

This video contains police in-car video of a traffic stop that almost had tragic results. A deputy sheriff in Georgia stopped a speeding vehicle. While the deputy was doing a patdown search, the subject spun around and attacked the officer. The subject attempted to take the officer's handgun. Eventually they both ended up on the ground struggling for control of the officer's gun. The officer managed to fire two shots before his weapon jammed, one of which hit the suspect. The fight continued even after the suspect was wounded and the officer suffered several injuries before backup arrived. The officer needed treatment for an eye injury and 22 staples to stitch a head wound.

The mistakes made by the officer are reviewed and groundfighting techniques are explained. This is a good video for in-service or basic training. It shows what can happen when an officer becomes complacent during a "routine" arrest. A study guide is available.

Georgia Traffic Stop (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1995 24 minutes AD

This program contains actual police video of a traffic stop on a Georgia interstate highway that escalated into a lethal force incident. Important points are emphasized as the video footage is shown - i.e., the importance of waiting for back-up, watching the suspect's body language, potential cross-fire situations, and maintaining control of the situation. This is an excellent video for roll-call or refresher training. A study guide is available.

Getting Along (VHS)

Perennial Education 1993 12 minutes JH SH

Presented by teens, this program demonstrates the skills needed to resolve conflicts without violence. The mechanics of a fight and ways to avoid senseless confrontations are demonstrated by four teens using a variety of scenarios. This is an excellent video for a junior or senior high school audience.
GETTING STUPID: HOW DRUGS DAMAGE YOUR BRAIN (VHS)
Human Relations Media 2003 21 minutes JH SH

This video makes the simple point that actions taken today will have an impact on tomorrow. The temptation to experiment with drugs and alcohol can be very attractive to teenagers. This program focuses on alcohol, marijuana, ecstasy, and inhalents and explains the damage these substances can do to a young person's brain. This is an excellent program to show to junior or senior high school students as part of a drug awareness curriculum. A study guide is available with student activities and fact sheets.

GIFT FOR LIFE (VHS)
American Council for Drug Ed. 1988 30 minutes AD

Aimed at parents, this program features discussions with parents and children sharing their beliefs about drugs and alcohol, as well as two dramatizations. The video provides twelve principles for parents to use in helping their children stay drug/alcohol free and information parents need about alcohol, marijuana, and cocaine (including crack). Narrated by Jason Robards.

GRATEFUL DEAD CONCERT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1995 27 minutes AD

This program shows an incident in Missouri in which a distraught man with a gun threatened to shoot himself. The police were called to negotiate with the man. Nearby, thousands of people were in the vicinity to attend a Grateful Dead concert. The video discusses the proper negotiating techniques and lessons learned, including how to ensure the safety of the officers involved and the public. At the end of the video is a five minute segment on "pat-down" searches. A study guide is available.

GROUND FIGHT/GUNFIGHT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2000 45 minutes AD

This program shows in-car police video of a drug arrest in Alabama where the suspect fought back against the police officer, stole the officer's gun and tried to fire it at the officer. The suspect's gun jammed and the officer was able to shoot the suspect with his back-up gun. Included on the video is an analysis of mistakes made by the officer and lessons learned from the incident. A study guide is available.

GROUND FIGHTING FOR SMALLER OFFICERS
In the Line of Duty 2006 31 minutes AD

A police in-car video shows an incident in Texas where a female police officer is beaten unconscious during a traffic stop. Some of the mistakes made by the officer are discussed, and a demonstration of ground fighting tactics is conducted by Herb Hood, an experienced police instructor. The demonstration includes advice on how to gain tactical advantage when fighting a larger opponent.

A sequel to this program, entitled Michelle Jeter Beating has also been released by In the Line of Duty and is part of our library.
GROUNDFIGHTING, PART 2 (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 42 minutes AD
This video analyzes five groundfighting incidents captured on police in-car video. In each case, the mistakes made by officers are shown and the basic elements of survival are explained (i.e. get up, get to a weapon, put distance between yourself and the subject, and reevaluate the situation). A review of lessons learned from each incident is also included. Also contained from this video is a segment featuring Sgt. Herb Hood of the Cincinnati Police Department. He demonstrates the Inside The Line and Outside The Line Defense. These are self-defense tactics for weapon protection and edged weapon defense. A study guide is available.

GUN AWARENESS (VHS)
AIMS 2002 21 minutes JH SH AD
This program, aimed at teenagers, is made by the producer of the 'Scared Straight' series. It follows two teens who carry guns. To show them the consequences of gun violence, each participates in role-playing for a day. One spends a day with homicide detectives while the other spends a day in a hospital emergency room. Each teen is forced to confront the aftermath of violence and see what happens to the victims of these crimes. A study guide is available.

GUN CONTROL (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice 1987 28 minutes AD
This program begins with a look at the situation in Charlotte, North Carolina where the police chief is in favor of changing his city's gun laws to include more controls. A panel discussion on gun control follows and includes proponents and opponents (N.R.A.). Various gun control strategies are examined, including a ban on handguns, stiffer penalties for firearm violence, registration, and permissive licensing.

GUN SAFETY/311 NON-EMERGENCY (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 29 minutes AD
This program reviews an incident involving a Los Angeles Police Department officer who suffered severe injuries while retrieving a loaded shotgun left behind by a barricaded suspect. The incident was captured on video and, upon review, information is provided regarding officer safety and survival.

GUN-WIELDING WOMAN (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 26 minutes AD
This video documents an incident in California where a female driver led several officers on a high-speed pursuit. When she finally stopped on the shoulder of a highway, she exited her vehicle and pointed a handgun at the police officers. She was shot one time and died at the scene. The shooting incident is captured on video. The program includes a discussion on lessons learned from the encounter. A study guide is available.
HALLOWEEN RIOT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 33 minutes AD
This video contains footage of a college Halloween celebration in Carbondale, Illinois that got out of control and became a 24-minute riot. After the incident, local police officers analyzed the problem, designed a plan, and implemented changes to prevent future riots. The year after the riot, another Halloween celebration presented only minor problems. The program includes tips on how to design a critical incident plan. A study guide is included.

HANAHAN (SC) OFFICER RUN OVER
In The Line Of Duty 2005 44 minutes AD
This video shows an incident in South Carolina where the driver of a stolen van tried to run over a police officer. The van was cornered by three police cars. One officer approached the van on foot. The officer fired 15 rounds into the van as he was falling underneath the vehicle. The entire incident was caught on a police in-car video camera. Remarkably, there were no serious injuries from this episode. Discussion focuses on what mistakes were made by the officers involved in the pursuit.

HAND TO HAND COMBAT FOR POLICE
Loti Productions 2003 105 minutes AD
A police officer involved in a hand to hand struggle is a serious situation and the potential for lethal force on either side is always present. This program contains 13 short segments that demonstrate 1) angles, 2) center of gravity, 3) elbow and knee strikes, 4) open hand strikes, 5) wrist holds, 6) wrist locks, 7) wrist lock counters, 8) pressure points, 9) handcuff kneeling, 10) handcuff prone, 11) two officer handcuffing, 12) weapon retention, and 13) counter moves. The instructor is C.J. Caracci.

HANDCUFFING: PROCEDURES AND LIABILITY (VHS)
Handcuffing a subject is one of the most basic duties of a police officer but it is a procedure that is often taken for granted. This video demonstrates speedcuffing and how to counter resistance using the iron-wristlock takedown. Also discussed is potential liability and case law in handcuffing situations. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

HANDGUN RETENTION (VHS)
L.E. NET 1989 30 minutes AD
Assaults against police officers are increasing. More and more officers are losing their weapons to subjects who use them against the officer. This video includes a demonstration of faulty procedures when arresting or detaining a subject, visual clues that can alert when a subject is thinking about an assault, holster problems, retention techniques, and disarming techniques (including Kansas City strip and inside twist). RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.
HANDGUN RETENTION: DRAWN GUN AND DISARMING TECHNIQUES (VHS)
ALERT 1994 30 minutes AD
In any given year, about 17% of officers killed on duty are shot with their own gun. This video explains the seven handgun retention principles of officer survival. It also demonstrates four drawn gun techniques and four disarming techniques. A study guide is available. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

HANDGUN RETENTION: FIVE-HOLSTERED TECHNIQUES (VHS)
ALERT 1994 45 minutes AD
If disarmed, there is an 85% chance that a law enforcement officer will be shot or killed with that firearm. This program demonstrates effective handgun retention tactics including (1) the three step system of handgun defense, (2) holsters, and (3) dominant hand and weak hand grabs. A study guide is available. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

HANDGUN SURVIVAL TECHNIQUES (VHS)
L.E. NET 1987 30 minutes AD
Because of changing laws in regard to a citizen's right to own and carry handguns, it is more important than ever for law enforcement officers to be able to recognize dangerous situations and react effectively in a short period of time. This program explains the 4 components of reaction time and the two basic situations where a police officer is most likely to encounter a subject with a weapon (low-risk traffic stop and domestic disturbance.) A study guide is available. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

HANDLING JUVENILES (VHS)
S.C. ETV 1990 15 minutes AD
This video, aimed at law enforcement officers and jailers, contains segments on arresting and booking juveniles. Included are explanations on how to handle juveniles while in custody and adult/juvenile separation requirements.

HANDLING PRISONERS: AN ANALYSIS OF OFFICERS KILLED (VHS)
AIMS 1991 18 minutes AD
This video dramatizes several situations where officers are likely to be killed while handling suspects. The point is made that any person can be dangerous and all persons in custody should be searched and handcuffed. The following scenarios are dramatized: (1) officer killed while approaching a parked van, (2) officer killed while removing a suspect from a bus, (3) officer killed with his own gun while frisking a suspect, (4) officer killed during a foot pursuit, and (5) officer killed with his own gun while handcuffing a suspect.

HANDLING UNBALANCED OR MENTALLY DISTURBED PEOPLE (VHS)
This program presents two scenarios that could be encountered by police officers involving mentally ill or disturbed people. The symptoms of mental illness are described and advice is included on how to handle mentally disturbed persons to prevent violent situations from developing.
HATE CRIME: A POLICE PERSPECTIVE (VHS)
Noble 1991 13 minutes AD
Hate crimes are incidents of violence aimed at persons solely based on race, religion, national origin, or sexual orientation. Law enforcement officers who are properly trained to handle hate crimes can reduce the possibility of retaliation and additional violence. This program describes how to develop a model policy for handling hate crimes and includes an interview with the New York Police Commissioner who has developed a written policy for his department. Also discussed is the concept of community policing as a method for building public trust.

HATE CRIMES - 1991 (VHS)
Anti-Defamation League 1991 18 minutes AD
Although minority groups are usually the targets, hate crimes can be directed against anyone. This program shows examples of hate crimes and indicators that suggest a hate crime has been committed. The video emphasizes that law enforcement agencies can send a message to the local community if hate crimes are treated seriously.

HATE CRIMES - 1995 (VHS)
Fed. Bureau of Investigations 1995 19 minutes AD
This video, produced by the FBI and aimed at law enforcement agencies, contains the following segments: a definition of a hate crime, why hate crimes are committed, the effects on victims and society, the federal hate crimes data collection law, and hate crime reporting and investigation.

HAZARDOUS DEVICES IN CONTRABAND CONCEALMENT (VHS)
Designed for law enforcement officers, this video shows how criminals hide booby traps in concealed contraband to protect it from other criminals. Included are various scenarios and demonstrations of how these devices are activated. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

HEROIN: THE REAL DEAL (VHS)
Syndistar 1999 34 minutes JH SH AD
Heroin is the most addictive drug on the market today. Drug dealers have developed more potent forms of heroin, which can be snorted instead of injected. This video, although aimed at teens, is a comprehensive look at the consequences of heroin use. Segments include (1) myths about heroin, (2) physical and psychological effects, (3) overdose, (4) addiction, and (5) other consequences. Included in this program are interviews with parents who have lost children to heroin overdoses.

HIDDEN COMPARTMENTS OF DRUG TRAFFICKERS (VHS)
Hornbeck Video 1994 53 minutes AD
This program contains video of actual interdiction stops and shows vehicle hiding places of drug traffickers, drug detection tools, and searches using dogs.
HIDDEN TRAPS AND SECRET COMPARTMENTS (DVD)

STREET COP 2005 16 minutes AD

This video provides tips to street officers on hidden compartments which may hold contraband or weapons. Among the compartments shown are those in vehicles (inside airbags, car seats, and cleanup kits in trunks), hair spray containers, and furniture traps (chest of drawers and dressers). This is an excellent video for refresher or basic training.

HIGH PROFILE TWO-CAR RESCUE (VHS)

ALERT 2000 14 minutes AD

This video demonstrates the proper techniques for a two-car police rescue. Two police cars approach a parked car at high speed where a hostage or injured person is being held, surrounded by a crowd of people. Each police officer has a specific assignment, which is demonstrated in the video. Four officers are in each vehicle. Included in the program are use of verbal commands and legal issues.

HIGH RISK SECURITY ESCORTS (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD

Correctional officers involved in high risk security escorts need to develop the proper mental attitude to prevent disastrous consequences. This program lists four things an officer must do before picking up an inmate for escort and explains the importance of briefings before and after the escort. Also described is the proper deployment of security escort vehicles for one, two, and three-car escorts and how to ensure that the escort drop-off goes smoothly.

HIGH RISK STOPS (VHS)

AIMS 1983 21 minutes AD

This training tape provides the law enforcement officer with special techniques to employ to minimize the danger of high risk stops. A variety of tactical approaches used by officers and departments are reviewed. Officers must remember that flexibility is necessary, as subjects and conditions vary considerably. The tactics and procedures shown and discussed are designed to give the officer the advantage.

HIGH RISK TRAFFIC STOP (VHS)

This program features the re-enactment of actual high-risk stops where police officers were killed. Included is a daytime stop with one officer and a night stop with two officers. The video demonstrates the tactics and procedures officers should use to minimize dangerous situations.

HIGH RISK TRANSPORT (VHS)

Lockup USA 1993 30 minutes AD

Anytime a corrections officer moves a high-risk inmate outside the secure facility, he or she must take certain precautions. This video includes segments on preparing the vehicle, applying restraint devices, and planning the safest route. This is an excellent program for in-service training.
HIGH RISK YOUTH: AT THE CROSSROADS (VHS)
Natl. School Safety Ctr. 1989 22 minutes EL JH AD
This program is aimed at children and adults and includes reasons kids begin to use drugs, how to prevent situations that lead to drug abuse, and neighborhood programs that keep kids off drugs. The video contains real-life profiles of teens in high-risk situations who are recovering from drug abuse. Hosted by Levar Burton (Roots, Star Trek).

HIGH TECH DEVELOPMENTS (VHS)
L.E. NET 1989 30 minutes AD
This video contains explanations of new technology available to law enforcement including (1) mobile data terminals (computer screens inside patrol cars), (2) the Regional Justice Information System (REJIS), (3) the Automated Fingerprint Identification System (AFIS), and (4) Compusketch - a computer-assisted system used to draw sketches of suspected criminals.

HIGH-SPEED PURSUIT/FOOT PURSUIT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 44 minutes AD
This program details a high-speed pursuit in Ohio which was followed by a short-foot pursuit. The pursuit was mostly in a rural area, and speeds reached nearly 100 miles per hour. After the suspect crashed his car, he fled on foot and was apprehended within 15 minutes. A segment on lessons learned from this pursuit includes (1) have a clear pursuit policy, (2) know the dangers, (3) know your area, (4) utilize dispatchers for all relevent information, (5) the value of video, (6) review the pursuit video and the dispatch audio, (7) always be cautious and have a plan, and (8) work with other jurisdictions.

HINDSIGHT (VHS)
With hindsight, police officers can look back and investigate how dangerous law enforcement situations can be avoided. This video recreates two incidents involving officers who lost control of suspects and suffered the consequences of their actions. Each officer provides narration and discusses what actions he should have taken. This is an excellent video for new recruits or in-service training.

HIT AND RUN (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 29 minutes AD
This program shows two separate traffic stops where law enforcement officers were struck by drunk drivers while they were standing by the stopped vehicles. Both incidents were captured on in-car video. One of the officers died as a result of his injuries. The other officer was clipped by a side-view mirror and door handle and managed to pursue and arrest the drunk driver. The video includes an interview with the surviving officer and a discussion of lessons learned from the incident. A study guide is available.
HOLDUP ALARM RESPONSE (VHS)

L.E. NET 1988 30 minutes AD

This program discusses and demonstrates correct procedures for armed robbery response. Two situations are demonstrated: a convenience store robbery and a bank robbery. Correct approach, deployment, and backup are explained and demonstrated for each situation. The importance of each officer maintaining a survivalist attitude is also stressed.

HOMICIDE INVESTIGATIONS (VHS)

LA Educational Media 1992 20 minutes AD

This program provides basic information for officers assigned to homicide investigations and can be used for in-service training. Included are segments on preserving the crime scene, marking evidence, processing and searching the crime scene, indicative factors, and court presentations.

HOOD RIVER MULTI-SPEED CHASE (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1998 30 minutes AD

This program utilizes in-car police video to show a vehicle pursuit in Oregon that combined high speeds, low speeds, paved roads, and winding mountainous dirt roads. Because this chase was a dual agency response, it can be utilized for strategies regarding pursuits into other jurisdictions. A study guide is available.

HOSPITAL SECURITY

In the Line of Duty 2005 35 minutes AD

Transporting a subject to a medical facility for treatment may seem like an easy task, but none of these trips should be considered low risk. This is especially true if you have multiple subjects. This video contains tips and advice from the California Highway Patrol and the San Francisco Sheriff’s Office in areas such as preparation, proper restraints, good searches, and being observant. A seven-minute segment at the end of the program shows in-car police video of an officer who stopped Al Gore (ex-vice president) during the summer of 2004 and gave him a citation for speeding. The video shows the police officer maintained a professional demeanor during the entire stop, even after he recognized who he had stopped. A study guide is available.

HOSTAGE NEGOTIATION DIALOGUE: WHAT IS THE MESSAGE? (VHS)

PVN-TV 1988 60 minutes AD

This video, divided into two parts, is designed for law enforcement officers involved in hostage situations. Part one (30 minutes) includes a hostage-taking dramatization and a description of essential equipment and materials. Part two (30 minutes) includes establishing contact, speaking and listening skills, and dialogue development and resolution. The negotiation skills taught in the video were developed by a former police officer with first-hand experience in hostage situations.
HOSTAGE NEGOTIATION FOR CORRECTIONS (VHS)
Lockup USA 2001 44 minutes AD
This video is intended to give corrections professionals an overview of the hostage negotiations process. It is useful viewing not only for negotiators, but for line officers who will often be the first to respond to a hostage situation. Included are segments on (1) types of hostage incidents, (2) first officer on the scene, (3) helpful words and phrases, and (4) principles and procedures of negotiation. A study guide is available.

HOSTAGE NEGOTIATIONS, PART 1: PHYSIOLOGY AND DRUGS OF ABUSE (VHS)
This program includes two segments, each 25 minutes long: (1) Hostage Negotiations, Part One - federal and local negotiators discuss cases they have handled. Includes an FBI agent who supervised the first phase of negotiations with the Branch Davidians in Waco, Texas. (2) Physiology and Drugs of Abuse, Part Two - a DEA agent explains how various illegal substances affect the human body. Includes absorption rates, dependence and tolerance.

HOSTAGE SURVIVAL (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD
This program is designed for correctional officers and includes (1) five reasons why inmates may take hostages, (2) what to expect when taken hostage including the psychological stages experienced by hostages, (3) how to act as a hostage, and (4) how hostage incidents may be terminated.

HOSTAGE SURVIVAL (VHS)
Lockup USA 1992 28 minutes AD
Surviving a hostage situation is something that every corrections officer should be ready to face. This video is designed to prepare officers for hostage survival and includes segments on (1) why inmates take hostages, (2) how inmates treat hostages, (3) how hostages should behave, (4) mental survival, (5) negotiations, and (6) rescue. A study guide is available.

HOSTAGE TEAM SELECTION/COMMAND POST GUIDELINES (VHS)
Lockup USA 2001 28 minutes AD
A hostage situation can occur in a correctional facility at any time. Having a fully-trained hostage response team is important for every correctional agency. This video discusses how to implement a hostage response team. Segments include: (1) hostage team selection, (2) team member responsibilities, (3) the command function, (4) command post guidelines, and (5) dealing with the news media. A study guide is available.
HOSTAGES AT HOME (VHS)
Intermedia 1994 52 minutes AD
This video contains short segments on domestic violence from the woman’s perspective. Several women discuss their experiences with abusive husbands and boyfriends. The program discusses the warning signs of domestic violence, why women may stay in abusive relationships, and what women can do to successfully leave an abusive situation. This is a good program to show to victim support groups or the general public.

HOSTAGE-TAKER INTERVIEW/PEPPER MACE DEMONSTRATION (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 30 minutes AD
This program contains a prison interview with Holly Patterson, who took a grocery store clerk hostage for several hours before police officers were able to arrest her. The interview can be of interest to crisis negotiators and street officers since she describes her motivations and thought processes. A second segment shows how a training academy in Missouri incorporates a pepper mace demonstration as part of its regular training program. A study guide is available.

HOUSING OFFICER SAFETY (VHS)
Lockup USA 2004 28 minutes AD
Housing officers may have the most important job in Corrections. They are on the front lines, dealing directly with the inmates every day. Inmates can be unpredictable and can present life-threatening problems for the officer or other inmates. This program has segments on (1) mental preparation, (2) checking equipment, (3) passing down information, (4) being observant, (5) maintaining order, (6) enforcing rules, (7) handling inmate problems, and (8) contraband control. A study guide is available.

HOW TO CONDUCT CELL SEARCHES (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1989 17 minutes AD
This video demonstrates a typical cell search and includes (1) the five rules for an effective cell search, (2) equipment to use when searching a cell, (3) a definition of contraband, and (4) eleven points to remember. This is an excellent program for training new correctional officers or as a refresher for experienced officers.

HOW TO SET UP DRUG INTERDICTION CHECKPOINTS (VHS)
Hornbeck Video 1995 60 minutes AD
This video shows actual drug interdiction checkpoints and demonstrates (a) where to set the signs, (b) what the signs should say, and (c) what questions to ask people coming through the checkpoint. The program also includes some discussion regarding profiles of drug traffickers.
HOW TO SPOT A POTENTIALLY VIOLENT TEEN AND WHAT TO DO ABOUT IT (VHS)
Syndisttar 1999 25 minutes JH SH AD
This video contains a scenario where a teen comes to a class with a handgun, shoots several of his classmates, and then commits suicide. Flashbacks show early and imminent warning signs of violence. Intervention methods are described, and parents are encouraged to address problems with their kids before they erupt into violent acts. This is an excellent video to show to parent-teacher groups or junior-senior high school students.

HUFFING: THE LATEST FACTS ABOUT INHALENT ABUSE
Human Relations Media 2007 19 minutes EL JH
One in five students in America has used an inhalant to get high by the time he or she reaches the eighth grade. This program is designed for grades 5-9 and contains true stories of teens involved with inhalent abuse. Included is a segment about an Ohio police officer whose son died after a brief experiment inhaling pressurized computer cleaner air. This is a valuable program for viewing by elementary and middle school students.

HUMAN BEHAVIOR/HUMAN NEEDS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 28 minutes AD
All people have basic needs which, when met, contribute to emotional stability. This is true of correctional inmates as well as the general population. This video demonstrates the need to view inmates as people who face complex emotional issues on a daily basis. Included are segments on promoting inmate responsibility, Maslow’s hierarchy of human needs, inmate behavior, and the role of correctional officers. A study guide is available.

ICE AGE (VHS)
Syndisttar 1990 12 minutes SH AD
Ice is a smokable form of crystal methamphetamines which can produce an eighteen-hour high and is very addictive. This video includes segments on how Ice is used, the physical and psychological effects, and withdrawal symptoms.

IDAHO HIGH-RISK STOP/FELONY STOP DEMONSTRATION (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 42 minutes AD
An Idaho Deputy Sheriff, making a traffic stop on a narrow road, was struck by a passing car driven by a drunk driver. The incident is captured on the officer’s in-car video. The officer then pursued the drunk driver and made an arrest, also on in-car video. The mistakes made by the officer and lessons learned are discussed during the epilog.

The second half of this program includes a demonstration of correct procedures for high risk traffic stops including positioning of the patrol car, use of the public address system, and maintaining cover. A study guide is available upon request.
IDAHO PURSUIT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 27 minutes AD
Using actual police video, this program shows an incident that began in Lewiston, Idaho. It involves a high-speed pursuit following a bank robbery. The pursuit lasted for 47 miles and ended in a shootout where one of the suspects was killed. The program includes a discussion on lessons learned from the encounter. A study guide is available.

IDAHO PURSUIT FOLLOW-UP (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 23 minutes AD
A previous video in this series (Idaho pursuit) showed a high-speed pursuit of two bank robbers that ended in a shoot-out. The pursuit and shooting were captured on a police video camera. This program examines the chase and shoot-out in greater detail and provides discussion on key issues and lessons learned. A study guide is available.

IDAHO TROOPER SHOT/NEW TRAINING HANDCUFFS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 40 minutes AD
This program contains two segments. In the first segment, an Idaho State Trooper was making a traffic stop when the driver fired two shots at close range. The trooper’s protective vest saved his life. The incident was captured on the trooper’s in-car video camera. The program reviews the incident and points out lessons to be learned. The second segment is a refresher course on handcuffing. Emphasis is placed on cuffing subjects behind the back, double locking, and keeping prisoners under supervision. A new practice cuff is demonstrated which allows practicing without using a key. A study guide is available upon request.

IDENTITY CRISIS   (DVD)
U.S. Postal Service 2003 13 minutes COL AD
Identity theft is the fastest growing crime in America. Using two common scenarios, this video shows what happens to a couple who are defrauded by criminals, and how their credit rating is ruined when the criminal charge purchases to credit cards taken out using the couple’s social security numbers. Included in the program are tips on how to protect yourself against identity theft and what you can do if you have been the victim of this crime. This is a useful video to show to community groups or senior citizens.

IDENTITY THEFT (VHS)
Crime Prevention Resources 2001 26 minutes AD
Identity theft can happen to anyone, and the consequences can result in serious problems for the victim. By definition, identity theft is the theft of a victim's identity to obtain credit, steal money from the victim's existing accounts, apply for loans, etc. The victim may be an individual or a business. This program is aimed towards the general public and describes how identity thieves target their victims and gain access to personal information. Tips on how to prevent this crime are also included. This is an excellent video for law enforcement officers to show the community groups.
I'M NO FOOL AS A PEDESTRIAN (VHS)
MTI 1988 15 minutes K EL
Hosted by Jiminy Cricket (animation) and Pinnochio (life-size), this program is designed to build safety skills in young children. Topics include how to cross the street and follow traffic lights.

I'M NO FOOL WITH A BICYCLE (VHS)
MTI 1988 16 minutes EL
Hosted by Jiminy Cricket (animation) and Pinnochio (life-size), this program teaches safe riding skills to young children. Topics include bicycle equipment and rules of the road.

I'M SHOT! - THE BULLET'S IMPACT (VHS)
LA Educational Media 1990 30 minutes AD

Included are re-enactments of police shootings and interviews with officers who have been shot. The video also provides comments by a doctor and police psychologist as well as a detailed explanation of the physical damage caused by a gunshot wound.

IMPACT WEAPON TRAINING ISSUES (VHS)
L.E. NET 1988 30 minutes AD
The baton or nightstick is the officer's first weapon of defense when deadly force is not required. The use of non-lethal force is one of the highest liability issues in law enforcement. This program explains how to develop a policy regarding baton use and basic rules for handling a baton (stance, grip, draw, block, and strike). Both the straight and side-handle batons are demonstrated and the location of large motor nerves (i.e. pressure points) are shown. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

IMPORTANCE OF DOCUMENTATION FOR THE LINE OFFICER (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 32 minutes AD
Correctional officers and supervisors need to clearly document occurrences on a regular basis as a first line of defense against liability claims filed by inmates. This program contains segments on informal and formal documentation and the role of the supervisor and can be used for basic or in-service training. A study guide is available.

IMPORTANCE OF INSERVICE TRAINING (VHS)
Lockup USA 2002 21 minutes AD
The purpose of this program is to stress the importance of in-service training for corrections staff, no matter how experienced the officer may be. In-service training increases professionalism and keeps employees aware and up-to-date concerning policies and procedures. In-service training also helps to reduce an agency's liability in lawsuits. Finally, the points are made that in-service training needs to be retained by the staff member long after the lesson has ended and for the instructor this means giving a presentation that holds the attention of the class.
IN CRIME'S WAKE (VHS)
U.S. Dept. of Justice 1993 49 minutes AD
This documentary video covers five topics designed to help law enforcement personnel incorporate victim assistance into their everyday work routine. The following segments are included: (1) Making a Difference on Patrol (12 minutes) - The police officer’s attitude plays a vital role in crime victims’ immediate and long term recovery; (2) Domestic Violence: Escaping Abuse (12 minutes) - Illustrates the physical, emotional, and psychological trauma inflicted on victims of domestic violence, (3) Sexual Assault: Listening to Survivors (9 minutes) - Focuses on the roles, responsibilities, and actions of the responding officer, (4) Elder Abuse: Hidden from View (10 minutes) - Provides an introduction to abuse of older Americans and identifies the role police officers can play while investigating these cases; (5) It can Happen to Anyone (6 minutes) - Reminds us that crime affects everyone, even police officers. This is an excellent video for roll call or in-service training. A study guide is available.

INCIDENT AT WHITE CASTLE (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2004 49 minutes AD
In early morning hours, Cincinnati police officers were dispatched to a disorderly person disturbance in the parking lot of a White Castle restaurant. Captured on police video, the disorderly person was a 350 pound man in an agitated state. He attacked one of the officers and a violent struggle ensued with the officers using PR-24 batons and pepper spray to subdue the subject. At some point after the subject was subdued, he stopped breathing and could not be resuscitated. An autopsy revealed an enlarged heart and cocaine and PCP in the subjects blood.

Lessons learned from this tragic incident are discussed and officer training tips are also given. A short segment at the end of this video includes a demonstration of a less than lethal taser weapon. A study guide is available.

INFECTIOUS DISEASES IN THE JAIL (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD
This program discusses AIDS, hepatitis, and other infectious diseases. Included is a definition of Aids, how it is transmitted, and symptoms of Aids. Also discussed are precautions to avoid contamination from infectious diseases and the proper methods to conduct cell, body, or clothing searches.

INFORMATION GATHERING RESTRICTION (VHS)
Fed. Law Enf. Trng. Ctr. 1991 15 minutes AD

INMATE DISCIPLINARY PRINCIPLES (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD

The primary goal of inmate discipline is to improve behavior. This video covers basic disciplinary principles for jailers such as: (1) explain why a rule exists, (2) if you promise discipline, follow through, (3) gather all facts first, (4) administer discipline in private - be firm, fair, an prompt, (5) there are different levels of discipline, and (6) document everthing you do.

INMATE GRIEVANCE PROCEDURES (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD

Although officers should try to resolve issues informally, it is important for jails to have an established grievance procedure for inmates. This video discusses appropriate and non-appropriate areas for grievances and explains the need for an emergency grievance procedure for issues of health and safety.

INMATE MANAGEMENT (VHS)

AIMS 1988 17 minutes AD

Mismanagement of an inmate population has led to riots, disturbances, and endangered the lives of all those involved. The focus of this program is the management of prisoners in a closed correctional setting. The video shows correctional officers how to manage the day-to-day activities in the institution and deal effectively with the inmate population.
INMATE TRANSPORTATION (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD
This program covers several important points regarding correct procedures to follow when transporting inmates. Included are segments on (1) advance preparation (i.e. know your route and learn the security procedures at your destination), (2) inspecting vehicles for contraband, (3) searching and handcuffing prisoners, (4) transporting inmates on airlines, and (5) transporting an inmate to visit a family member in the hospital.

INMATE TRICKS, PART 2 (VHS)
AIMS 2002 17 minutes AD
In any correctional facility inmates are always inventing ways to use ordinary materials to make and conceal weapons, narcotics, and escape paraphernalia. Their friends and family members are also ingenious at passing hidden contraband during visits or through the mail.

This program shows correctional officers the latest techniques in making weapons, keys, and other escape tools, as well as inventive methods of concealment. This is a good video for basic or in-service training.

INMATES AT RISK FOR SUICIDE (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD
Jail employees need to be aware of inmates who may be suicide risks and what circumstances contribute to suicide. This program offers practical suggestions on how to handle inmates to reduce the risks of suicide.

INMATE'S COOKBOOK (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 35 minutes AD

INMATES’ RIGHTS AND RESPONSIBILITIES (VHS)
Lockup USA 1999 29 minutes AD
The purpose of this video is to remind correctional staff of those rights that all inmates have while incarcerated. Included are segments on (1) what rights the inmates give up, (2) rights vs. privileges, (3) inmates’ rights and (4) inmates’ responsibilities. A study guide is available upon request.

INMATE’S VISIT (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 30 minutes AD
The visitation process is one of the most common ways contraband can be introduced into a correctional facility. This video looks at the non-human and human factors which must be addressed by correctional staff before, during, and after an inmate receives a visitor. A study guide is available.

INMATES WHO POSE AN ESCAPE RISK (VHS)
Lockup USA 1997 26 minutes AD
This video can be used to alert corrections staff to the types of inmates who are most likely to pose a threat to escape. Included are segments on (1) primary escape risks, (2) becoming an escape risk, (3) signs of a planned escape, and (4) favorite times for an escape. A study guide is available.

INMATES WITH SPECIAL NEEDS (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD
Among inmates with special needs, those with mental illness are the largest category. This program explains symptoms of mental illness and also shows how correctional employees can deal effectively with inmates with mental problems, handicapped and elderly inmates, and inmates with drug or alcohol problems.

INSIDE THE JURY (DVD)
Films for the Humanities & Sciences 2004 45 minutes AD
Each year, more than 1.5 million Americans become jurors. How are they selected? After the attorneys rest their case, how do they conduct themselves behind the closed doors of the jury room? This program spotlights the role that jurors play - and the challenges they face - in a representative case in which a defendant is charged with armed robbery. In addition, the program also examines the role of professional jury consultants. Produced by CBS News.

INTAKE PROCESS (VHS)
Lockup USA 2001 40 minutes AD
Admitting a new inmate into a correctional facility must be done in a way that protects the safety and security of the inmates and the staff on duty. This video takes a step-by-step look at the intake process including: (1) paperwork, (2) contraband search, (3) processing the inmate, (4) medical exam, (5) fingerprinting, (6) property control, and (7) uncooperative inmates. A study guide is available.
INTERIOR SECURITY PROCEDURES (VHS)

AIMS 1992 18 minutes AD

Security inspections inside a corrections institution are vital for preventing escapes, controlling contraband, and maintaining the safety of the entire facility. This program demonstrates inspection procedures including: (1) bar taps on cell bars, (2) window casings, (3) locks and keyholes, (4) counting keys, (5) handcuffs, (6) fire extinguishers and hoses, (7) electrical outlets and fixtures, (8) cell ceiling and walls, (9) stairwells, and (10) public use areas. This video is applicable to prisons or jail facilities.

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION SKILLS (VHS)

Lockup USA 2000 26 minutes AD

Correctional officers need to be able to communicate effectively with inmates. The development of communications skills leads to less stress on the job and fewer violent incidents in the facility. This video includes sections on (1) the role of attitude and demeanor, (2) giving and getting respect, (3) listening and observing, (4) body language, and (5) reinforcing behavior. A study guide is available.

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION: LEGAL IMPLICATIONS, PART 1 (VHS)

ALERT 2001 15 minutes AD

The subject of this video is the legal implications of police-citizen contacts. The material is presented in a lecture format by Randy Means, an attorney. Segments include: (1) citizen contracts, (2) voluntary versus involuntary communication, and (3) tape recording conversations. The subject matter is covered in easy-to-understand, non-legal terminology.

INTERPERSONAL COMMUNICATION: LEGAL IMPLICATIONS, PART 2 (VHS)

ALERT 1991 17 minutes AD

This video continues the discussion of the legal implications of police-citizen contacts and covers the following topics: (1) nonverbal communication, (2) consent searches, (3) asking versus telling in citizen contacts, and (4) perceptions by the public of officer's behavior. The subject matter is covered in easy-to-understand, non-legal terminology.

INTERROGATION/FIELD INTERVIEWS

In the Line of Duty 2006 45 minutes AD

Proper interrogations can be a key ingredient in solving crimes and providing evidence for a conviction. This video teaches the proper interrogation techniques for patrol officers. Included are (1) the differences between interrogations and interviews, (2) the Reed Technique for interrogation, (3) when Miranda rules apply, (4) how to interpret body language which may indicate lying, and (5) advice from experts.
INTERVIEWING AND INTERROGATION: NINE STEPS OF INTERROGATION (VHS)

Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1991 20 minutes AD

Police officers should conduct interrogations after an investigation has reasonably established a suspect's guilt. This program details the steps that should be taken during an interrogation to elicit a confession from the suspect.

INTERVIEWING AND INTERROGATION: NONVERBAL BEHAVIOR (VHS)

Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1991 20 minutes AD

Truthful and guilty suspects may demonstrate certain nonverbal behaviors during police questioning. This video demonstrates characteristics that may indicate a suspect is guilty including posture, grooming gestures, protective gestures, hand movements, and eye contact. The program also offers guidelines for evaluating nonverbal behavior and emphasizes that police officers can't have a preconceived idea of guilt or innocence before questioning a suspect.

INTERVIEWING AND INTERROGATION: THE PSYCHOLOGY OF INTERVIEWING (VHS)

Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1991 20 minutes AD

This video, the first of a four part series, recreates a crime and demonstrates the proper methods to be used by police officers when interviewing witnesses and suspects. Included are proper environments for questioning, question phraseology, and how to develop cooperation from a suspect.

INTERVIEWING AND INTERROGATION: VERBAL BEHAVIOR ANALYSIS (VHS)

Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1990 20 minutes AD

During questioning, truthful and guilty suspects may demonstrate certain characteristics. This program demonstrates these characteristics by re-enacting police interviews with innocent and guilty suspects. The video also describes how to evaluate verbal responses to detect deception including responses by juveniles, drug dependent suspects, and persons from foreign cultures.

Note: The four Interview and Interrogation videos may be viewed either separately or as a series.

INVESTIGATING CHILD ABUSE (VHS)

S.C. ETV 1992 28 minutes AD

This video looks at a hypothetical child abuse case and follows the police investigation as they interview the parents, day care employees, and the child. The program offers valuable techniques for police to use when interviewing abused children.
INVESTIGATING RITUAL CRIME (VHS)
Syndistar 1990 17 minutes AD
This video teaches law enforcement officers what to look for in satanic or occult related criminal activity. Included are guidelines on ritual crime scene investigation procedures. Also shown are examples of items used in ceremonies and rituals and what to look for at a ritual crime scene such as: the location and position of the victim's body, signs of mutilation to the body, ink marks or tattoos on the body, and use of cords, ropes, incense, oils, or potion. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

INVESTIGATING SEXUAL ASSAULT: THE PRELIMINARY RESPONSE (VHS)
SATI 2002 293 minutes AD
These three programs are hosted by Sergeant Joanne Archambault from the San Diego Police Department. Her credentials include 22 years with the department including the last 9 years with the Sex Crimes Unit. The segments on each tape are as follows: Video One: (1) Recognizing and Effectively Responding to Sexual Assault, (2) Dynamics of Sexual Assault, (3) The Preliminary Response, and (4) An interview with a Sex Offender (part one). Video Two: (1) An Interview with a Sex Offender (part two), (2) Angie's Story (part one), (3) Drug Facilitated Sexual Assault - Investigation, (4) Angie's Story (part two), (5) Trendy Drugs of Abuse - Trinka Porrata, (6) Pretext Phone Calls, and (7) Sexual Assault and Computer Technology. Video Three: (1) Victim Interviews, (2) Inappropriate Police Responses, (3) SART - Multidisciplinary Responses, (4) The Forensic Examination and DNA, and (5) The Suspect Examination. These three programs provide an excellent comprehensive knowledge of sexual assault investigations.

IRATE MOTORIST (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 25 minutes AD
This program contains police car video of an actual traffic stop by a Maine State Trooper. The officer, who stopped a driver for a speeding violation, was subjected to hostile verbal assaults from the driver. By remaining calm and composed, the officer may have kept the driver from attempting physical action. An epilogue at the end of the program emphasizes the lessons learned from the officer’s professional behavior. A study guide is available.

IRATE TRUCKER/BIG RIG APPROACHES/DRUG CONCEALMENT, PART 2 (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1999 39 minutes AD
This program contains police car video footage of a traffic stop in Idaho where a truck driver stopped for speeding became very agitated and potentially explosive. A discussion is included concerning mistakes made by the officer who made the stop. A second segment demonstrates proper approaches for a police officer to take after a big rig is stopped. The last segment of this program shows video footage of narcotics concealed in a van that was confiscated by police officers, including some unlikely hiding places. A study guide is available.
IRON WILL TO SUCCEED - OFFICER JOHN ANGLE

In the Line of Duty 2006 32 minutes AD

This program documents a police pursuit in Mobile, Alabama. It is captured on police in-car video. The two men in the pursued car stop in a residential area and open fire on the officer’s car with an assault weapon and handgun. More than sixty rounds are exchanged. The officer is forced to return fire through his windshield. The incident ends when back-up help arrives and the two men surrender. One of the suspects is injured. The officer survives with no injuries. He discusses the incident and how he was able to remain calm and in control during a potentially deadly situation.

IRON WILL TO SURVIVE, PART 1 (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2000 30 minutes AD

This video documents a Cincinnati police officer who survived an incident where she was shot four times at close range. She returned fire and killed her assailant. She credited her training with giving her the willpower and resolve to survive this attack. An epilog discusses the lessons learned from this incident. A study guide is available.

IRON WILL TO SURVIVE, PART 2 (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2002 39 minutes AD

This program details a traffic stop in Louisiana. Officer Bobby Smith was approaching a stopped vehicle when the driver exited the car and fired two shots from a handgun. Trooper Smith went down with forty shotgun pellets in his face. He managed to survive the shooting, but he permanently lost his eyesight. He also lost his career, his marriage, and his tough guy mentality. He suffered severe depression and contemplated suicide. Eventually, Officer Smith recovered from his depression, returned to school, and earned a Master’s Degree and a Ph.D. in counseling and psychology. Today, he gives lectures to help police officers deal with traumatic situations.

A short segment at the end of the video documents some other traffic stops where the lives of police officers were endangered. A study guide is available.

IRON WILL TO SURVIVE, PART 3 (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2002 38 minutes AD

This video analyzes the North Hollywood Bank robbery shootout, where police officers exchanged shots with two heavily armed men who had just robbed a local bank. During the 45-minute incident, more than 1,100 shots were fired, mostly by the two bankrobbers. Eleven officers and seven civilians were wounded before the ordeal ended with the killing of the criminals. Interviews with the officers involved and footage of the shootout are included. An officer who suffered a leg wound with massive bleeding describes how he managed to survive. Also contained on this video is a segment on concealment tricks and the unique places where crooks can hide contraband. A study guide is available.

IT AIN'T LOVE (VHS)
Olmos Productions 1997 58 minutes JH SH
This video explores domestic abuse and violence in teen relationships. Teens interviewed discuss the violence they have experienced and inflicted on others. The program also includes strategies for developing healthy relationships. Strong language and frank discussions of sex are part of this video so parental discretion is advised.

JACK IN THE BOX (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 27 minutes AD
This program contains police in-car video of a traffic stop. An armed female was discovered hiding in the trunk of the vehicle by the police officer who searched the car. The incident underscores the need for officers to be especially cautious during vehicle searches. As a supplement, another incident is discussed where an officer was shot and killed by a suspect hiding in a car trunk.

JAIL SUICIDES AND OTHER LOCKUP LIABILITIES (VHS)
Each year in our nation's jails, several hundred prisoners commit suicide and others suffer serious injury or death at the hands of other inmates. In each case, law enforcement faces the potential for civil suits based on negligence. This program discusses jail suicide prevention and provides a profile of a suicide risk. Also included are first-aid procedures to rescue suicide attempts (i.e. hanging, bleeding). The video also explains the civil rights of prisoners and the potential liability if officers ignore those rights.

JASON SCHECHTERLE: IRON WILL TO SURVIVE (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2004 46 minutes AD
Officer Jason Schechterle’s story is clearly inspiring and gives keys to developing a survival mindset. Jason was responding to a hot call when his cruiser was struck from behind by a taxi cab going 115 mph. His car erupted in flames, traveled 226 feet and came to a stop about 50 feet from a fire truck across the street. As the firemen worked to extricate the officer, everything was melting as the cruiser was being destroyed in the raging fire.

Jason spent six weeks in a coma, had over 43 major surgeries with skin grafts on hands and eyes and other surgeries for abdominal and tissue expansion. The doctors can’t explain why he survived. They thought if he survived, he would be deaf, blind and have mental retardation due to lack of oxygen. However, Jason’s mind, spirit and perseverance remained intact.

The video also includes a short segment on understanding and identifying some of the latest in concealed weapons now being found on the streets. A study guide is available.
JASON'S STORY/MIRACLE IN PHOENIX (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 52 minutes AD
In May of 2001, Phoenix Police Officer Jason Schechterle was on duty when his cruiser was struck from behind by another vehicle going in excess of 100 mph. His patrol car erupted into flames. Jason suffered 3rd and 4th degree burns over most of his body. His physical appearance was erased. He lost middle and index fingers and thumbs. Some of his fingers were able to be reconstructed. He was in a coma for six weeks and nobody expected him to survive.

Miraculously, Jason did survive and he tells his story on this video. He has had over thirty major surgeries, with skin grafts on his face and hands. Today, he is back on duty working as a Public Information Officer at the Phoenix Police Department. This is an excellent video to show officers for in-service training. It shows what is possible when a person has the will to survive and never gives up hope.

JUST SAY NO (VHS)
Coronet/MTI 1987 14 minutes EL JH
This inventive blend of candid interviews, clever animation, and street rap narration brings to focus the strong anti-drug message of the national "Just Say No" movement. Members of the "Just Say No" club share their coping techniques and explain how others can put themselves on the road to a drug-free life. This is an excellent program to show to elementary or junior high students.

JUVENILE REHABILITATION (VHS)
Natl. Institute of Justice 1991 28 minutes AD
The Paint Creek Youth Center, located in Ohio, is designed for juvenile criminals from 15 to 18 years old. The center is operated in an open setting and teaches juveniles to relate to the victims of their crimes and to be held accountable for their actions. This video focuses on the operation of Paint Creek and includes a group discussion on techniques that work best in juvenile rehabilitation.

KEEP OFF THE GRASS: THE HIDDEN DANGERS OF MARIJUANA USE (DVD)
HUMAN RELATIONS MEDIA 2003 25 minutes JH SH
Designed for a teenage audience, this program discusses the misconceptions concerning marijuana use. Marijuana is not "safe" to use because it is organic; in fact, it is a dangerous and addictive drug. Perhaps the biggest danger is that marijuana is a gateway drug, leading to the use of more addictive drugs. Interviews with current and ex-users of the drug are interspersed with basic information about the long-term effects of marijuana use. A study guide is available.
KEHOE BROTHER'S SHOOT-OUT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1999 47 minutes AD
This program contains police in-car video of a traffic stop that was nearly fatal for the officers involved. An Ohio State Trooper stopped an out-of-state vehicle for a minor traffic violation. He was assisted by a deputy sheriff. While the trooper was interviewing the driver, the passenger left the vehicle and exchanged gunfire with the deputy sheriff. The passenger managed to run away. The driver got back in the vehicle, after wrestling with the trooper, and drove away.

The two suspects were brothers involved in the militia movement. They were successfully apprehended a few months later. Their car was loaded with guns and ammunition. The video describes mistakes made by the officers involved in the traffic stop. A study guide is available.

KIDS AND DRUGS (VHS)
Films for the Humanities 1987 28 minutes JH SH
This program presents the stories of 5 teenagers and their battles with drugs (marijuana, cocaine, heroin) and alcohol. All are now in treatment programs. The video provides insights from experts and examines parental denial, children's denial, warning signs, and the stress that drug and alcohol abuse places on the family.

KITCHEN: CULINARY MANAGEMENT (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 30 minutes AD
This video is designed for corrections personnel and demonstrates the need for a well-managed kitchen operation to insure a secure facility. Included are segments on (1) selecting food service workers, (2) health precautions in the kitchen, and (3) contraband control.

KITCHENS OF DEATH (VHS)
California Atty. General 1989 30 minutes AD
Clandestine drug laboratories are a serious and growing problem for law enforcement. This program provides basic information on clandestine labs and includes segments on detection, location, booby traps and hazards. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.
KNOXVILLE OFFICER HIT (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2004 42 minutes AD

This video documents an incident in Knoxville, Tennessee where a female officer was struck by a drunk driver at the end of her shift. She was crossing the street after providing nighttime patrol for a section of town where university students had gathered to party before a football game. She was struck by a small car, tossed up over the windshield, and then fell to the pavement in front of the car. The accident was captured on a police in-car video camera. A fellow police officer was first on the scene. The driver of the car was totally at fault for the accident.

Segments include (1) the incident, (2) immediate aftermath, (3) lessons learned, and (4) epilog. The female officer credited her body armor for helping her survive the impact, although she was still unable to return to work almost two years after the incident. The driver of the car was an 18-year-old woman who had a blood alcohol content of .11. An instructor’s guide is available.

LAW ENFORCEMENT AND THE NEWS MEDIA (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1998 32 minutes AD

Dealing with the media has become a critical element for every rank in law enforcement. This video outlines the relationship between law enforcement and the news media and details how to work with the media in routine and major incidents alike.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CONTACTS WITH THE MENTALLY RETARDED (VHS)

NE State Patrol 1987 30 minutes AD

This program features Sergeant Bryan Tuma of the Nebraska State Patrol, Sue Bailey & Carol Thompson from Crime and Community, Inc. & Eric Evans from the Governor’s Planning Council on Developmental Disabilities.

Topics include: (1) the distinction between developmentally disabled and mentally retarded persons, (2) the availability of resources to deal with mentally retarded persons including community-based services, (3) how to recognize symptoms of mental retardation, (4) methods of communication with mentally retarded persons, and (5) alternatives to arresting mentally retarded persons to gain control of a situation.

LAW ENFORCEMENT CUSTODY OF JUVENILES (VHS)

Community Research Ctr. 1990 30 minutes AD

This video, hosted by Fred Dryer, contains four scenarios that illustrate basic concepts of rules governing custody of juveniles. Included are explanations of how status offenders and juveniles charged with crimes should be treated. This is an excellent video for juvenile officers to review.
LAW ENFORCEMENT ETHICS (VHS)
As one experienced law enforcement trainer says "we have always done an absolutely terrible job of preparing officers to make high stress ethical decisions." This program discusses the public's perception of police officers - both good and bad - and offers some reasons why officers may act unethically. The video also includes a process and guidelines for making ethical decisions and criteria that will tell if they did the right thing. A study guide is available.

LAW ENFORCEMENT GUIDE TO PROTECTING CHILDREN ONLINE (VHS)
Law Enf. Internet Intelligence Report 2001 42 minutes AD
Presented in a lecture format, this video covers two topics relating to protecting children from Internet predators. The first segment discusses how to configure your PC to protect children from Internet content. It describes free software that can be installed to view a history of what websites have been visited. The second segment describes the risks faced by kids and teens when they surf the Internet (i.e. 80% of Internet content is pornographic). Chat rooms are discussed and suggestions are given as to what to tell children who have access to the Internet. This is a good video for basic information on ways to protect children from possible Internet dangers.

LAW ENFORCEMENT GUIDE TO SATANIC CULTS
Magill Productions 1994 73 minutes AD
Hosted by a former law enforcement officer, this program takes you into the ugly world of satanic cults and shows what signs and evidence you need to look for to solve crimes with satanic origins. There are some graphic images. This video is helpful in describing what to anticipate if you are called upon to investigate these types of activities.

LAW ENFORCEMENT INTERNET INTELLIGENCE REPORT, PART 1 (VHS)
Law Enf. Internet Intelligence Report 2000 150 minutes AD
This program contains three segments. Each segment contains a presentation on different aspects of the Internet. Segment One (40 minutes) discusses the use of the Internet for law enforcement managers. Segment Two (44 minutes) contains suggestions on what information should be included on a law enforcement website and how to design a web page for easy access. Segment Three (66 minutes) discusses the tools and techniques of the Internet hacker.

LAW ENFORCEMENT PROFESSIONALISM (VHS)
Performance Dimensions 1994 29 minutes AD
Using discussion and realistic scenarios, this video shows both professional and unprofessional law enforcement conduct. Topics include appearance, how people perceive law enforcement, department rules and values, societal values, and off-duty conduct.
LAW ENFORCEMENT STRESS AND BURNOUT (VHS)
Performance Dimensions 1994 29 minutes AD
This program examines law enforcement stress and officer burnout and contains interviews with officers and experts. Included is information on (1) symptoms of stress, (2) stress management and coping techniques, (3) good stress vs. bad stress, (4) diet and exercise, and (5) adapting to change.

LEADERSHIP SECRETS OF ATtilA THE HUrn (VHS)
MTI 1989 37 minutes AD
Using Attila the Hun’s career and conquests as discussion points, this video explains leadership qualities needed by all supervisors. Included are essentials of decisiveness, the art of delegation, picking your enemies wisely, and surviving defeat.

LEGAL UPDATE (VHS)
LETc 1996 104 minutes AD
This program features Mark Stevens, an instructor at the Nebraska Law Enforcement Training Center. In a classroom presentation taped in December, 1996, Mr. Stevens discusses law enforcement legislation passed by the 1996 legislature and recent court decisions that could affect law enforcement officers.

LESS LETHAL (SEATTLE SWORDSMAN) (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2000 46 minutes AD
This program documents a standoff in downtown Seattle involving a mentally ill man with a sword. Police were finally able to subdue the man using fire hoses. Lessons learned during the incident are discussed, including dealing with the media and the public. Part two of the video examines the use of less than lethal force options that can be used to subdue suspects. Specifically, beanbags and advanced taser are examined in detail. A study guide is available.

LESS LETHAL FORCE (VHS)
ALERT 2001 14 minutes AD
There are situations where law enforcement may need to use "less than lethal" force to subdue a subject. This demonstrates the use of the SL-6 Multi Role Projectile Launcher and offers suggestions regarding a lethal force policy for individual law enforcement agencies.

LIABILITY ISSUES FOR ADMINISTRATORS (VHS)
L.E. NET 1988 30 minutes AD
Each year, law enforcement agencies lose millions of dollars to civil lawsuits. This program discusses three areas which offer the greatest exposure to liability cases: high speed car pursuits, non-lethal force, and use of firearms. Also, the video discusses factors in civil lawsuits: negligent supervision, negligent training, and negligent retention.
LIABILITY ISSUES FOR CORRECTIONS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1992 26 minutes AD
Correctional officers are faced with potential lawsuits by inmates for a wide range of alleged violations. This program demonstrates what types of behavior may lead to liability and how to avoid it. Included are segments on use of restraint devices, goofing off, inmate complaints, suicide, discrimination, use of force, medical problems, and the role of the supervisors. A study guide is available.

LIABILITY ISSUES FOR CORRECTIONS, PART 2 (VHS)
Lockup USA 1994 30 minutes AD
This video demonstrates the need for clearly defined policies and procedures which will allow correctional facilities to successfully defend against inmate lawsuits. Such lawsuits usually fall into one of four categories: handicapped inmates, sexual harassment, critical incidents, and religious freedom. Each of these categories is examined during this program. A study guide is available.

LINE IN THE SAND (VHS)
Crime Prevention Resources 1994 25 minutes AD
By the use of a real-life situation (i.e. child abduction) this program is designed to motivate people to take an active role in neighborhood crime prevention. Community policing and neighborhood watch programs are also explained. This is a good video to show during community meetings or to local citizen’s organizations.

LINE OFFICER SURVIVAL AND SAFETY: BUILDING SEARCHES, FRISKS, AND EQUIPMENT (VHS)
ALERT 1997 29 minutes AD
In 1996, more than 56,000 officers were assaulted and 116 were killed on duty. This program includes demonstrations of the correct and safe methods for building searches and frisking subjects. Included are segments on necessary equipment, handgun retention, and liability issues. A study guide is included.

LINE OFFICER TACTICAL SHOTGUN (VHS)
ALERT 1997 27 minutes AD
This video includes segments on (1) when to use a shotgun, (2) demonstrations on targets from various distances, (3) sighting systems, (4) types of ammunition demonstrated, (5) mounting systems, and (6) law and liability. A study guide is available.

LISTEN TO ME: PHYSICAL CHILD ABUSE (VHS)
MTI 1987 17 minutes EL JH
What kind of parent beats his own child? There is no simple answer to that question. Even "nice" people can cross the line between discipline and abuse. Physical child abuse is not just a private family matter but a social problem that requires intervention. This program explores the problem of physical abuse from a child's perspective. It shows that abuse can happen in any family and teaches children who witness abuse to seek help.
LONG GUN RETENTION AND DISARMING TECHNIQUES (VHS)

ALERT 1999 26 minutes AD

This program demonstrates effective techniques that can be used to retain a long gun against an attempt by an attacker to take it away from an officer. The video also shows how an officer can disarm an attacker who is holding a long gun. Officers should review their department’s use of force policy before viewing this video and should practice these techniques with a qualified instructor. A study guide is available upon request.

RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

LOW LIGHT SHOOTING (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2000 37 minutes AD

It is very likely that, when an officer has to use his weapon, it will be used in low-light or no-light conditions. This program discusses and demonstrates strategic, tactical, and equipment issues. A short segment at the end of the video discusses sniper recruitment and training. A study guide is available.

MADD SAFE DRIVING VIDEO (VHS)

MADD 1994 20 minutes JH SH AD

Aimed at teenagers, this video shows what can happen when drinking is combined with driving. Featured is the story of an 18-year-old killed by a drunk driver one week before he was to leave for college on a football scholarship. Also shown are teens arrested for DWI and what happens in court after the arrest. A demonstration of a drunk driving simulator shows how even one drink affects the typical driver. This is an excellent program for school resource officers to show to students.

MAINTAINING A PROFESSIONAL DEMEANOR IN THE WORKPLACE (VHS)

Lockup USA 1998 30 minutes AD

The purpose of this video is to emphasize the importance of looking and acting like a professional at all times while at work in a correctional facility. Included are segments on the basic factors involved in maintaining a professional demeanor such as (1) appearance, (2) professional conduct, (3) job performance, (4) communication skills, and (5) off-duty professionalism. A study guide is available.

MAKING A DIFFERENCE ON PATROL (VHS)

Victims Services Agency 1992 12 minutes AD

The police officer’s attitude plays a vital role in crime victims’ immediate and long term recovery. This program includes officers interviewing robbery and burglary victims and discusses how police can encourage victims to cooperate with the investigation and prosecution of a case. A training guide is available.

MAKING YOUR CASE AND MAKING IT STICK (VHS)

ALERT 1996 28 minutes AD

This program discusses three kinds of officer and citizen contacts: (a) voluntary, (b) investigative stops, and (c) arrests. The concepts of reasonable suspicion and probable cause are explained and demonstrated. A lesson plan is available with the video.
MAKING YOUR CASE AND MAKING IT STICK, PART 2 (VHS)

ALERT 1997 30 minutes  AD

This program discusses and explains four constitutional roadblocks that can restrict the use of a defendant’s prior incriminating statements during a trial. Specifically, the video examines the Fourth Amendment, Miranda warning, voluntariness, and right to counsel. Also covered in this program are three categories of encounters: voluntary contacts, investigative detention, and arrests. A study guide is available.

MAN WITH GUN CALLS: AN ANALYSIS OF OFFICERS KILLED (VHS)

This program is designed to give law enforcement officers the information they need to survive man-with-gun calls. Based on an eight-year study, the video shows correct and incorrect arrest procedures through dramatic reenactments.

MANAGEMENT OF AGGRESSIVE BEHAVIOR (VHS)

Performance Dimensions 1994 20 minutes  AD

This video describes how an officer can recognize, identify, and manage signs of aggressive behavior. Included are short segments on (1) non-verbal communications, (2) personal zone, (3) reactionary zone, (4) aggressive gestures, (5) stages of conflict, and (6) verbal communications.

MASS TRAFFIC ACCIDENT/DRUG CONCEALMENT SPOTS (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1999 38 minutes  AD

This program examines two mass traffic accidents: (1) a 98 car pile-up on a Missouri interstate and (2) a 65 car pile-up in Virginia. The officers that investigated each accident discuss the mistakes they made and lessons learned from each incident. A key element in the investigation of both accidents was cooperation among the officers and agencies involved.

Another segment of this video describes and demonstrates sophisticated hiding places used by drug couriers to hide illegal drugs inside motor vehicles. A study guide is available upon request.

MCGUFF COSTUME  (2 AVAILABLE)

2005 minutes

The McGruff head contains a small, built-in fan. The fan is battery powered and the battery pack clips onto the wearer's belt. A trench coat (size 42R), with a removable lining, is also available at an extra charge. The McGruff costume is only loaned to law enforcement agencies.
MCGRUFF ON HALLOWEEN (VHS)
AIMS 1990 15 minutes EL
McGruff explains Halloween safety precautions to a group of kids in this entertaining video. Included are tips on costumes, the safest way to "trick or treat," and how to check candy for foreign objects. This is an excellent program for kids at the elementary school level or younger.

MCGRUFF ON PERSONAL PROPERTY (VHS)
AIMS 1987 16 minutes K EL
In this program, McGruff the crime dog teaches children to respect other people's things. The video shows the consequences of "borrowing" without asking, stealing from a store, and taking something from a friend.

MCGRUFF ON VANDALISM (VHS)
AIMS 1989 16 minutes EL JH
In this video, McGruff takes a tour of a wrecked playground and explains to kids how vandalism affects others. Other vignettes are included which show acts of vandalism and the consequences that follow. This is an excellent program for children in the fifth to seventh grades.

MCGRUFF PUPPET
2005 minutes
The puppet is dressed in a trench coat, slacks and shoes. Included with the puppet are cassette tapes with programs for age groups kindergarten through sixth grade. A script is included with each tape and the officer says his lines and waits for McGruff's response on the tape. The officer can hold McGruff on his lap while performing or sit him on a desk. The size of the puppet allows performances before large groups. Available for loan only to law enforcement agencies.

MCGRUFF'S BULLY ALERT (VHS)
AIMS 1999 15 minutes EL JH
This program features McGruff the Crime Dog and explores the common problem of bullying. Using realistic situations, it illustrates the challenges faced by kids who are bullied. It teaches kids that bullying behavior is wrong and that they don't have to accept it and discusses positive ways to deal with bullies. It also discusses what to do when a friend is bullied by others. A teacher's guide is available.

MCGRUFF'S GANG ALERT (VHS)
AIMS 1989 16 minutes EL JH
McGruff explains how street gangs hurt the community and disrupt the lives of its members. Dramatizations show that gangs take away young people's freedom to make their own decisions. Aimed at elementary and junior high school children, the video encourages kids to make their own choices and talks about what they should do if they are approached by gang members.
MCGRUFF'S GUIDE TO PERSONAL SAFETY (VHS)

AIMS 1987 9 minutes K EL

McGruff, the crime dog, helps children understand that they have personal space and always have the right to refuse to let someone get too close to them. The video identifies a variety of situations where closeness or touching is unwelcome. Children learn assertiveness skills that help them protect their personal space and avoid dangerous situations.

MEN, WOMEN, AND RESPECT: STOPPING SEXUAL HARASSMENT IN CORRECTIONAL FACILITIES (VHS)

American Correctional Assoc. 1993 20 minutes AD

Sexual harassment is illegal and it interferes with the ability of corrections employees to work as a team. This program defines sexual harassment and explains how it affects the harassed, the harasser, the administration, and the workplace. Also included are descriptions of why sexual harassment is often unreported, what employees can do, and how supervisors can take steps to eliminate harassment problems. A study guide is available upon request.

MENTAL HEALTH ISSUES FOR CORRECTIONS STAFF (VHS)

Lockup USA 2002 24 minutes AD

This video examines some of the common problems that affect corrections staff in the area of mental health, both on the job and off-duty. The point is made that good mental and emotional health on the part of the staff is directly related to the smooth operation of the facility. Segments include: (1) Common Mental Health Problems Affecting Staff, (2) The Role of the Supervisor, and (3) Getting Help. A study guide is available.

METHAMPHETAMINE: AN UPDATE (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2000 39 minutes AD

The problems posed by methamphetamine provide special challenges for law enforcement. Meth labs can be set up anywhere. Rural sites are common because they are isolated. This video describes the detection and dismantling of meth labs and provides valuable information for law enforcement officers who are first on the scene. A study guide is available.

METHAMPHETAMINE: NEUROCHEMISTRY & RECOVERY

CNS Productions 2006 30 minutes SH COL AD

This video examines how methamphetamine changes the brain both chemically and structurally and how these changes interfere with the recovery process. Included are interviews with a cross-section of people in recovery along with comments from treatment professionals. The information is presented in non-technical language. This is an excellent program that clearly explains how meth affects those who use it and the difficulties faced during the recovery process.
METHAMPHETAMINES: THE HARD FACTS (DVD)
HUMAN RELATIONS MEDIA 2003 25 minutes JH SH COL AD
This video concisely provides the key facts about methamphetamines, including physical and psychological effects of the drug. Although designed for a teenage audience, the information in the program is valuable for any age group. Included are interviews with meth users, long-term effects, myths, and how meth is manufactured and ingested. A study guide is available.

MICHELLE JETER BEATING
This program is the sequel to Groundfighting for Female and Smaller Officers. It tells the story of Michelle Jeter, a Texas police officer who was nearly beaten to death during a traffic stop. This video contains a lengthy interview with her as she describes what happened. The incident was captured on her in-car police video.

Officer Jeter stopped a van for speeding. A large man was driving and was wanted for traffic warrants. He exited his vehicle with his young daughter. She had no back-up but asked to search his vehicle. During her search, she finds drugs. She gets ready to handcuff the suspect, but he turns around and punches her. She falls to the ground and he gets on top of her and beats her unconscious. He then tries to remove her gun from her holster but a good samaritan stops at the scene and the criminal gets back in his car and flees.

Officer Jeter was in a coma for six days and needed facial reconstruction for a crushed eye socket and broken cheek bones. She discusses the mistakes she made during the traffic stop, and experts offer a list of lessons learned. This is a good video for basic or in-service training and all officers can benefit from viewing it.

MISSED PATDOWN HORROR STORY (DVD)
In the Line of Duty 2005 30 minutes AD
This video documents an interrogation room suicide. A man accused of shooting a police officer was taken to a holding cell for an interview. A gun hidden in the man’s waistband was missed during a patdown. When the officer conducting the interview leaves the room for a few minutes, the suspect pulled out the gun and committed suicide. There were two bullets in the gun. He could have easily shot the officer. The incident is captured on video.

A segment on proper patdowns follows the discussion of the suicide incident. Failure to detect weapons hidden on a person can be a lethal mistake. There are two short segments at the end of this program. One documents an incident where two British police officers were attacked by a crowd of people. The second segment has an interview with a St. Louis officer who was hit by a drunk driver while on street patrol. As a result, he lost both of his legs. His attitude and determination to survive are inspirational.
MISSED WEAPONS LEAD TO OFFICER DEATHS (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2002 35 minutes AD

This video focuses on the tragic consequences that can result when police officers fail to make a thorough search of a suspect. When an officer misses a weapon concealed on a suspect, the results can be fatal. Several incidents are documented, including the deaths of officers in St. Louis, South Carolina, and Florida. All of these incidents have one thing in common: the search techniques by the officers were sloppy. A segment on "lessons learned" describes proper techniques for searching a suspect. A short segment at the end of this program shows some innovative hiding places criminals use to conceal weapons and contraband. A study guide is available.

MISSING PERSONS (VHS)

L.E. NET 1987 30 minutes AD

Law enforcement agencies need a professional procedure to handle the initial report of a missing person. This program discusses how to develop a missing persons policy and how to construct a chronological biography of a missing person. Also covered are search situations for missing children and when to suspect foul play in a disappearance.

MOB PSYCHOLOGY/CONTROL (VHS)

Lockup USA 2001 28 minutes AD

One of the most dangerous types of situations that a correctional facility can face is when a crowd of inmates turns into a mob. Correctional officers need to know the cause of a crowd turning into a mob and how to diffuse these situations with a minimum of force. This video discusses mob psychology and explains proactive measures that can be used to stop a crowd from becoming a mob. A study is available.

MONTANA CHASE/SHOOTOUT

In the Line of Duty 2005 57 minutes AD

This video documents a high-speed chase in rural Montana. It begins in Ennis, where a man fatally shoots one person and injures six. The police pursuit begins when the suspect is stopped for speeding and fires at the officer who stopped him. The suspect then drives away and is pursued by two officers. He is stopped again and exchanges shots with both of the officers. He drives away a second time and is stopped further down the road by a spike strip. While his car is stopped and he is reaching for his gun, a police car rams the driver’s side and incapacitates the driver. He is arrested with no injuries beyond broken bones. All of these incidents are captured on police in-car video. The program concludes with a series of “lessons learned” by the police officers involved in the pursuit. Each officer is interviewed and offers his perspective of what happened.
MORNING AFTER (VHS)
Pyramid 1989 27 minutes JH SH
This program documents an incident at a Minnesota High School where four students vandalized the interior of the building and committed more than a million dollars of property damage. Included are interviews with the vandals, their parents, and other students. This is an excellent video to show to junior or senior high school students since it illustrates the effects of peer pressure and the aftermath of vandalism.

MULTI-DISCIPLINARY TEAMS (VHS)
Law enforcement and social services agencies can form effective multi-disciplinary teams to handle child abuse cases. This video recreates one child abuse case and stresses the importance of communications between law enforcement and human service agencies when investigating these cases.

MULTI-ETHNIC COMMUNITY POLICING/DOMESTIC VIOLENCE SENSITIVITY (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1999 40 minutes AD
A large number of American communities are experiencing influxes of immigrants from around the world. Law enforcement officers find themselves facing crime victims and witnesses who speak little or no English and often mistrust police authority. This video looks at Fresno, California’s Community Policing Project which features volunteer citizens and outreach programs. Fresno has learned how to effectively deal with its ethnic communities and this program discusses lessons learned by the Fresno Police Department. A short segment at the end of this video looks at domestic violence sensitivity. A study guide is available.

MULTIJURISDICTIONAL TASK FORCES: A TEAM EFFORT (VHS)
Inst. For Intergovernmental Research 1989 28 minutes AD
There are many benefits to be realized from joining a multijurisdictional task force. This video contains interviews with persons who have experience in organizing and operating task forces and includes discussion regarding (1) organizing a task force, (2) short term vs. long term task forces, (3) obstacles to forming a successful task force, (4) criteria for deciding which cases to target, and (5) measurable objectives necessary to determine success or failure.

MULTIJURISDICTIONAL TASK FORCES: MANAGEMENT AND CONTROL (VHS)
Inst. For Intergovernmental Research 1990 25 minutes AD
This video contains interviews with participants and organizers of law enforcement task forces. Factors that lead to successful task forces are described, such as: control group selection, case selection and planning, utilization of resources, division of asset forfeitures, and written agreements that explain the responsibilities of each participating agency.
MULTIJURISDICTIONAL TASK FORCES: RAIDS - THE PLANNING PROCESS (VHS)

Inst. For Intergovernmental Research 1991 25 minutes AD

The consequences of a poorly planned raid can be disastrous to a law enforcement agency in terms of officer morale, public perception, and civil liability. This video demonstrates the eight steps in planning a raid by following the development of a specific raid against a drug dealer involving six separate locations.

MURDER OF A GEORGIA DEPUTY (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2001 57 minutes AD

This program documents an incident in rural Georgia that was caught on a police in-car video. An officer stopped a car on a speeding violation. The driver of the vehicle attacked the law enforcement officer. The officer was unable to subdue the subject, who then returned to his vehicle and retrieved an M-1 Carbine. The subject ignored warnings to put the gun down and advanced firing on the officer. The officer returned fire but only succeeded in wounding the subject. The incident ended tragically with the death of the officer. The suspect was caught a short time later. The program discusses lessons learned by this tragic incident. A study guide is available.

MURDER OF TEXAS TROOPER

In the Line of Duty 2006 32 minutes AD

A Texas State Trooper, making a routine traffic stop for a seatbelt violation, is shot and killed during the stop. The driver he stops exits his vehicle with a rifle and shoots the trooper within 15 seconds of the stop. All this is captured on the officer’s cruiser cam. The driver of the car had an anti-police attitude and thought he was being stopped for a prior warrant. At the end of this program is a segment on lessons learned from this deadly incident.

MY SELF-ESTEEM (VHS)

Pyramid 1989 18 minutes EL JH

Designed to be used with the D.A.R.E. Program, this video tells the story of an eleven year old girl with low self-esteem. Her alter ego appears and gives advice on techniques to improve her self-esteem.

NECK RESTRAINTS: LEGAL AND TACTICAL ISSUES (VHS)

This program contains the following information about neck restraints: (1) types of restraints currently used and demonstrations of lateral vascular neck restraints, (2) levels of control, (3) when neck restraints are justified, (4) how to escape from a rear neck restraint, and (5) legal implications of neck restraints.
NEW CLUB DRUGS: DESIGNED FOR DEATH
Human Relations Media 2004 24 minutes SH COL AD
A whole new series of dangerous drugs have emerged recently. This video discusses these drugs and the potentially deadly consequences of using them. Drugs discussed in this program include (1) foxy methoxy and AMT (both similar to Ecstasy), (2) Yaba - a combination of methamphetamine and caffeine, (3) Blue Mystic (similar to meth), and (4) Illy - a marijuana or tobacco cigarette dipped in a mixture of embalming fluid and PCP. The danger of pharmaceutical drug abuse is also discussed, as well as "cocktailing" - which is the practice of combining drugs.

All of the drugs discussed are either hallucinogens or stimulants, and they can cause long-term damage to the brain. This video is aimed at teens and provides them with the knowledge needed to make fact-based choices about drugs and their lives. A study guide is available.

NEW MEXICO TROOPER HELD AT GUNPOINT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 32 minutes AD
A "routine" traffic stop in New Mexico was captured on the police in-car video unit. The driver, stopped for speeding, pulled a gun on the police officer, forced him into his car as a hostage and drove away. Over a period of several minutes, the officer was able to defuse the situation and convince the driver to surrender at a police roadblock.

This program contains an interview with the police officer involved in this incident. He describes how he was able to gain control of a bad situation and end the incident without using any force. He also explains some of the warning signs he missed and the mistakes he made that allowed the suspect to take him as hostage. A study guide is available with this video.

NO IFS, ANDS, OR BUTTS
Human Relations Media 2002 28 minutes JH SH AD
Nicotine is one of the most addictive substances known to man, and each year, more than 400,000 people die as a result of cigarette smoking. This video is a good comprehensive look at the physical effects of smoking and explains how cigarette smoke affects the heart, lungs, skin, and teeth. Interviews with an adult smoker and a teen smoker show the serious consequences of smoking, as these ex-smokers deal with the after-effects of cancer. Some of the information is presented in graphic form to illustrate what happens to those who smoke or use chewing tobacco. A study guide is included.
NONVIOLENT CRISIS INTERVENTION: THE PREVENTATIVE TECHNIQUES (VHS)
Natl. Crisis Prevention Inst. 1988 27 minutes AD
Preventing violent episodes before they escalate is the best way to intervene in a crisis. This program demonstrates the actual behaviors an individual will display while escalating toward a violent episode. Included on the video are: the warning signals - how verbal escalation becomes physical aggression, nonverbal communication, empathic listening, and managing the stages of verbal escalation. This is an excellent program for corrections personnel.

OBSERVING UNIVERSAL PRECAUTIONS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1996 20 minutes AD
Correctional officers must be aware of the many diseases that are part of the prison or jail community. The transmission of body fluids can pose a serious threat to the officer’s safety. This video reviews and demonstrates universal health precautions that should be a part of each officer’s daily routine. This is a good program for new recruits or refresher training. A study guide is available.

OC AEROSOL USE IN LAW ENFORCEMENT (VHS)
Performance Dimensions 1994 22 minutes AD
This video presents an overview of OC aerosol use by law enforcement officers and includes the following segments: (1) ingredients in OC spray and physical response, (2) how to treat an OC victim, (3) use of force options when facing a suspect armed with OC spray, (4) spray patterns, (5) OC spray compared to mace, and (6) live demonstrations of OC spray. When training with OC spray, a certified instructor should always be present.

OFF DUTY: AN ANALYSIS OF OFFICERS KILLED (VHS)
AIMS 1991 17 minutes AD
During a ten-year research period, almost 100 off-duty officers died as a direct result of their employment as law enforcement officers. This program includes re-creations of ten actual cases and demonstrates the fatal mistakes which led to the deaths of police officers. Included are situations where an off-duty officer intervened in a business robbery, an officer moonlighting as a security guard, officers killed while being robbed, and an officer killed while intervening in an assault. This is an excellent video for either new or experienced officers.

OFFENDER RE-ENTRY: A POLICE PERSPECTIVE
Bureau of Justice Assistance 2007 8 minutes AD
This program profiles the Offender Re-entry Project in Racine, Wisconsin, which is designed to enhance law enforcement’s role in offender re-entry initiatives. A core committee was established with workforce development staff, faith-based community staff, correctional officers, and police. The offenders were closely monitored and held accountable for their actions. Home visits included parole/probation officers and police officers. The end result was a re-offend rate of 22% by the persons in this program versus a national average of 66%.
OFFICER AS HOSTAGE/TACTICAL MOVEMENT (VHS)
Law Enf. Television Network 1990 50 minutes AD
This video is divided into two parts, each 25 minutes long. Part One: Officer as Hostage - provides law enforcement officers with an understanding of what to do if taken hostage including tactical considerations and hostage scenarios. Part Two: Tactical Movement - explains how officers can move from one position to another when confronting armed suspects. Included are demonstrations of how to carry your weapon when moving, the "move-move, shoot-shoot" concept of tactical movement, and elements of "proning" movement. A study guide is available.

OFFICER COMPORTMENT (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1991 10 minutes AD
The public image of a correctional officer is vital to his or her success. This video includes (1) guidelines and techniques for interacting positively with inmates and fellow officers, (2) how to present a positive image to members of the public, and (3) the importance of maintaining a professional appearance. This program can be used for new employee orientation or as in-service training.

OFFICER KILLED/RAIL SAFETY (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 28 minutes AD
This program recounts the death of a California police officer who was hit and killed by a train during an evidence search along a set of railroad tracks. A walking tour of the location of the accident demonstrates how it could have happened and explains the inherent dangers of rail yard searches. A study guide is available.

OFFICER RESTRAINT/STOLEN CRUISER (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 40 minutes AD
This video discusses an incident in Kentucky where a female motorist was able to steal an officer's cruiser during a traffic stop. After a 26-minute pursuit, the stolen car she was driving was disabled by puncturing the tires and the woman was apprehended without force. Mistakes made and lessons learned are discussed.

A 14-minute segment at the end of this video discusses the safe and proper way to serve warrants. A study guide is available.

OFFICER STRESS MANAGEMENT 2: CITIZEN CONTACTS AND POST PURSUIT RESPONSES (VHS)
ALERT 1996 32 minutes AD
This program examines vehicular pursuits conducted by police and specifically looks at the officer’s actions immediately following a pursuit. Included is video footage of an officer’s actual post-pursuit performance. The point is made that more positive citizen contacts following a pursuit will result in fewer complaints and lawsuits, reduced job stress, and better odds of safety and survival. A study guide is available.
OFFICER SURVIVAL TIPS (VHS)

Performance Dimensions 1994 42 minutes AD

This program contains survival tips from several self-defense experts. The video is comprised of short segments and can be used for roll-call or refresher training. Included are segments on bulletproof vests, mind-set, reading tattoos and graffiti, handgun control, field interviews, physical fitness, the will to survive, multiple assailants, stance, and off-duty encounters.

OFFICER TRIES TO BLOCK MOVING CAR (VHS)

This video looks at an incident in which a California Highway Patrol Officer confronted a man who had been baiting and taunting him on the highway by driving close behind him, and then speeding up and passing him. When the subject left the freeway, the officer followed him and the subject stopped his car in a residential area. The officer tried to communicate with the subject and got no response. The officer then stepped in front of the subject’s vehicle. The subject moved his vehicle forward slowly until he struck the officer. He ignored the officer’s commands to stop. The officer then drew his weapon and fired. The driver took off at full speed. The officer eventually fired ten shots at the subject and wounded him. The subject was found a mile away in a parking lot where backup officers arrested him.

This incident received lots of media attention because it was captured on videotape by a local television cameraman. The officer was vilified by the media and community groups for firing at an unarmed subject over a traffic violation. The law enforcement community criticized the officer for endangering himself by stepping in front of a vehicle. This program reviews and discusses this incident and has a segment on “lessons learned” from the officer’s actions. A study guide is available.

OFFICERS ASSAULTED/WATER SAFETY (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1999 36 minutes AD

This video contains two segments. The first segment shows video from a jail’s sobriety testing room where officers were attacked by inebriated subjects. One subject managed to conceal a knife and slashed an officer with it. The segment concludes with a series of questions and lessons learned. The second segment focuses on water safety training for police officers and offers suggestions on floatation devices. The video concludes with a six-minute segment on the Denver Fugitive Apprehension Program. A study guide is available.

OFFICER’S GUIDE: INTERACTING WITH DISABLED PEOPLE (VHS)

LETN 1991 17 minutes AD

This program explains the symptoms for a variety of common disabilities and explains how law enforcement officers should react when making contact with disabled people. Among the disabilities covered are mental retardation, deafness, physical handicaps, cerebral palsy, epilepsy, and autism.
OFFICER'S TERROR RIDE (VHS)
Calibre Press 1997 16 minutes AD
Officer John Wilbur’s hand was caught in the back door of a getaway car and he was dragged over asphalt at 70 mph. The car only stopped when he fired at the occupants.
Officer Wilbur suffered serious injuries but survived. This video interviews the officer and highlights the lessons learned by his "vehicle stop from hell." Another good program for roll call or in-service training.

ON GUARD: INFECTION CONTROL FOR SAFETY AND HEALTH CARE PROFESSIONALS (VHS)
Pyramid 1988 23 minutes AD
With AIDS, hepatitis B, and other infectious diseases in our communities, it is important for police and paramedics to observe procedures that will minimize the risk of acquiring a contagious disease. This program presents guidelines regarding eyewear and gloves, needle stick injuries, and infection control techniques. This video can be used for initial training or continuing education.

OPERATION COOPERATION (VHS)
Am. Society for Industrial Security 1989 10 minutes AD
The primary goal of a private security officer is reduction of industrial losses and cooperation with public law enforcement agencies. This video features the security chiefs for the New York Stock Exchange and American Airlines and discusses organizations that foster communication and education among private security and public law enforcement officers. The program also describes "Operation Bootstrap" - a training program for private and public officers.

ORIENTATION FOR NEW CORRECTIONAL EMPLOYEES (VHS)
Lockup USA 2000 30 minutes AD
This program can be used as basic training for new correctional employees or for others who may frequently enter a correctional facility. It provides a general overview and discusses (1) inmate control, (2) inmates’ rights, (3) rules of conduct, (4) security issues for non-security staff, (5) over familiarity and complacency, (6) inmate con games, (7) potential for violence, and (8) liability awareness.

OUT OF HARM'S WAY: PERSONAL SAFETY AT HOME AND AWAY FROM HOME
MERIDIAN 2006 26 minutes AD
This program includes police officers giving practical advice on situations that arise every day and involve personal safety issues. Included are segments on (1) On the Go, (2) In and Around Your Car, (3) Going to the ATM, (4) Elevator vs. Stairs, (5) Exercising
Outdoors, (6) Approached by Strangers, (7) Safety at Work, (8) Internet Safety, (9) Identity Theft, (10) Phone Safety, and (11) Safety at Home. This is an excellent video to show to neighborhood groups.
Swindlers put a lot of time and effort into cheating. Anybody who handles sales, money, or payments - or supervises those who do - will benefit from seeing how these frauds are perpetrated. This program presents specific information on common practices of bad-check passers, methods used by quick-change artists, how to detect counterfeit money, and common practices of credit card thieves.

This program, produced by the Denver Police Department, offers insights into the minds of serial rapists. Included in the video are interviews with several sex offenders who answer questions concerning past history, how they determine their choice of victims, sexual fantasies and influence of pornography, progression of violence, evading apprehension, and following media coverage.

Aimed at junior/senior high school students, this fast-paced video features various athletic events and illustrates the physical effects of smoking and alcohol.

Designed for correctional officers, this program demonstrates the importance of the control room to the security of the facility and explains the duties of the control room officer. The video also discusses perimeter security including doors and windows, ceilings, roof areas, recreation areas, garages, trash dumpsters, and fences. A study guide is available.

This video documents an incident that occurred when sheriff’s deputies in North Carolina stopped a car carrying five adults. One of the passengers in the back seat drew a handgun and aimed at one of the officers. When the passenger would not respond to verbal commands, he was fired upon and killed. The entire incident is preserved on the officer’s in-car video. The shooting was ruled justifiable. A study guide is available.

This program focuses on the benefits of physical fitness and healthy lifestyles and is directed towards law enforcement officers. The legality of requiring minimum physical fitness standards for police departments is discussed and one agency that implemented a fitness program is examined.
PIT BULLS AND DOG FIGHTING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 42 minutes AD
Pit bull fighting is illegal in this country, but it is flourishing because immigrants have brought the sport with them from Hispanic nations and Asia. It also has spawned an illegal gambling industry that generates hundreds of millions of dollars a year in the United States. Drug and alcohol abuse and possession of illegal weapons are also associated with pit bull fighting.

This program teaches officers how to recognize the equipment used in training dogs to fight and things to look for which may indicate dog fighting. The Internet has dozens of sites that advertise fighting pit bulls. It is also important that the officer learns the character traits of pit bulls, which are described in this video. A study guide is available.

PLEA BARGAINS: DEALING FOR JUSTICE
Films for the Humanities and Sciences 2004 26 minutes AD
The vast majority of criminal cases are settled with plea bargains. This video documents the role of the public defender and shows them during their daily routine. More than 75% of people charged with crimes use public defenders. Without them, the judicial system would grind to a halt. Filmed behind the scenes, this program presents a realistic view of what happens before trial and how plea bargains are negotiated.

POLICE AND PEOPLE WITH DISABILITIES (VHS)
Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1996 45 minutes AD
There are approximately 43 million people in the United States today with some type of disability. People with disabilities present a special challenge for law enforcement officers. This program, presented on two videos, covers these topics: (1) mobility impairment, (2) mental retardation, (3) mental illness, (4) epilepsy, (5) speech impairment, (6) deaf and hard of hearing, and (7) blindness and visual impairment. A study guide accompanies the videos. (This includes 2 tapes.)

POLICE FACE MAN WITH EXPLOSIVE DEVICE (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2004 41 minutes AD
This video looks at an incident in which a man was stopped and questioned regarding a firebombing. Based on the lack of probable cause to arrest him, he was allowed to leave. He later threatened officers with an explosive device and ultimately detonated that and other devices following a confrontation. The video explains how to deal with and isolate a subject threatening to detonate an explosive device. It also discusses how to make an effective stop using reasonable suspicion and probable cause.

This video also contains a short segment on Professional Courtesy. It centers on understanding the parameters of extending “professional courtesy” to a fellow officer who may be involved in illegal activity. A study guide is available.
POLICE PURSUIT DRIVING (VHS)
Performance Dimensions 2000  32 minutes  AD

All police pursuits are serious business and create the risk of serious injury or death. This program contains police videos of actual pursuits and includes discussion on (1) liability issues, (2) decision making models and pursuit policy, (3) night pursuits, and (4) training.

POLICE SERVICE DOG TRAINING (VHS)

The police service dog has traditionally been used for a number of purposes including crowd control, arrests, and more recently, for drug detection. This program looks at the Nebraska State Patrol's Canine Unit which uses its dogs whenever possible to intercept interstate drug couriers. The video includes a discussion of the two most common dog training techniques (English and West German) and demonstrations of muzzle fighting and a dog attacking a man wearing a bite suit.

POLICE STRESS: HOW IT AFFECTS SURVIVABILITY (VHS)

Each year 70 to 100 police officers are killed in the line of duty. Law enforcement creates a lot of stress at home which then influences the officer's survivability in the field. This program documents the shooting of one officer, his recuperation, and how his family was affected. Also discussed are the symptoms of stress and the ten fatal errors that may result in an officer's death.

PR24 BASICS AND BUILDING SEARCHES (VHS)

This video is divided into two sections, each 28 minutes long.

Part One: The PR24 police baton has become a significant self-defense tool for law enforcement personnel. Without proper training on its use, civil liability and danger of physical injury increases. This segment contains demonstrations of PR24 use by an expert instructor including stance, grip, how to draw, blocking/jabbing/hitting techniques, and a discussion of legal concerns.

Part Two: Law enforcement officers are sometimes required to secure and search a building. This segment explains and demonstrates proper search techniques including preparation before the search, entry procedures, moving around corners, maintaining cover, what to look for inside the building, what to do when you find a suspect, and armed confrontations.
PRESERVING DIGITAL EVIDENCE FOR COURT
Omni Publishing 2007 54 minutes AD
This program contains a presentation by Sgt. Andrew Obushowski, a Massachusetts police officer with experience in computer crime investigations. Topics covered include internet basics, instant messaging and file sharing, email investigations, recording email evidence, subpoenas and search warrants, and crime scene processing. This is an excellent video for general knowledge purposes.

PREVENTING HOME BURGLARY (VHS)
The Swenson Company 1988 21 minutes AD
This is an excellent video for crime prevention or neighborhood watch programs. Included is a discussion with a convicted burglar on what features make a house attractive to robbery and segments on locks, windows, doors, alarm systems, outdoor lighting, and landscaping.

PREVENTING SUICIDES (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1991 10 minutes AD
This program is aimed towards correctional officers and explains how potential suicidal inmates can be identified during the arrest and admission process. Included are (1) five factors that may lead to suicide, (2) how the jail environment may influence a suicide attempt, (3) the proper procedure for conducting an intake interview, and (4) eight signals that show an inmate may be contemplating suicide.

PRINCIPLES OF HOUSING UNIT MANAGEMENT (VHS)
Lockup USA 2001 31 minutes AD
Housing units in correctional facilities should be managed in a professional and competent manner so that inmates obey the rules. This video discusses the basic principles of housing unit management and is appropriate for training new employees. A study guide is available.

PRINCIPLES OF OFFICER SAFETY AND SURVIVAL (VHS)
ALERT 1994 30 minutes AD
This program presents several aspects of officer safety and survival and includes demonstrations regarding what officers can do to protect themselves. Included are segments on knife attacks, mental preparation, the reactionary gap, hand position, knocking an attacker off-balance, and an explanation of the strong side versus the reaction side.

PRINCIPLES OF REPORT WRITING (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD
Aimed at correctional officers, this program explains why reports are important (i.e. to defend yourself against inmate grievances). A re-enactment of a fight between two inmates is included and a sample report on the incident is shown and discussed.
PRINCIPLES OF SUICIDE PREVENTION (VHS)

Lockup USA 1999 28 minutes AD

Corrections employees need to know that inmate suicide can be prevented if those people at risk can be identified. This video includes segments on (1) why inmates commit suicide, (2) intake screening, (3) warning signs at intake and in the living unit, (4) the role of alcohol and drugs, and (5) hanging points in a cell. A study guide is available.

PRISONER TRANSPORT (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2001 32 minutes AD

This program describes an incident that occurred during a routine prisoner transport in New Mexico. The transport assignment fell to a female officer from the sheriff’s department. She was an eight-year veteran of the agency and was transporting a prisoner to a different jail to finish the last two months of his sentence. The prisoner had no record of violence. During the transport, the prisoner freed himself from his restraining belt and killed the female officer with her own gun. The ending segment of the program discusses lessons learned from this tragic incident. A study guide is available.

PROACTIVE APPROACH TO AVOIDING LAWSUITS (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD

Under certain circumstances, jail officers and administrators may be liable for violating an inmate’s constitutional or civil rights. This program contains segments on (1) punitive damages, (2) deliberate indifference, (3) negligence, and (4) constitutional rights guaranteed to prisoners.

PROBATION (VHS)

Natl. Institute of Justice 1987 28 minutes AD

Probation is the most frequently imposed criminal punishment in the United States. This program features discussions with probation officers who are often overwhelmed by the size of their caseloads. Discussion focuses on the extent to which probation can "control" offenders in the community, who should be placed on probation, and what level of recidivism is acceptable. Intensive supervision programs are explained as well as the relative costs of probation compared to incarceration.

PROBATION AND PAROLE ASSESSMENT - SEARCH AND SEIZURE (VHS)

LETN 1993 80 minutes AD

This video contains these two segments: (1) Probation and Parole Assessment Interviews - Includes the purpose of probation and parole assessment interviews, the right way vs. the wrong way of interviewing, effective questioning, listening techniques, and offender resistance and verification - 25 minutes; (2) Search and Seizure - Contains information from a constitutional law expert on liability issues facing officers when they make arrests that involve search and seizure including investigative detention, search of person, search of vehicle and residence, exceptions to warrant requirements, custodial questioning, and the plain view doctrine - 55 minutes.
PROBLEM SOLVING FOR FIRST LINE SUPERVISORS (VHS)
AIMS 1991 20 minutes AD
Designed for use by correctional officers, this video contains twelve scenarios involving supervision of employees and inmates. There are no clear-cut solutions presented and the program may be stopped after each scenario for discussion. This video requires an instructor who can explain the agency's policy in each situation.

PROCEDURES ON SEARCH AND SEIZURE (VHS)
This program discusses procedural and legal issues regarding search and seizure including: 1) safe and effective methods of conducting patdown searches, 2) procedures for searching vehicles including hiding places for weapons, 3) court rulings regarding Miranda warnings, and 4) the chain of custody regarding handling of evidence.

PROFESSIONAL ETHICS IN LAW ENFORCEMENT (VHS)
ALERT 1998 41 minutes AD
This program contains lectures interspersed with in-car video segments. Examples of ethics and officer integrity are shown and the five basic ethical principles are discussed. This is a good video to use for in-service training. A study guide is available.

PROMOTING STAFF MORALE (VHS)
Lockup USA 2002 31 minutes AD
This program focuses on the importance of good staff morale in a corrections facility. Promoting staff morale is the job of every employee, starting from the top on down. Factors that go into promoting staff morale include (1) the example set by the administration, (2) proper and consistant enforcement of discipline, (3) smooth labor-management relations, (4) positive feedback from supervisors, and (5) open communications. A study guide is available.

PROPERTY CONTROL PROCEDURES (VHS)
Lockup USA 1995 33 minutes AD
Personal property belonging to inmates must be properly handled by a correctional institution to minimize liability claims. This video describes a good property control system and examines some of the mistakes which can occur. Included are segments on security concerns and money control procedures. Study guide available.

PURSUIT AND DEFENSIVE DRIVING (VHS)
ALERT 1995 25 minutes AD
One of every three police pursuits ends in a collision. This program discusses the basic components of police pursuits including steering, accelerating, and braking. Included in this video are the responsibilities of the pursuing officer and four important questions to ask oneself. A study guide is available.
PURSUIT DRIVING: PROCEDURES AND LIABILITIES (VHS)
L.E. NET 1990 30 minutes AD
An officer can be called upon at any moment to utilize his or her driving skills in a life threatening situation. This video opens with footage of an actual high-speed pursuit. Although the end result was positive (the suspects were boxed in and forced to stop), there were procedures that were executed improperly. The program also interviews driving experts at a training facility where police officers are taught pursuit and defensive driving techniques. The video concludes with discussion of a recent Supreme Court decision regarding potential liability for police departments in high-speed chase situations.

PURSUIT NABS NAKED COWBOY (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 30 minutes AD
This program contains in-car video of a police pursuit in Idaho. The armed suspect was finally stopped with a spike strip. Dogs were used to subdue him after the stop was made. A discussion on lessons learned is included. A study guide is available.

PURSUIT/DEFENSIVE DRIVING TECHNIQUES (VHS)
L.E. NET 1987 30 minutes AD
This program discusses potential liability in pursuit driving situations and factors that determine whether to continue or break off a pursuit. Expert driving instructors demonstrate the mental and physical aspects of driving including steering, braking, cornering, backing, and pursuit.

RACIAL PROFILING (THE DO'S AND DON'TS) (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 20 minutes AD
Racial profiling has become one of the major issues facing law enforcement officers. Lawsuits have been filed by members of minority groups who feel they have been singled out for police stops and/or detention based solely on their race.

This video makes the point that racial profiling is wrong and can impact officer safety and public trust in law enforcement. Included in the program are sections on (1) a definition of racial profiling, (2) how to avoid accusations of racial profiling - i.e. the officer must have a reasonable suspicion of a violation of law and must be able to explain why a stop was made, (3) officer demeanor, (4) importance of training, and (5) liability and officer safety issues. A study guide is available.

RACIAL PROFILING AND LAW ENFORCEMENT (VHS)
Films for the Humanities 2000 40 minutes AD
This video contains an ABC News Nightline program hosted by Ted Koppel. Victims of racial profiling are interviewed as well as police officers and the perspectives of both are discussed. The point is made that "profiling" is legal but "racial profiling" is not. This is a good program for viewing by law enforcement or the general public.
RADAR: A BASIC UNDERSTANDING (VHS)
IPTM 1998 33 minutes AD
This video provides introductory information regarding radar operation. Included are segments on (1) how radar works, (2) wavelength and frequency, (3) the Doppler principle, (4) factors that affect radar's accuracy, (5) taking radar readings, (6) the cosine effect, and (7) reflective capability.

RAPE PREVENTION: TRUST YOUR INSTINCTS (VHS)
MTI 1989 20 minutes SH AD
This program helps women lessen the possibility of a sexual assault by training them to trust and act upon feelings of imminent danger. It teaches women to be aware of their surroundings and project the kind of non-verbal assertiveness which makes them an unattractive mark. The video promotes a non-violent approach to rape prevention by using lectures and dramatic vignettes.

RAPID RESPONSE TO THE ACTIVE SHOOTER (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2000 50 minutes AD
An active shooter is defined as someone who participates in a shooting spree which involves ongoing injury or loss of life. Specifics of the rapid response by law enforcement vary and are determined to a large degree by the amount of manpower available. This video looks at the tactics of a large and small department. The video contains segments on (1) arrival, (2) incident command, (3) contact teams, (4) search and rescue, and (5) removing victims from an active shooting scene. A study guide is available.

REALISTIC FIREARMS TRAINING: SHOOTING SIMULATORS (VHS)
ALERT 2000 20 minutes AD
This program demonstrates a shooting simulator (PRISM) with a video screen, moving targets, realistic crime scene, and a shoot-back function. The need for realistic firearms training is discussed, as well as potential liability problems which can arise from inadequate training.

REASONABLE EFFORTS TRAINING, PART 1-2 (VHS)
Council of Juvenile Judges 1991 98 minutes AD
The Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act requires judges to determine if "reasonable efforts" are made to allow children to remain with their families instead of being placed in foster care. This video educates judges, social service personnel, and attorneys on how to use the federal law to help children and families. This program includes the following segments: Bonding and Attachment - 24 minutes; Separation and Loss: The Stages of Grief - 18 minutes; Kids Talking - 4 minutes; An Author's Perspective - 12 minutes; Family Preservation Values - 17 minutes; Advocacy and Reasonable Efforts: A Judge's View - 18 minutes; and In-Home Alternatives - 5 minutes.
Council of Juvenile Judges 1991 104 minutes AD
The Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act requires judges to determine if "reasonable efforts" are made to allow children to remain with their families instead of being placed in foster care. This video educates judges, social service personnel, and attorneys on how to use the federal law to help children and families. This program includes the following segments: Model Family Preservation Program - 35 minutes; Service Needs of Drug-Exposed Mothers and Infants - 18 minutes; Families First: A Michigan Example - 10 minutes; Role of the Court in Dependency Proceedings - 10 minutes; A Judge's Response and View of Service Issues - 10 minutes; Why Reasonable Efforts are Important - 10 minutes; Adoption - 5 minutes; and Legal Representation for Parents - 6 minutes.

Council of Juvenile Judges 1991 104 minutes AD
The Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act requires judges to determine if "reasonable efforts" are made to allow children to remain with their families instead of being placed in foster care. This video educates judges, social service personnel, and attorneys on how to use the federal law to help children and families. This program includes the following segments: The Need for Judicial Review - 38 minutes; Judges Discuss Reasonable Efforts - 14 minutes; An Interdisciplinary Discussion of Reasonable Efforts - 7 minutes; Agency Administrators Discuss Reasonable Efforts - 15 minutes; Shelter Care Hearing - 19 minutes; and Dispositional Hearing - 11 minutes.

Council of Juvenile Judges 1991 37 minutes AD
The Adoption Assistance and Child Welfare Act requires judges to determine if "reasonable efforts" are made to allow children to remain with their families instead of being placed in foster care. This video educates judges, social service personnel, and attorneys on how to use the federal law to help children and families. This program includes the following segments: Court Appointed Special Advocates - 10 minutes; More Ways to Pay for More "Reasonable Efforts" - 23 minutes; and Model Court Initiatives - 4 minutes.

RECOGNIZING DRUG ABUSE (VHS)
AIMS 1986 21 minutes AD
This video describes the symptoms and behaviors associated with drugs commonly found inside a correctional facility: cannabis, LSD, alcohol, barbiturates, amphetamines, cocaine, and heroin. Clear descriptions and visual examples are great aids to officers in the detection of drug use. Drug use often brings on unpredictable behavior that can become hostile and aggressive. Therefore, it is important that before searching a cell or confronting an inmate suspected of being on drugs, an officer call for back-up. The video covers generalized signs of drug use such as unusual behavior and a flushed face from the increased body temperature. Injection locations that hide heroin use are described, and the indicators of overdose are shown.
RECOGNIZING PSYCHOLOGICAL DISTURBANCES (VHS)
Lockup USA 1994 30 minutes AD
This video demonstrates to correctional officers the benefits in identifying inmates with psychological problems during the initial intake process. It also describes symptoms of common psychological problems which may develop during incarceration. Included are segments on types of psychological disturbances, psychotic behavior, intake screening, and the role of the line officer. A study guide is available.

REDUCING THE ODDS: PERSONAL SAFETY (VHS)
Crime Prevention Resources 1995 13 minutes SH AD
This program demonstrates how citizens may reduce the chances of being a crime victim. Scenarios include armed robbery, workplace and home safety, car jacking, and shopping. This is a good video to show to citizen or neighborhood groups.

REFUSAL SKILLS FOR HEALTHY LIVING (VHS)
Syndistar 1996 10 minutes JH SH
Designed for teenagers, this program presents several scenarios and shows techniques for saying no. Included are segments on beer, drugs, skipping class, spraying graffiti, and guns.

RELATING TO THE HISPANIC INMATE (VHS)
Lockup USA 1993 30 minutes AD
This video is designed to give correctional officers an overview of the special requirements of supervising and managing Hispanic inmates. It contains a short history of the Spanish culture and segments on relating to the Hispanic prisoner including: language barriers, racial slurs, family disrespect, disrespect for the country of origin, avoiding raised voices, and speaking Spanish only at appropriate times. A study guide is available.

RELATING TO THE MINORITY INMATE, PART 1 (VHS)
Lockup USA 1992 30 minutes AD
Jails and prisons are filled with inmates from different backgrounds, cultures, and races. Correctional officers must accept these differences and not show prejudice towards any one group. This video discusses (1) cultural differences, (2) stereotypes, (3) dealing with people as individuals, (4) communication, (5) offensive behavior or remarks, and (6) minority inmates who ask for special favors from officers of the same race. A study guide is available.

RELEASE INMATES (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD
This video is designed for correctional officers and explains the necessary steps for releasing inmates including (1) verifying a release order and the identity of the inmate, (2) returning property to an inmate, (3) the procedure for releasing an inmate to another authority, (4) the importance of good record keeping, and (5) how a release officer can help an inmate get off to a good start outside the institution. A study guide is available.
REPORT WRITING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2000 31 minutes AD
Report writing is an essential piece of police work and plays a key role in successfully prosecuting a criminal in court. The finished report is an indication of the professionalism of the officer writing it. This video is designed to improve descriptive writing skills. It contains a number of report writing scenarios. The program is designed to be paused after each scenario for writing and/or classroom discussion.

The video has sections on (1) writing the report, (2) report structure, (3) gathering information, and (4) things to avoid. A short segment at the end of the video discusses the dangers of exposure to liquified cocaine. A study guide is available.

REPORT WRITING 1: THE BASICS (VHS)
ALERT 1999 33 minutes AD
Police reports can be critical when a case comes to trial. This video demonstrates and explains the basic elements and objectives of good report writing including (1) good grammar, (2) truthfulness, and (3) completeness. The tape also contains segments on evidence reports and legal aspects of report writing. A study guide is available.

REPORT WRITING SKILLS (VHS)
L.E. NET 1990 30 minutes AD
This program stresses the importance of a well-written police report and explains the consequences of a poorly written or incorrect report (i.e. hampers the prosecution of the case). A demonstration of report writing is shown as a report is written on a domestic violence incident. Also, reporting use of force is discussed, including common mistakes and key elements to include.

RESPONDING TO DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, PART 1 (VHS)
ALERT 1997 34 minutes AD
Domestic violence calls can be some of the most dangerous and difficult assignments for law enforcement officers. By the use of various scenarios, this video demonstrates the proper techniques when responding to these calls. Topics discussed include (a) the types of domestic violence, (b) the cycle of violence, and (c) officer’s liability. A study guide is available.

RESPONDING TO DOMESTIC VIOLENCE, PART 2 (VHS)
ALERT 1997 32 minutes AD
This video discusses police responsibility in four domestic violence situations: child abuse, death threats, stalking, and elderly abuse. There is also a segment on police liability in domestic violence calls. A study guide is available.
RESPONDING TO HATE CRIMES (VHS)
Bureau of Justice Assistance 2000 20 minutes AD
This comprehensive video contains the following short segments; (1) definition of a hate crime, (2) hate crime indicators, (3) legal issues, (4) law enforcement response to a hate crime, (5) interviewing witnesses and collecting evidence, (6) dealing with trauma, and (7) community impact. This is an excellent program for new officers or refresher training for experienced officers.

RESPONDING TO SCHOOL VIOLENCE, PART 1 (VHS)
ALERT 1999 39 minutes AD
Between 1992 and 1999, 230 persons died in U.S. schools either through shootings or stabbings. This video discusses causes of potential violence by students and explains how to identify and respond to warning signs. The role of an in-school resource officer is also discussed, as well as potential liability issues when searching lockers and students. A study guide is available.

RESPONDING TO SCHOOL VIOLENCE, PART 2: CRISIS RESPONSE AND ACTION (VHS)
ALERT 1999 39 minutes AD
This program contains interviews with teachers, police officers, a school principal, and a guidance counselor. Included are segments on (1) effective prevention and intervention techniques for school violence, (2) getting help for troubled children, (3) early intervention components, and (4) comprehensive approaches that work. A study guide is available.

RESPONSE IN PROGRESS: THE THREAT TO OFFICER SURVIVAL (VHS)
MTI 1988 19 minutes AD
This video dramatizes a response to a burglary in progress and shows the correct and incorrect methods of handling the situation. Coping mechanisms to deal with stress are explained and officers are taught how to coordinate communication, increase awareness of personal safety, and plan contingency actions.

RESPONSE TO HATE CRIMES (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 32 minutes AD
Hate crimes are on the increase in America. It is important that law enforcement officers recognize hate crimes when they see them and know how to investigate, and when possible, stop them from happening. The segments in this video include: (1) hate crime definition, (2) hate groups, (3) hate and young people, (4) investigating hate crimes, and (5) hate crime prevention. A study guide is available. This is a good program for in-service training.
RIGHT FROM THE START (VHS)
Kinetic Inc. 1995 23 minutes SH AD
This video is aimed at corrections personnel and is concerned with intervention in a crisis situation. A crisis is defined as anything that disrupts the daily operation of jail routine. Causes of potential problems are examined (i.e. conflict between prisoners, family problems, prison environment) through dramatic vignettes. The importance of correctional officers remaining emotionally detached is emphasized, as well as developing good observation skills and documenting prisoner behavior. A study guide is available.

RIGHTS VS. PRIVILEGES (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1992 10 minutes AD
Courts’ attitudes towards inmate rights have changed considerably during the last twenty years. This video contains segments on (1) the difference between inmate rights and privileges, (2) why privileges are granted and under what situations they may be withdrawn, (3) under what circumstances a jail may restrict an inmates’ rights, and (4) minimum requirements for a due process hearing.

RITUAL CRIME: GUIDELINES FOR IDENTIFICATION (VHS)
AIMS 1988 18 minutes AD
Some crimes that appear routine may have clues that link them to ritualized cult activity. Law enforcement officers need to be able to identify these clues. This video reveals the facts and the secrets behind ritual crime and shows many of the indicators. Officers are shown how to accurately gather information and document evidence. A rapidly growing category of ritual crime is systematic child abuse, often in child care situations as well as in cult families. Parents of molested children discuss ritual abuse. Also, a former member of a satanic cult family discusses child abuse and the use of animal and human sacrifices by satanists. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

ROBBERY IN PROGRESS: AN ANALYSIS OF OFFICERS KILLED (VHS)
AIMS 1992 14 minutes AD
Armed robbery calls are the most dangerous calls to which an officer can respond. This program is the result of a ten-year study on how and why officers were killed while handling an armed robbery. Actual cases are dramatized to show how officers were killed and to illustrate the dangers that may be present. This is an excellent video for in-service training.

ROLE OF THE FIELD TRAINING OFFICER: DEVELOPING ETHICAL STANDARDS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1999 25 minutes AD
It is critical for the field training officer to teach ethics to new correctional officers. This aspect of training is just as important as policy and procedures training. This program demonstrates some examples of unethical behavior and describes the pitfalls that may await a correctional employee (e.g. fraternizing with an inmate, inmate con games). A study guide is available upon request.
ROLE OF THE SUPERVISOR (VHS)
Lockup USA 1993 26 minutes AD
Making the transition from line officer to correctional supervisor can be challenging. It requires good communication and people skills. This program explores those issues. Included are segments on pitfalls to avoid, characteristics of a good supervisor, preparation and planning for daily routines, people problems, reprimands, and positive feedback. This video provides useful information for new or experienced supervisors. A study guide is available.

ROLE OF THE TRAINING OFFICER (VHS)
Lockup USA 2000 24 minutes AD
This video discusses the role of the correctional training officer and his or her responsibilities. Included are segments on (1) the training officer as a leader, (2) teaching styles, (3) dealing with mandates, (4) the training budget, (5) evaluating student performance, and (6) documentation. A study guide is available.

ROLL CALL REVIEWS - NUMBER 18-33
In the Line of Duty 2004 0 minutes AD
This DVD contains 16 short (5-10 minutes) segments that are excellent for roll-call training. The segments are: verbal judo, report writing, building searches, dealing with rape victims, gangs, foot pursuits, body language, felony stop techniques, felony response, tinted window stops, pursuit intervention techniques, proper handcuffing techniques, standing modified search, bad guys get over on cops, choosing a vest, and buying holsters.

RUNAWAYS (VHS)
This video presents two runaway scenarios (16-year-old girl, 15-year-old boy) and demonstrates key points of the police investigations. The information presented can be useful in basic or in-service training sessions.
RUNNING AWAY: A DEAD END (VHS)
Syndistar 1988 15 minutes JH SH
More than one million kids run away from home each year, an experience that often results in drugs, crime, or prostitution. The purpose of this video is to present a graphic and realistic picture based on true accounts of runaway teenagers who are forced to live on the streets. Young people who watch the program will get a vivid impression of the disastrous consequences of running away. They will also learn about alternative choices when faced with a home situation that may lead to running away.

SAFE STOPS IN TRAFFIC/PASSENGER SIDE APPROACH (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1999 30 minutes AD
This program contains police in-car video of a traffic stop which almost proved deadly when a passing car struck the police officer’s vehicle. The program contains discussion on the advantages of approaching a stopped car from the passenger side and demonstrates the correct procedure. A study guide is available.

SAFEWAY STORE HOSTAGE (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 32 minutes AD
This program documents a situation in a Seattle suburb where a disturbed woman used a knife to hold a grocery store employee as her hostage. The woman seemed intent on forcing a "suicide by police" and refused to negotiate. The police were able to resolve the incident without harming the hostage-taker by using pepper spray. In an epilog, the video discusses the strategy used by the police. A study guide is available.

SAN DIEGO TANK (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1996 26 minutes AD
This video presents an incident involving a runaway tank stolen from a National Guard Armory by an intoxicated ex-military employee. The ensuing twenty-minute chase presented exceptional challenges for the San Diego Police before the incident was resolved. At the end of this video is a four-minute segment on a high-speed chase which led to multiple officer deaths in Detroit. A study guide is available.

SAN FRANCISCO FIRE FIGHT (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 47 minutes AD
This video documents an incident in San Francisco involving a sniper dressed in full body armor armed with assault rifles, pistols, and 1,000 rounds of ammunition. He also carried a police scanner. More than 100 police officers responded. In the ensuing fire fight, at least 250 rounds were exchanged before the sniper was killed. One police officer was killed. This program presents lessons learned from the incident, questions, and discussion points. A study guide is available.
SAN FRANCISCO P.D. CRUISER (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 36 minutes AD
This video looks at a tragic collision of two San Francisco Police Department cruisers while the officers were responding to an emergency call. One officer died and another suffered serious injuries. The issues involved in the accident are discussed, including: washout, rebounding lights, inexperience, and tunnel vision. A short segment at the end of the program also discusses the San Francisco Police Department’s EVOC program. A study guide is available.

SATANISM AND OTHER CULTS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1993 44 minutes AD
This program is designed to familiarize corrections officers with the various aspects of cult and occult groups including how to identify and handle these groups in the correctional facility. The video contains segments on satanism, identifying satanists (four main symbols), cult killings in Ohio, and religious freedom for cult and occult groups. A study guide is available.

SAYING NO TO DRINKING DRIVERS (VHS)
AIMS 1992 23 minutes JH SH AD
This program, aimed at teenagers, recreates a party where alcohol is served and gives advice on preventing an intoxicated person from driving. Interspersed with the party scenes is a group discussion with teens offering suggestions on how to handle the situation. This is an excellent video for school resource officers to show to junior or senior high school students.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE
LAW ENFORCEMENT RESEARCH CENTER 2005 114 minutes AD
These two DVDs contain six segments on search and seizure issues for law enforcement personnel. The instructor is John Tierny, and the format includes lectures with scenarios. DVD One contains Probable Cause (22 minutes) and Stop and Frisk (22 minutes). DVD Two contains Warrantless Searches, Searches Incident to Arrest, Searches of the Home, and Automobile Searches. DVD Two is 70 minutes. These are excellent programs for basic or refresher training.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE, PART 9: SEARCHES WITHOUT WARRANT (VHS)
Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1988 27 minutes AD
Includes searches of: open fields, public premises, private premises, voluntary surrender of property, abandoned property, and activity by a private person.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE, VOLUME 1: PROBABLE CAUSE (VHS)
Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1993 20 minutes AD
This program can be used by law enforcement agencies for new recruits or as in-service training. Volume one explains the exclusionary rule of evidence and probable cause, including the impact of Supreme Court decisions. The video uses search and seizure scenarios to demonstrate key points of law. An instructor’s guide is available.
SEARCH AND SEIZURE, VOLUME 2: STOP AND FRISK (VHS)
Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1993 20 minutes AD
This program can be used by law enforcement agencies for new recruits or as in-service training. Volume two discusses what constitutes a reasonable stop as determined by recent Supreme Court decisions and the rules of stop and frisk as they relate to matters of personal safety. Search and seizure scenarios are included to demonstrate key points. An instructor’s guide is available.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE, VOLUME 3: WARRANTLESS SEARCHES AND SEARCHES INCIDENTAL TO AN ARREST (VHS)
Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1993 25 minutes AD
This video can be used by law enforcement agencies for new recruits or as in-service training. Volume three includes: (1) the general guidelines that apply for obtaining and serving a search warrant, (2) areas excluded from the requirements of needing a search warrant, (3) the concept of curtilage, (4) how to apply the concept of consent during searches without a warrant, (5) questions that arise regarding whether or not consent can be given, and (6) the Chimel doctrine. Search and seizure scenarios are used to demonstrate learning objectives. An instructor’s guide is included.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE, VOLUME 4: SEARCHES OF THE HOME AND AUTOMOBILE (VHS)
Law Enf. Resource Ctr. 1993 20 minutes AD
This program can be utilized for new recruits or in-service training. Volume four includes: (1) the Supreme Court decision on the case of Payton vs. New York, (2) general rules to be followed under emergency or exigent situations in the home, (3) the rules which apply when the suspect’s home is also the crime scene, (4) the Carroll doctrine as it relates to probable cause, (5) the rules regarding the search and seizure of containers inside a motor vehicle, and (6) the impound and inventory theory of motor vehicle searches. The video uses search and seizure scenarios to demonstrate key points of law. An instructor’s guide is available.

SEARCH AND SEIZURE: TECHNIQUES AND LIABILITIES (VHS)
L.E. NET 1989 30 minutes AD
A law enforcement officer is in potential danger during any kind of detainment or arrest situation when he or she must conduct a search of a subject or vehicle. This program demonstrates the proper ways to conduct vehicle and pat-down searches and explains the situations where an officer has a legal right to conduct a search. Also included in the video are search techniques for weapons in vehicles and discussion of a recent Supreme Court decision regarding house searches.

212
SEARCHES OF PERSONS, PART 1: TACTICAL PAT DOWN AND FRISK SEARCHES (VHS)

ALERT 1999 28 minutes AD

Using demonstrations and discussion this video teaches (1) when and if a frisk search is permitted, (2) how to safely approach a person and request a frisk search, (3) how to safely search a person in the field - using a vehicle and using a wall, (4) alternate search methods, and (5) how to minimize exposure to legal and liability risks. A study guide is available on request.

SEARCHES OF PERSONS, PART 2: SEARCH INCIDENT TO ARREST AND GENDER SPECIFIC PROBLEMS (VHS)

ALERT 1999 30 minutes AD

Using demonstrations and lectures, this program shows how to safely search persons in the field and describes what constitutes an arrest. Included is a demonstration of a search of a female suspect by a male officer. The video also explains the concept of a search incident to arrest and demonstrates how it is applied to various situations. A study guide is available.

SEARCHES OF PERSONS: PERSONAL METAL DETECTORS (VHS)

ALERT 2002 15 minutes AD

This video demonstrates the use of a handheld metal detector. The point is made that the metal detector is not a replacement for frisk searching, but, if used properly, it can greatly enhance the search and increase the safety of the officer making the search. A study guide is available with this video.

SECURITY ISSUES FOR NON-SECURITY STAFF (VHS)

Lockup USA 1995 32 minutes AD

Non-security staff in a correctional facility include maintenance, food service, office, and medical workers. Each of these employees needs to be aware of security issues that affect the safety of the facility. This video illustrates and explains common security problems that affect all staff.

SELECTING AND SUPERVISING INMATE WORKERS (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1991 10 minutes AD

"Trustee" is not usually an accurate title for inmate workers, since all inmates need close supervision. This program is aimed towards correctional employees and includes (1) guidelines for assigning tasks to inmate workers, (2) how to select the best qualified workers, and (3) rules for supervising inmate workers.

SELECTION AND SUPERVISION OF INMATE WORKERS (VHS)

Lockup USA 1998 27 minutes AD

In most correctional facilities inmate labor is an essential part of the operation and maintenance of the institution. This program describes a selection process designed to select the best inmate workers as well as the correct methods for supervising inmates. A study guide is included.

This is a good program with a strong anti-shoplifting message and is aimed at junior high and high school students.
SHREVEPORT CELL PHONE SHOOTING
In the Line of Duty 2006 32 minutes AD
This program examines a police in-car video of an incident that occurred after a traffic stop in Shreveport, Louisiana. After a long pursuit, the subject (a young black male) pulled into a parking lot and exited his car. He ignored several police commands to stop and kept walking away. He turned towards the officers two times and pointed a metallic object at them, which looked like a gun.

He was shot eight times by the officers and died. The entire incident took less than ten seconds. The officers involved in the shooting were found not guilty by a police review board and the Department of Justice. There was a public outcry about the incident and litigation is pending against the police department. The police video is shown several times and an entire segment is devoted to lessons learned from this incident.

A short segment at the end of this program discusses an incident where a police officer used a taser on a hysterical woman who refused to exit her vehicle after a traffic stop.

SIGNS OF AN IMPENDING DISTURBANCE (VHS)
Lockup USA 1997 28 minutes AD
This video is designed to give correctional officers some indicators that may show a disturbance is being planned or is about to occur in a correctional facility. Warning signs from the inmates and the staff are demonstrated and discussed. Preventative measures that can lessen the chances of a disturbance are also explained. A study guide is available.

SOUTH CAROLINA DRUG BUST (VHS)

This program looks at what was supposed to be a routine drug buy-bust in South Carolina. The buy-bust was set up in the parking lot of a convenience store, where a confidential informant was set to make the buy. The incident was videotaped by a surveillance van. The bust went bad when the subject attempted to escape the take-down team by plowing through team members with his car. Officers had to use lethal force. A review of the incident includes interviews with the officers involved and the lessons they learned.

A short segment at the end of this video features a review of certain tricks reporters may use when conducting interviews. This may be useful for officers who are involved in a situation that involves media coverage. A study guide is available.

SPECIALIZED TRAINING ON PREVENTING DOMESTIC VIOLENCE (VHS)

This program, designed for law enforcement officers, discusses and demonstrates the following topics: (1) types of knives, including butterfly knives, survival knives, military knives, and specialty knives; (2) reaction time and when deadly force may be necessary; (3) knife grips; (4) knife stances; (5) knife strokes; and (6) defensive tactics.

RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.
ST. PETERSBURG RIOTS/CROWD CONTROL (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 43 minutes AD
This video begins with a ten-minute segment on proper use of handcuffs and describes an incident where a suspect escaped from handcuffs and killed three officers. The remainder of the program discusses riots in St. Petersburg, Florida which began when a police officer shot and killed a suspect during a traffic stop. The mistakes made by the local police department in handling the riot situation are discussed as well as the lessons learned. A study guide is available.

STAFF COMMUNICATIONS/RELATIONS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1994 30 minutes AD
This program examines the importance of good communications and relationships between correctional officers, supervisors, and administration. Included are segments on where and how to communicate, the effects of mis-communications, staff relations, and union/management relations. A study guide is available.

STAFF SECURE PROGRAMS (VHS)
NE Crime Commission 1997 13 minutes AD
This video, produced by the Crime Commission, explains how law enforcement officials can temporarily detain juveniles in compliance with state and federal laws. The staff secure facilities in Nebraska are identified and a scenario is included which shows the arrest of two runaway teens charged with violation of the minor in possession of alcohol statute. This video is available for loan at no cost to any criminal justice agency.

STAFF TEAMWORK IN CORRECTIONS (VHS)
Lockup USA 1996 25 minutes AD
As more and more inmates are sentenced to correctional facilities, teamwork is essential to operate a well organized and disciplined institution. This video defines and discusses the components of teamwork including respect, communication, and consistency. Also included is a segment on building a successful team. A study guide is available.

STAYING CALM UNDER PRESSURE: DISPATCHING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2000 29 minutes AD
Police dispatchers have a difficult and stressful job and it is crucial that they remain calm when dealing with the public and law enforcement officers. This video contains excerpts of actual dispatcher calls and uses these excerpts to demonstrate the elements of a successful call. Discussion points in this program include: being a good listener, having people skills, scenarios which can cause dispatchers and officers to have difficulties communicating, the ability to keep your focus as a dispatcher while doing several duties at the same time, the importance of "debriefing" after a major incident, and the need to unwind at the end of a shift. A study guide is available.
STOP BUSINESS CRIME: EMPLOYEE SHOPLIFTING (VHS)
Small Business Advancement Inst. 1991 28 minutes AD
This video, designed for crime prevention programs and businesses, contains several shoplifting scenarios and practical solutions. Included are segments on individual and team shoplifters, five common methods of employee theft, refund theft, detainment, powers of arrest, and right to search. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

STOP BUSINESS CRIME: SHOPLIFTING (VHS)
Small Business Advancement Inst. 1991 15 minutes AD
This video, designed for crime prevention programs and businesses, contains several shoplifting scenarios and practical solutions. Included are segments on convenience thieves, professional thieves, shoplifting teams, and refund theft. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

STRAIGHT AT YA (VHS)
U.S. Dept. of Education 1988 44 minutes EL JH
Kirk Cameron from "Growing Pains" is featured in this program. Cameron replaces the class monitor who has been assigned to show an outdated drug prevention film to a junior high class. Cameron leads the students in discussions that cover such topics as peer pressure, how to say no to drugs, and choosing a healthy life style. Classroom scenes are supplemented by animation. An excellent video for kids in grades 6 to 9.

STRAIGHT BATON TECHNIQUES (VHS)
ALERT 1996 30 minutes AD
This video demonstrates and explains basic straight baton techniques. Included are segments on stance, forward and reverse strike, horizontal strike, jabs, controlling techniques, and blocking techniques. As always, officers should check their department's use of force policy before viewing this video and should practice these techniques with a qualified instructor. A study guide is available.

STREET LEVEL DRUG ENFORCEMENT (VHS)
ALERT 1996 32 minutes AD
Gangs are moving into smaller towns and suburbs across America. This video, filmed in Kenosha County, Wisconsin and Florissant, Missouri contains segments on: (1) signs of gang and drug activity, (2) setting up a street level drug enforcement program including buy money, drug raids, and undercover techniques, and (3) potential liability of police officers. A study guide is available.

STREET LEVEL FITNESS (VHS)
ALERT 1997 30 minutes AD
Statistics show that law enforcement officers over the age of 35 tend not to be as fit as their civilian counterparts. This program includes segments on (1) the realities of the job, (2) six components of physical fitness, (3) exercises to increase fitness, (4) the Americans with Disabilities Act, and (5) what agencies can do to avoid costly liability. A study guide is available.
STREET OFFICER'S DO'S AND DON'TS FOR HANDLING ANTHRAX (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 15 minutes AD
This program contains basic information about anthrax including (1) definition, (2) anthrax exposure, (3) symptoms of exposure, (4) suspicious signs often found on envelopes and packages, and (5) decontamination procedures. A study guide is available.

STREET SAFE: HOW TO AVOID BECOMING A VICTIM (VHS)
Brentwood Home Video 1993 55 minutes AD
This program concentrates on crime avoidance - not self-defense. Included are demonstrations of the five stages of a crime, when and where a criminal will feel safe to attack you, who the criminal will choose as a victim, what the criminal is afraid of, and how it looks when you’re being set up for a crime. This is an excellent video to show to senior citizens or community groups.

STREET SIGNS (VHS)
With the emergence of gangs in smaller communities, it is important for law enforcement officers to be able to identify the meaning of graffiti and tattoos. In many cases, it could be a matter of survival. This video describes identifying characteristics and graffiti/tattoos of Chicago based gangs (folk and people nation), Los Angeles based gangs (crips, bloods), prison gangs, skinheads, and motorcycle gangs.

STREET TALK: POLICE CULTURAL CONTACTS (VHS)
LA Educational Media 1993 30 minutes AD
Police officers may unknowingly demonstrate cultural bias through their language and demeanor. This program demonstrates how police can communicate with different racial and ethnic groups. Included are segments on blacks, Hispanics, and Asian-Americans. The video also covers non-verbal communication and culturally "hot" words and offers specific advice regarding treatment of different cultures.

STREET WEAPONS (VHS)
L.E. NET 1990 30 minutes AD
This program discusses street weapons that may be encountered by a law enforcement officer: how they are used, how they are concealed, and what defenses can be used. Re-enactments of situations involving street weapons are included (i.e. sunglasses with knife blade, pen concealing ice pick, pager concealing mini-revolver). At the end of the video is a short segment on reloading weapons. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

STRESS MANAGEMENT (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD
This program, aimed at jail personnel, includes the three stages of response to a stressful situation, the five stages of burnout, and ways to manage stress. The video emphasizes that physical and mental exercises can be effective ways to reduce stress.
STRESS OF THE GUNFIGHT (VHS)
ALERT 1995 30 minutes AD
The most stressful event for a law enforcement officer is the shooting situation. This program explains how stress affects an officer and techniques for relieving it. Several officers are interviewed and provide recreations of actual shooting situations. This is a good video for in-service training.

STRESS TRAUMA (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 50 minutes AD
This program was produced to help police officers deal with the various kinds of stress which are common to law enforcement. Few officers are immune to stress, and it affects people in many ways. Segments include: (1) stress and stressors, (2) symptoms of stress, (3) intervention, and (4) dealing with stress. A segment at the end of the video looks at three incidents where officers had to deal with significant stress. This is an excellent video for in-service training. A study guide is available.

STRIP SEARCH (VHS)
Fed. Law Enf. Trng. Ctr. 1991 9 minutes AD
This video demonstrates male and female strip searches and discusses proper techniques to ensure thoroughness and professionalism. This program is ideal for basic or in-service training.

STRIP SEARCH TRAINING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2004 34 minutes AD
The most distasteful task for most officers is a strip/body cavity search. However, it is also a critical, life-saving procedure. Every conceivable weapon or drug can be hidden by a determined suspect. Each agency has its own guidelines concerning these types of searches, so this program focuses on basic rules and procedures that apply in all cases. A short segment at the end of the video discusses the procedural changes made by the Santa Rosa (CA) Police Department when the annual Cinco De Mayo celebration erupted into gang violence. An instructor’s guide is available.

SUBJECT CONTROL AND COMPLIANCE, PART 1 (VHS)
ALERT 1998 27 minutes AD
This video contains demonstrations of levels of control when using physical force to subdue a subject. Included are segments on the force continuum, levels of resistance, the reactionary gap, relative positioning, and liability concerns. Officers should check their department’s use of force policy before viewing this video and should practice these techniques with a qualified instructor. A study guide is available.
SUBJECT CONTROL AND COMPLIANCE, PART 2: GROUND CONTROL AND DEFENSE (VHS)

ALERT 1998 25 minutes AD

Most fights with suspects end up with the officer and the suspect on the ground. This program demonstrates a series of ground and standing defense techniques to gain control and compliance of the subjects. The possibility of officer liability when using force is also discussed. Officers should check their department’s use of force policy before viewing this video and should practice these techniques with a qualified instructor. A study guide is available.

SUBJECT CONTROL AND COMPLIANCE, PART 3: LATERAL VASCULAR NECK RESTRAINT (VHS)

ALERT 1999 36 minutes AD

This program demonstrates five basic choke holds or neck restraints used by law enforcement agencies today and recommends the use of the lateral vascular neck restraint (LVNR). The LVNR was developed by a member of the Kansas City, Missouri Police Department. Kansas City continues to use LVNR as a method to control uncooperative suspects. Please note that this video only serves as an introduction to the LVNR and individual training by a certified instructor is essential before the LVNR technique should be used. A study guide is available.

SUBJECT CONTROL: THE SWARM METHOD (VHS)

ALERT 2002 21 minutes AD

This program examines the in-custody care of subjects by police officers. Included are segments on (1) controlling and restraining the subject, (2) the safety of the subject and the officer, (3) causes for concern, (4) contributing factors of in-custody deaths, (5) troublesome positions, (6) transporting subjects, (7) the swarm method of subduing a suspect, and (8) liability concerns. A study guide is available.

SUBSTANCE ABUSE: A SERIOUS THREAT TO THE COMMUNITY (VHS)

Aimed at parents, this video presents twelve warning signs of a teenager's drug or alcohol dependence (i.e. dramatic drop in grades at school, a major change in friends, all you ever talk about is discipline, a change in temperament). One signal by itself may be meaningless, but several are worth noticing and checking out.
SUDDEN IMPACT (VHS)

NBC News 2003 44 minutes AD

This is an NBC Dateline program on drinking and driving. It documents a drunk driving accident in Boston in 2001. The drunk driver (with a BAC of .23) crashed into another car, resulting in the death of one man and serious injuries to four women. Lily suffered the most severe injuries, including brain and face injury. She spent 18 days in the hospital and accumulated $200,000 in medical bills. Two of the other injured had hospital bills of $15,000 and $64,000.

This program details the emotional, physical, and financial damage that occurred to Lily and discusses the enforcement of DWI laws and how to change drunk driver's habits. Interviews with Lily and her family are interspersed throughout the program. It took 19 months before the case of the drunk driver came to trial. He was found guilty. This is a good video to show to community groups and it does an excellent job of showing the incredible damage that one drunk driver can inflict on others.

SUDDEN IMPACT: AFTER THE CRASH

Human Relations Media & NBC News 2004 43 minutes AD

This video details the true story of a Boston woman and four friends involved in a car wreck caused by a drunk driver. When it was over, one was dead and the other five, including the drunk driver, were injured. Brokaw’s questions, along with the video and teacher’s guide, explore how seemingly innocuous personal decisions and actions can ripple out to affect many lives in horrifying ways.

This video will promote thought and dialogue among students, helping them learn ways to reduce potentially life-threatening situations involving alcohol and driving.

SUDDEN IN-CUSTODY DEATHS (VHS)

ALERT 2000 19 minutes AD

This video examines the problem of in-custody deaths and contains short segments on (1) contributing factors which may lead to in-custody deaths, (2) the safe course of action once a suspect is in custody, (3) possible restraining methods, (4) how to safely transport individuals in patrol cars, and (5) liability concerns. A study guide is available.

SUICIDE AND THE POLICE OFFICER

FILMS FOR THE HUMANITIES 2004 39 minutes AD

This program, produced by the New York City Police Foundation, tells the stories of three different police officers who struggled with thoughts of suicide. Each had a different result. The underlying problems that can lead to suicide are examined, including alcohol or drug abuse, relationship problems, and difficulties in dealing with violence. This video provides a forum for understanding and perhaps lessening the pressures that lead to suicide. It is useful for basic or in-service training needs.
SUICIDE BY COP/PRISIM FIREARMS TRAINING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1999 42 minutes AD
This video examines an incident in Virginia. After a car chase, a police suspect stopped his car, got out, and pointed a gun at the police officers. The officers fired and killed him. The entire incident was taped on the in-car video system. Interviews with the officers involved in the incident confirm that this was an example of "Suicide By Cop." A short segment at the end of this video looks at the Prisim simulated firearms training system. A study guide is available.

SUICIDE IN JUVENILE JUSTICE FACILITIES (VHS)
American Correctional Assoc. 1990 32 minutes AD
This video examines typical suicide methods, intervention techniques, and signs and symbols of suicide. It also discusses admissions procedures, since many signs of suicidal behavior are identified at this time. This is a good program for basic or in-service training.

SUICIDE JUMPERS/BABY DROPPED ON HIGHWAY
In the Line of Duty 2005 47 minutes AD
This program uses in-car police video to document three dramatic episodes. In Kansas, a traffic stop on a bridge turns dangerous when the woman who was stopped tries to jump off the bridge. The officer was alert enough to grab the woman by her shirt as she was going over the side of the bridge. He managed to hold her long enough so that her fall was not fatal.

In Wisconsin, a suicidal female driver stops on a bridge, starts to jump over the side but is saved by a police officer who catches her by the feet as she starts to fall. The final incident, also in Wisconsin, involves a man who abducts a baby and is pursued by a police officer. Eventually, the man slows down and drops the baby (in a baby seat) onto the highway. The baby is saved with no injuries. The pursuit ends when the driver crashes into a parked car. The lessons learned from these incidents are discussed. A short segment at the end of the program shows the use of a taser on a violent prisoner under the influence of drugs. He was subdued with no injuries.

SUPREME COURT UPDATE 2000 (VHS)
ALERT 2000 21 minutes AD
This program discusses three recent U.S. Supreme Court decisions that affect law enforcement procedures. The three cases are (1) Illinois vs. Wardlow (a subject runs at the mere sight of a police officer), (2) Florida vs. JL (anonymous tips), and (3) Bond vs. United States (searches). A study guide is available.

SURVIVAL SHOOTING, PART 1: TRIGGER MANIPULATION (VHS)
ALERT 2002 14 minutes AD
This video features demonstrations by two firearm instructors on handgun trigger manipulation. The three techniques that are shown are (1) the out and in, (2) the flip and press, and (3) follow through. A study guide is available.
SURVIVAL SHOOTING, PART 2: LOCK-UP, STANCE, AND GRIP (VHS)

ALERT 2002 20 minutes AD

In the second part of a three part firearm training series, this program includes demonstrations of specific elements of survival shooting. The techniques are demonstrated by two instructors from the Palm Beach, Florida Sheriff’s Office. A study guide is available.

SURVIVAL SHOOTING, PART 3: REAL REACTION TIME (VHS)

ALERT 2002 13 minutes AD

This video explains the principles of real reaction time as it pertains to survival shooting skills. Reaction time is demonstrated by firearms instructors. Another critical skill in survival shooting is sit alignment and this is also demonstrated in the video.

SURVIVING DEADLY ASSAULTS (VHS)

California Post 1993 120 minutes AD

This video re-enacts four separate incidents involving assaults on law enforcement officers. Following each incident, a panel of officers discuss training points including warning signs, tactics, communications, resources and the will to survive. Although the program is two hours long, it can be viewed in twenty to thirty-minute segments since each incident is discussed separately.

SURVIVING EDGED WEAPONS (VHS)

Calibre Press 1988 85 minutes AD

Law enforcement injuries from edged weapons are up 92% in the last ten years. This program can be used for in-service training and includes firearm, baton, and empty-hand tactics for controlling violent offenders. Also included in the video are: 1) the latest, deadliest, and most cleverly disguised edged weapons and profiles of those offenders most likely to attack you, 2) insights from officers who were almost killed, 3) the reactionary gap you need to defeat a sudden knife assault, 4) what works against edged weapons including when a baton is the right defense and when it will only get you hurt, 5) when to use deadly force, 6) how to search a suspect so you won’t miss any hidden weapons, and 7) medical self-help and mental conditioning that will keep you alive if you do get cut or stabbed. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

SURVIVING UNDER STRESS (VHS)

Research shows that during stressful situations police officers tend to revert to what comes naturally. For example, officers in a spontaneous firefight will instinctively use quick draw shooting techniques. Based on the premise that it is a waste of time to teach procedures which cannot be duplicated under stress, this video demonstrates simple shooting and baton techniques that can be used successfully in life threatening situations.
SUSPICIOUS PACKAGES (VHS)
AIMS 1993 8 minutes AD
This program, produced by the Los Angeles County Sheriff’s Office, provides safety tips for law enforcement officers when they are required to handle suspicious packages. Included is information on common explosives and types of triggering devices. RESTRICTED TO LAW ENFORCEMENT.

SUSPICIOUS PERSON CALLS: AN ANALYSIS OF OFFICERS KILLED (VHS)
AIMS 1991 17 minutes AD
Law enforcement officers are confronted with the problem of checking out suspicious persons and circumstances on a daily basis. This program, based upon a ten-year study derived from FBI data, examines cases in which officers were killed while investigating suspicious person calls. Recreations of fifteen actual cases demonstrate the fatal mistakes which led to the deaths of police officers. The video ends with suggestions for conducting safer investigations. This is a good program for either new or experienced officers.

TACTICS FOR THE SMALL OFFICER
Calibre Press 2004 17 minutes AD
This video contains demonstrations of specific tactics that can be used to physically control a bigger person in a use-of-force situation. The program is hosted by Joe Ferrera, an instructor for the PPCT Defensive Tactics System. It can be useful for law enforcement basic or refresher training.

TAKING THE STAND (VHS)
Spectrum South 1989 12 minutes K EL
This program is aimed at children, ages 4 to 11, who have to testify in criminal cases. An adult takes two kids to a courtroom and explains the witness stand, jury, prosecutor, defendant, and judge. The video addresses the fears that children have about participating in a trial and presents the information in an entertaining format.

TALLAHASSE AMBUSH
In the Line of Duty 2005 37 minutes AD
This video documents a shooting incident involving two would-be bank robbers who, because of their suspicious behavior, were followed by a police officer when they sped away from a bank in Florida. The two suspects stopped twice to fire at the officer, first with handguns and then with an assault rifle. The officer was lucky enough to be protected by his car. The pursuit ended when the suspects lost control of their vehicle and crashed into an oncoming truck. A total of 21 shots were fired by the suspects. The entire pursuit was captured on police in-car video. The program concludes with a series of “lessons learned” by the officers involved in the pursuit. A short segment at the end includes a demonstration of a taser gun. A study guide is available.
TAMPA MASSACRE (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2001 60 minutes AD
This video documents an arrest in Tampa, Florida where a suspect was handcuffed in the back seat of a police cruiser. The suspect was under arrest for questioning in the murder of a child. Two detectives were in the front seat. The suspect escaped from his handcuffs, grabbed a firearm from one of the detectives, and used it to kill both of them. He then stole a vehicle and fled. Moments later he exchanged gunfire with a Florida State Trooper and killed him. The incident ended when the suspect was cornered by police and committed suicide.

Included throughout the program is a discussion of what mistakes were made by the two arresting officers. Another segment covers lessons learned and changes in procedure that were made by the Tampa Police Department after this incident. A study guide is available.

TEAM SHOOTING TECHNIQUES/CONTACT AND COVER (VHS)
ALERT 1995 27 minutes AD
A recent study by the FBI found that one of the reasons officers are shot in the line of duty was their inability to work together as a team. This video provides demonstrations of officers working together in various shooting scenarios. Included is the "slicing the pie" shooting technique and an explanation of each officer’s responsibilities in a team shooting situation.

TECHNIQUES FOR INTERVIEWING AND INTERROGATION (VHS)
Lockup USA 1999 28 minutes AD
Correctional officers may at times find it necessary to question inmates. This video (1) discusses the difference between an interview and an interrogation, and offers successful techniques for both situations; (2) explains the traits of a successful investigator; (3) emphasizes the importance of documentation; and (4) discusses the role of the line officer. A study guide is available.

TECHNIQUES OF REPORT WRITING (VHS)
American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD
This program, designed for correctional officers, contains a re-enactment of a fight between two inmates and the subsequent investigation and report on the incident. Included in the video are techniques and pitfalls of report writing and what items should be included in the report.

TESTIFYING IN COURT (VHS)
Charles MacCrone 1988 15 minutes AD
This video discusses preparation for testimony, demeanor in court, and offers tips for testifying in court. Produced in cooperation with the Criminal Justice Center at Sam Houston State University.
TEXAS HOMICIDE SUSPECT COMMITS SUICIDE/SHORT STROKING PREVENTION (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1999 36 minutes AD
This program documents a traffic stop in Meridian, Texas. Two officers stopped a potential murder suspect. Before they could question him or search his vehicle, the suspect stepped out of his car carrying a handgun and shot himself in the head. The incident is captured on the police officer’s in-car video. Possible mistakes made by the officers and lessons learned are discussed during the epilog.

A short segment at the end of the program discusses methods to prevent "short-stroking" when firing a handgun. A study guide is available.

TEXAS OFFICER HOSTAGE (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2000 39 minutes AD
This program uses police in-car video to document a late night traffic stop in Texas. Two officers stopped a car carrying two men. While one officer was talking to the driver, the passenger exited the vehicle and held a gun at the base of the other officer’s neck. The officer was able to escape after a few seconds and fired several shots at the passenger as he ran away. No shots hit the passenger and he was apprehended a few hours later.

This video includes a section on lessons learned from this incident and another segment discusses low light shooting situations. A study guide is available.

TEXAS OFFICER SHOT (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 2001 28 minutes AD
An officer in Beaumont, Texas recounts an incident that happened on his evening shift. He pursues a robbery suspect and wrestles him to the ground. During the struggle, the officer is shot once by the suspect using the officer’s handgun. The suspect then escaped. The officer did not draw his weapon during the incident. In an interview with the officer, he explains the mistakes he made and lessons learned.

A short segment at the end of the video details an incident in Ohio where two officers apprehended a robbery suspect and removed a weapon from him. The subject then jumped into the patrol car and pulled out a second firearm and threatened to kill himself and others. After two hours of negotiations, the suspect did not surrender but instead committed suicide. A study guide is available.
THE METH EPIDEMIC
PBS 2006 54 minutes AD
This program was produced by the PBS FRONTLINE series and documents the history of methamphetamine abuse. What started as a fad among motorcycle gangs in the 1970s has become the fastest growing drug abuse problem in this country, with hundreds of illegal meth labs. An investigative report by The Oregonian newspaper is discussed, and it is noted that most of the property crimes in Oregon are committed by meth addicts and more than 50% of the kids in Oregon foster care facilities are children of meth addicts.

This video presents a comprehensive look at the meth abuse problem and is valuable for an understanding of the effects of the drug on users and a look at treatment and enforcement efforts across the country.

THE STOP OF THE CENTURY / THE TIM MCVEIGH STOP
In the Line of Duty 2007 33 minutes AD
This video contains an interview with the officer who made a routine traffic stop which resulted in the arrest of Timothy McVeigh less than two hours after he had detonated a bomb and destroyed the Alfred P. Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City. The officer stopped McVeigh for a license plate violation, and during the stop he noted that McVeigh gave confusing answers to routine questions and was hiding a handgun beneath his jacket. The officer took physical control of the situation and arrested McVeigh. This is an excellent program for refresher training, and shows that even the most routine traffic stop can have important consequences.

THINGS YOUR TRAINING OFFICER NEVER TOLD YOU, PART 2
AIMS 2004 13 minutes AD
This short program is ideal for roll call training and includes these three segments: (1) Child Abuse - documents the case of a four-year-old boy who dies after being tied up by his grandmother. The social worker who received the complaint did an incomplete investigation and the police officer involved in the case assumed a thorough investigation had been done, and did not do an on-site visit before the child died. (2) Assistance Response - An officer responding to an assistance call drives too fast, crashes, and suffers serious injuries. The simple point is made that you can’t offer assistance if you don’t get there safely. (3) Excessive Force - an officer who is sued for excessive force talks about defensive tactics classes that show how to prevent serious injuries and the importance of documentation for all use–of-force incidents.
THROUGH THE EYES OF A CHILD: REDUCING THE TRAUMA OF CHILD REMOVAL (VHS)
AIMS 1999 22 minutes AD
Removing a child from his or her parents and home is very serious. Unexpected separation from a parent can feel like a life-or-death matter to a child, even when the child is coming from an abusive home. This video explores the many factors to be considered by social workers and police officers involved in child removal situations. Viewers will learn how to approach the removal in a manner that is the least traumatic for the child and family.

TINTED WINDOWS SHOOTING/TINTED WINDOWS TRAINING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1998 29 minutes AD
This program documents a traffic stop in Georgia, captured on police in-car video. The suspect’s car had tinted windows, which the suspect refused to roll down. The suspect had a gun, which he refused to drop. Ultimately, the two police officers involved in the stop had to draw their weapons and fire on the suspect, resulting in his death. The video analyzes this incident and discusses strategies for officer survival when confronted with a tinted window traffic stop. A study guide is available.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE (VHS)
AFSME 1988 30 minutes AD
This video is designed to educate consumers about telemarketing fraud. Included are discussions on credit card fraud, commodities and precious metals investments, interviews with victims of telemarketing schemes, re-enactments of techniques used by sellers, and advice on how to avoid suspicious deals. This is a good program for law enforcement officers to show before community groups.

TOO GOOD TO BE TRUE: HOW TO AVOID RIPOFFS (VHS)
Aid Assoc. for Lutherans 1996 33 minutes AD
Every day, con men prey on human nature and use simple schemes to victimize the public. This program introduces viewers to the tricks of the confidence trade via several scenarios including home repair schemes, charity solicitations, prizes won through the mail, and investment scams. This is a good video to show to citizen groups.

TOOL AND KEY CONTROL (VHS)
Lockup USA 1997 30 minutes AD
Tool and key control is critical in a correctional facility. This video discusses and demonstrates methods of tool and key control including the chit exchange system for key control, use of shadow boards for tool control, the use of civilian and inmate workers, and common mistakes. A study guide is available.
TRAFFIC STOPS: AN ANALYSIS OF OFFICERS KILLED (VHS)
AIMS 1989 13 minutes  AD

Every law enforcement officer knows that making a traffic stop can be deadly. Based on an eight-year study, this program identifies dangerous traffic stop situations and shows correct and incorrect arrest procedures through dramatic reenactments. Included in the video are situations involving exiting the patrol car, approaching the stopped vehicle, drunk drivers, talking at the roadside, and keeping passengers inside the car.

TRAFFIC STOPS: HIGH RISK VEHICLE CONTACTS (VHS)
ALERT 1995 27 minutes  AD

High risk vehicle stops present a threat to officer safety and must be handled with great care. This video discusses and demonstrates (1) threat assessment factors, (2) three important objectives, (3) examples of verbalization, and (4) scenarios involving a stop of a driver carrying a concealed weapon and a driver of a van. A study guide is available.

TRAFFIC STOPS: UNKNOWN RISKS (VHS)
ALERT 1995 32 minutes  AD

All vehicle stops are potentially dangerous and a threat to officer safety. This program is valuable for basic or in-service training and includes (1) why the officer’s attitude is important, (2) the objectives and types of vehicle stops, (3) vehicle contact positions, (4) night stops, and (5) when to use a non-approach stop. A study guide is available.

TRANSITIONAL FIREARMS TRAINING AND BALLISTICS ISSUES (VHS)

Several law enforcement agencies are making the transition from the standard police revolver to the semi-automatic pistol. This program explains the factors to be considered when choosing firearms including ballistic energy, ammunition design (round nose, blunt tip, hollow point, fragmenting), gun recoil, and choosing a caliber including a demonstration of four different 9mm handguns.

TRAVELING ALONE IN AMERICA (VHS)
Crime Prevention Resources 1998 32 minutes  AD

This program, aimed at women, features three re-creations of actual episodes where women traveling alone were threatened by strangers. Tips from police and safety precautions are included after each scenario. The scenarios contain episodes involving emergency road service, personal and rental cars, parking garages, and hotels. This is an excellent crime prevention video that can be shown to professional or community groups.

TRIAL BY JURY (DVD)
Cambridge Educational 2004 25 minutes  AD

The right to trial is guaranteed in the U.S. Constitution. This video explores the origins of the jury trial, explains the jury’s crucial role in our judicial system, and introduces viewers to the courtroom and the process of a trial. Segments include: (1) the constitutional guarantees to jury trial, (2) the role of juries in criminal and civil cases, (3) the process of jury selection, and (4) jury deliberations and verdicts.
TROLLEY SQUARE: THE NIGHT RAPID RESPONSE WORKED

This video documents an incident in Trolley Square, a shopping mall in Salt Lake City, Utah. An 18 year old male, armed with a shotgun and a pistol, opened fire on shoppers in the mall. Amateur video of the incident is included in the program. An off-duty cop was the first to respond, followed by an on-duty officer, and later by a SWAT team. Shots were exchanged, and the shooter was killed by the SWAT team. The final result was five people killed, and four injured. None of the police officers were injured. The shooter continued to return fire for several seconds even after he had sustained gunshot wounds to his chest. The video includes interviews with the officers who responded and "lessons learned."

TROOPER COATES SHOOTING (VHS)

During a routine traffic stop in South Carolina, a state trooper was shot and killed by a motorist. The incident was captured on the trooper’s in-car video camera. This program examines the incident and reveals mistakes in communication and defensive tactics. This is an excellent video for in-service training. A study guide is available.

TROOPER KNIFE FIGHT (VHS)

A Georgia State Trooper, searching a vehicle with the consent of the driver, was suddenly attacked by the driver with a knife. The suspect kept fighting even after the trooper fired one bullet into his mid-section. The entire incident was captured on the trooper’s in-car video. The program includes an interview with the trooper and a segment on "Lessons Learned." A study guide is available.

TROOPER NEGOTIATES HOSTAGE RELEASE (VHS)

This video documents a hostage situation in Jefferson County, Missouri. A young man attempted to rob a bank, and when he failed, he took one of the bank customers hostage and fled in her car. The ensuing chase lasted 45 minutes and ended when the subject crashed her car. Sergeant Heskett from the Missouri State Patrol arrived at the scene first and took command of the hostage negotiations. The incident ended peacefully when the subject released the hostage, threw down his gun, and surrendered.

Lessons learned from the incident are reviewed and discussed. A short segment at the end of the video also discusses the do's and don'ts on how to avoid racial profiling. A study guide is available.
TROOPER SAVED BY PASSENGER SIDE APPROACH (DVD)
In the Line of Duty 2005 38 minutes AD
A Utah trooper who stopped a car for speeding on the highway used the passenger side approach. While he was standing on the passenger side talking to the motorist, a commercial truck side-swiped the driver's side of the vehicle. The incident is captured on the trooper's in-car video camera. If the trooper would have used the conventional means of approach, he would have been killed. The advantages of a passenger side approach are discussed, and the trooper involved in the incident is interviewed. A short segment at the end of the program discusses a research study that examined how officers react to lethal force.

TRUTH ABOUT HATE (VHS)
AIMS 2001 49 minutes JH SH
This video, aimed at teens, explores the origin of hate. Segments include (1) a former white supremacist who now talks to teen groups, (2) a black man describes a beating which left him paralyzed, (3) a Jewish woman who survived a World War II concentration camp describes her experiences, (4) a Hispanic-Armenian conflict at a high school is examined, (5) prejudices against gay people are discussed, and (6) a three-day retreat for a mixed group of teens is filmed and the teens talk about how they are learning to resolve their prejudices. This is an excellent video for a junior high or high school audience.

TWO MINUTE WARNING (DVD)
In the Line of Duty 2004 66 minutes AD
This DVD includes 33 segments . . . each two minutes long. It is useful for police officer roll call or refresher training. There are segments on traffic stops, burglary, transporting prisoners, off-duty incidents, domestic violence, handcuffing, lethal use of force, dealing with mentally ill persons, and robbery investigation. Because of the DVD format, it is simple to skip around and only view the segments you wish to see.

UCR TRAINING (VHS)
NE Crime Commission 1987 150 minutes AD
This program features Marilyn Keelan who administers the Uniform Crime Reporting (UCR) system for Nebraska. The video provides step-by-step training in how to complete all the required UCR reports and is especially helpful to those agencies or individuals who are unfamiliar with the UCR system.

ULTIMATE SURVIVORS (VHS)
Calibre Press 1991 85 minutes AD
This program recreates life-threatening events faced by four law enforcement officers and what steps they took to deal with the physical and emotional scars left behind. Included are interviews with each officer and family members. This is an excellent video for in-service training. Narrated by William Shatner.
ULTIMATE SURVIVORS TWO
Calibre Press 2005 89 minutes AD
This program looks at four incidents involving police officers where their survival mindset allowed them to survive deadly situations. (1) A routine traffic stop erupts into a shootout, where two officers end up on the ground with bullet wounds and the suspect is shot and killed. The officers’ training and determination allowed them to survive. (2) An officer is gunned down after a high-speed pursuit. He receives multiple gunshot wounds. His will to live and his immediate reactions made the difference between life and death. (3) An officer near the end of his shift is involved in a traffic accident whereby he is impaled by a 2x6 board through his chest. His car plunges down a steep embankment and is hidden from sight. He is not discovered for several hours. With the help of his body armor and his faith, he survives. (4) While in her home sleeping, a future police officer is attacked by an intruder who has a prior record as a rapist. She overcomes the odds and gets the intruder on the floor and shoots him with his own gun. It was only after the incident that this woman decided to pursue a career as a law enforcement officer. She graduated from training and today is on duty as a police officer.

UNDER THE INFLUENCE
Discovery Channel 2003 24 minutes JH SH AD
Statistics show that the average age for first-time drinkers is 12 and 80% of high school seniors have tried drinking. Also, it has been proven that alcohol injures the memory and learning functions of adolescent brains.

This program sends an anti-drinking message using interviews with kids who have tried alcohol. The consequences of drinking, i.e. risky behavior, addiction, and drunk driving are examined. This is suitable for junior and senior high school students and the information is presented in small segments that are easy to understand.

UNDER THE INFLUENCE 2.... A DECADE LATER (VHS)
FMS 1988 27 minutes AD
This program demonstrates how driving ability progressively deteriorates in a test where people first drive through a course with no alcohol in their bloodstreams compared to a later test when their blood alcohol level has risen to .10 percent. Also discussed is the effect of drug use on driving skills.

UNDERSTANDING THE CRIMINIAL MIND (VHS)
Lockup USA 2001 32 minutes AD
The purpose of this video is to help correctional staff better understand the inmates they supervise. The program contains interviews with the leader of a motorcycle gang, a prison guard, a psychiatrist, and a mass murderer. Segments include (1) a life of crime, (2) reasons for the criminal mind, (3) lack of remorse, and (4) the criminal mind in prison. A study guide is available.
UNKNOWN RISK TRAFFIC STOPS (VHS)

Police officers have been killed making "low risk" or "routine" traffic stops. This program recreates several traffic stop situations and explains (1) how to position the patrol car when making a stop, (2) how to assess the threat from a stopped car, (3) when to call for backup, (4) warning signs of potential danger, (5) how to approach the stopped car, and (6) night stops.

UPDATED INCIDENT AT WHITE CASTLE

In The Line Of Duty 2005 53 minutes AD

This program updates an incident in Cincinnati where a person high on drugs dies after a struggle with police officers at a White Castle Restaurant. His death was caused by health issues unrelated to the force used by the police. The incident was caught on a police video camera. After the incident is shown and discussed, there is a critique of what the officers did correctly - they were able to use non-lethal force in a lethal force situation. The video also includes demonstrations of the use of a PR24 baton and a taser.

UPPERS, DOWNERS, AND ALL-AROUNDERS, PART 1: THE EFFECTS (VHS)

Kinetic Inc. 1993 30 minutes SH AD

Using special effects, narration, and interviews with users, this program describes the physical and emotional effects of several commonly used drugs. The video identifies psychoactive drugs, classifies them by their effect, and demonstrates how they are absorbed into the bloodstream. Drugs discussed include codeine, opiates, cocaine, marijuana, crack, speed, PCP, and LSD. This is an excellent video for student groups or the general public.

UPPERS, DOWNERS, AND ALL-AROUNDERS, PART 2: THE DRUGS (VHS)

Kinetic Inc. 1993 30 minutes SH AD

This program discusses several commonly used drugs, including the dangers of addiction and the symptoms of withdrawal. The effects and appearance of each drug are explained and interviews with users are included. Addictive qualities are demonstrated via computer animation. Drugs discussed include marijuana, heroin, alcohol, cocaine, valium, inhalants, PCP, and LSD. This is an excellent video for student groups or the general public.

USE OF FORCE IN JAILS (VHS)

American Jail Assoc. 1990 10 minutes AD

Correctional officers should always consider options other than force when dealing with inmates. This video discusses when force (including deadly force) may be justified and encourages the use of team tactics if possible. The program also emphasizes the necessity of accurate reports on incidents involving use of force.
USE OF FORCE IN THE CORRECTIONAL FACILITY (VHS)
Lockup USA 2002 32 minutes AD

Every correctional officer who comes into contact with inmates will have to use force at one time or another. Using the force continuum, this program looks at when the officers are allowed to use force (and what type of force) against an inmate. Segments include (1) Use of Force/Avoiding Physical Force, (2) The Force Continuum, (3) Pitfalls in the Use of Force, and (4) Documenting Use of Force. A study guide is available.

USE OF FORCE REPORT WRITING, PART 1 (VHS)
ALERT 2001 14 minutes AD

This video looks at legal considerations of report writing. The point is made that officers need to review their reports before submission to assure that there are no mistakes or misstatements. Short segments include (1) truthfulness, (2) cost of untruthfulness, (3) contents of reports: civil liability and use of force reports, and (4) field notes. A study guide is available.

USE OF FORCE REPORT WRITING, PART 2 (VHS)
ALERT 2001 16 minutes AD

This program offers tips on how police officers can write better reports. The elements of a good report are discussed and advice is given on what "not" to use in a report. The importance of good grammar, spelling, use of details, and completeness is emphasized and legal liabilities and risks are also discussed. A study guide is available.

USE OF FORCE, PART 1: DE-ESCALATION TECHNIQUES (VHS)

De-escalation of force is a police officer's ability to go into a potentially violent situation, assess the level of threat, take the appropriate action, and intervene at the right level of force. This video shows how to judge the actual level of threat by recognizing threat behavior. The program demonstrates the right and wrong techniques for de-escalating violence and discusses emotional states that may lead to officer assaults. Also included is a short segment that explains a recent Supreme Court decision on search and seizure.

USE OF FORCE, PART 2 (VHS)

Police use of excessive force has recently gained national attention. This program is designed to encourage law enforcement agencies to implement policies and training programs that will lessen the possibilities of excessive force. The video includes: (1) an interview with New York Police Commissioner Lee Brown who has designed a community policing program for his department, (2) a discussion of defensive tactics and training methods that lessen the chances of excessive use of force, and (3) liability of officers and agencies for unreasonable use of force.
USE OF FORCE/UNDERSTANDING LISTENING SKILLS (VHS)

LETN 1994 50 minutes AD

This video contains two 25-minute segments: (1) Use of Force - includes discussion of some of the common misunderstandings as well as case law relative to the use of force; (2) Understanding Listening Skills - includes techniques of good listening skills (i.e. interviews with rape victims) and how to recognize areas for improvement.

USE OF INMATE INFORMANTS

Lockup USA 2005 27 minutes AD

Inmate informants can be very useful to a correctional agency. They can help solve crimes committed inside the institution, and they can also warn staff of impending problems. Informants take a great risk and other inmates may subject them to verbal, physical, or psychological abuse if they are discovered. For these reasons, correctional staff have to be very careful in protecting the identity of informants.

This program includes segments on (1) Types of Informants, (2) Why Inmates Become Informants, (3) The Reliability of Informant Information, (4) The Role of the Housing Officer, and (5) Protecting Informants. This is a good video for basic or refresher training. A study guide is available.

USE OF LESS LETHAL WEAPONS IN CORRECTIONS (VHS)

Lockup USA 2003 30 minutes AD

The use of "less lethal" weapons in corrections environment is designed to enforce compliance without causing serious bodily harm. These weapons are used where hands-on use of force is not enough to make inmates comply with the commands of officers. This video discusses and demonstrates various less lethal weapons and explains under what circumstances they can be used.

USE OF NON-LETHAL FORCE (VHS)

L.E. NET 1987 30 minutes AD

The use of non-lethal force is an important liability matter for every law enforcement agency. The primary concern of non-lethal force is to control a subject who is offering resistance. This program offers guidelines for use of force and reviews six basic levels of subject resistance and officer control. Also discussed is the proper written report for an incident where force has been used. Expert witnesses are often called to testify in court cases regarding force and the video concludes with a discussion of basic qualifications for an expert witness.

USE OF PEPPER SPRAY AND STUN DEVICES (VHS)

Lockup USA 1987 30 minutes AD

Increasing levels of violence in correctional institutions has led to the development of non-lethal weapons as a method to regain control of a situation with minimal harm. This video demonstrates and explains the use of electronic stun devices and pepper spray. The importance of developing use of force guidelines is also discussed. A study guide is included.
USE OF RESTRAINT DEVICES IN THE FACILITY (VHS)
Lockup: USA 2003 37 minutes AD
There are many types of restraint devices that can be used to control inmates, and this program demonstrates the most useful and common ones. Restraint devices are important tools to be used by the correctional officer but they must never be used to abuse or punish the inmate. Officer safety and potential liability when using restraint devices should always be considered. The restraint devices discussed in this video include the restraint chair, handcuffs, waist chains, shackles, and flex cuffs. A study guide is available.

USING COVER (VHS)
AIMS 1994 16 minutes AD
Law enforcement officers often underestimate the penetrating power of firearms. This program demonstrates the capabilities of handguns, shotguns, and rifles against a variety of objects - including car doors, engine blocks, windshields, fences, trees, walls, and bulletproof vests. After viewing this video, even skeptical officers will be more conscious of their vulnerability when seeking cover.

UTAH CRUISER STOLEN
This program documents an incident in rural Utah. An officer makes a night-time traffic stop. A felony warrant has been issued on the car. There are four people in the car, and the felony warrant has been issued on a female passenger. She is arrested, handcuffed, and placed in the back seat of the officer’s car. The officer has no back-up assistance. He goes back to the stopped car. The driver has no license and one passenger has two smaller warrants. The other passenger is on parole.

While the officer is distracted, the female he has arrested slips out of her handcuffs, climbs into the front seat of the patrol car (which is running) and drives away. The officer is left at the scene of the traffic stop. The female subject is stopped after a forty mile police pursuit. The officer discusses the mistakes he made and the lessons learned are also discussed.

VEHICLE SEARCHES (VHS)
ALERT 2000 21 minutes AD
This program is intended for basic training for new law enforcement officers. It includes a demonstration of a vehicle search, i.e., seats, trunk, and engine. The video stresses officer safety and the importance of a thorough and productive search.
VEHICLE STOP TACTICS (VHS)

MTI 1981 40 minutes  AD

There is nothing routine about vehicle pullovers. Any time an officer drops his guard on a vehicle stop, he can be walking to his own funeral. This program offers a complete range of current tactics proven effective in hundreds of low risk tactics, such as safe locations for writing citations, and high-risk tactics, such as teamwork and perimeter control. Twenty-one reenactments of vehicle stops with instructional points on circumstances which jeopardize officer safety, proper approach, low and high risk tactics are shown.

VEHICLE STOPS AND SEARCHES (VHS)

ALERT 2001 27 minutes  AD

This video looks at the extent and limit of a police officer's authority to stop and search motor vehicles. Included are discussions on consent searches, inventory searches, when a warrant is necessary, and court cases that affect motor vehicle searches.

VERBAL FIRESTORM TESTS TEXAS DEPUTY

In the Line of Duty 2006 28 minutes  AD

A police in-car video shows an incident in Texas where a black police officer stops a white woman who is unable to drive safely and fails her sobriety tests. The stop is made in a wealthy suburb of Austin. While the officer is attempting to arrest the suspect, two of her friends approach and direct racially motivated words towards the officer. The two friends are also arrested after backup arrives. On the way to the police station, the woman arrested during the traffic stop also verbally abuses the police officer. Through the entire incident, the officer maintains his poise. Lessons learned include: use your cruiser cam, maintain your focus, learn to manage stress, and when it is time to act, you need to act. Too much negotiation can make the situation even worse.

VERBAL JUDO/BODY LANGUAGE, PART 2 (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1999 38 minutes  AD

Verbal judo is described as "martial arts for the mouth" or using words to achieve a tactical goal. That goal for police officers is voluntary compliance. This video contains classroom footage and an interview with Dr. George Thompson, the guru of verbal judo. Included are benefits of verbal judo, techniques that work, and a verbal judo scenario.

VERBAL JUDO/SAFER, PART 2 (VHS)

In the Line of Duty 1999 33 minutes  AD

This program follows up on an earlier Line of Duty video and expands the discussion and demonstration of verbal judo. Dr. George Thompson, the guru of verbal judo, discusses your personal danger zone, and when it is necessary to take action. Dr. George Thompson uses his own experiences as a police officer to illustrate his points.

A short segment at the end of the video includes an interview with a police officer who suffered a heart attack. The basic risk factors of heart attacks are explained, and officers are encouraged to seek help if they experienced warning signs. A study guide is available.
VEST SAVES DEPUTY'S LIFE (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1997 34 minutes AD
During a routine traffic stop, a deputy sheriff in Georgia was fired upon by the driver of the stopped car. He received two bullets fired at his chest and survived because he was wearing a bulletproof vest. This program shows the incident on police video and reviews the incident with the deputy who was fired upon. Discussions focus on vehicle approaches, training, protective vests and lessons learned. A study guide is available.

VICTIMS OF VIOLENCE (VHS)
California Post 1997 67 minutes AD
This program is designed to educate crime victims regarding the criminal justice system. The video guides the victim, step-by-step, through each segment of the legal system. The program contains interviews with actual victims and is appropriate for victims of sexual assault, homicide, assault with a deadly weapon, or robbery.

WARRANT SERVICE/TRAINING ACCIDENT KILLS OFFICER (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 29 minutes AD
Serving warrants can be one of the most dangerous assignments an officer will encounter. This program discusses three incidents where officers were injured or killed while serving warrants. There are several components that are vital to warrant service, and they are examined in detail. A short segment at the end of this video discusses a training accident involving a simulated hostage incident. An officer who was role-playing was accidentally shot and killed with a weapon that was supposed to be unloaded. The lessons learned from this tragic incident are discussed. A study guide is available.

WARREN HOT PURSUIT/EVOC TRAINING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 1999 36 minutes AD
This video looks at a high-speed car pursuit in Warren, Michigan that was captured on police in-car video. The suspect was a bank robber with excellent driving skills who managed to elude several police vehicles during the fifteen-minute pursuit. The pursuit ended and the suspect was arrested. The program discusses mistakes made and lessons learned during the arrest and pursuit.

WE THE CHILDREN (VHS)
Psyche Productions 1994 57 minutes JH SH AD
This program examines the effects of violence on children, especially handguns. Interviews with children, a police chief, parents, and school resource officers provide first-hand information. Causes of handgun violence and possible solutions are also discussed.
WEAPON RETENTION TRAINING (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2004 34 minutes AD
Officer Herb Hood of West Chester, Ohio has choreographed a simple weapon retention training technique to inflict pain or injury to the soft tissues and to the central nervous system of assailants. The technique is universal in that you don’t have different sets of techniques depending on the direction of the attack. If attacked, the goal is to do absolutely anything to save yourself. A study guide is available.

WEAPONS AND YOU (VHS)
Perennial Education 1993 18 minutes JH SH
This video shows junior and senior high school students the real consequences of bearing and using weapons. Through the emotional stories of a young man who is paralyzed by a stray bullet and a father whose son was accidentally killed at a party, the tragic consequences of weapons are presented. Also, a doctor explains the reality of life after a gunshot wound and a police officer speaks about the distorted view of gun-related violence presented through television and movies.

WELCOME BACK, DEVON (VHS)
AIMS 2004 32 minutes EL JH
This program addresses the problem of bullying by using dramatized scenes interspersed with interviews with real students who have been bullied. Devon, a small, shy boy is bullied by three classmates. When Devon is seriously injured, a witness comes forward and the bullies are arrested. The entire school welcomes Devon back with an assembly to help stop bullying. Comments from police officers reassure the students that they have legal recourse against bullies. This is an excellent video for school resource officers. The audience level is grades 5 to 8.

WHAT CAN WE DO ABOUT VIOLENCE? - PART 2 (VHS)
Films for the Humanities 1995 56 minutes AD
This program, hosted by Bill Moyers, takes a look at domestic and street violence. In Nashville, we see how intense police investigation and follow-up of domestic abuse has led to the imprisonment of repeat offenders. A program in Los Angeles features a doctor and former teenage patients (many injured by gunshot) who speak to young kids about weapons and violence. Violence in the media is also portrayed and solutions to its impact on children are also discussed.

WHAT DOGS TRY TO TELL COPS (DVD)
In the Line of Duty 2005 30 minutes AD
This program teaches some basic techniques on how police officers can “read” a dog’s behavior. There have been cases where officers have used deadly force on dogs (e.g. family pets) that they thought were threatening them, only to learn there was no threat and then having to deal with a liability lawsuit. Included are segments on (1) the approach, (2) dog body language, (3) what to do and not do when a dog is provoked, (4) pit bulls and larger dogs, and (5) protecting yourself.
WHAT DOGS TRY TO TELL COPS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2003 24 minutes AD
An accident in Tennessee in which a police officer shot and killed a family's pet dog during a traffic stop created a public outcry. The shooting was captured on police in-car video and is shown in this program. Although it was a felony stop, critics argued that the officer was too quick to shoot the dog. The dog appeared friendly rather than aggressive. Complicating the matter was the fact that the dog's owner had done nothing wrong and the felony stop was based on erroneous information.

This program is designed to help officers evaluate situations involving dogs and to take alternative action when appropriate. Segments include: (1) the approach, (2) do's and don'ts when a dog is provoked, (3) non-lethal tools that can fend-off a dog attack, (4) dealing with pit bulls and larger dogs, (5) how to protect yourself, (6) what to do if you decide on using lethal force. A study guide is available.

WHAT EVERY LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCY SHOULD KNOW ABOUT TASER (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2004 45 minutes AD
The taser is a non-lethal use of force developed for law enforcement officers. It resembles a handgun except it fires two prongs on the end of two wires. An electrical charge sent through the wires overrides the central nervous system and causes the suspect to drop to the ground. The prongs do not have to touch the skin. They are effective through two inches of clothing. Tests have shown that tasers do not do any damage, even to people with pacemakers. The effective range of the taser is up to 21 feet, with 7 feet being the optimal distance.

This video discusses the history of the taser, how it works, and situations that limit its effectiveness. Included are interviews with police officers who have used a taser on duty. The major advantages of using a taser are reduced officer injuries, reduced suspect injuries, and fewer use-of-force lawsuits.

WHAT EVERY STREET COP NEEDS TO KNOW ABOUT TERROR AND TERRORISTS (VHS)
In the Line of Duty 2002 47 minutes AD
Terrorism is not confined to big cities and can happen anywhere in America. This video stresses that police officers need to be aware of potential risk targets. Explosives are still preferred by any terrorist group, and a short segment discusses the types of bombs they use. Traffic stops are discussed and officers are reminded not to be complacent. An interview with an Illinois law enforcement officer, who is an expert on terrorism, is included in the program. A study guide is available.
WHAT IS YOUR DRUG I.Q.? (VHS)

Syndistar 1995 17 minutes EL JH SH

This fast-paced and creative video contains several question and answer segments on drugs and how they affect users. The viewer has an opportunity to answer each question before the correct answer is revealed and explained. Included are segments on alcohol, marijuana, LSD, cocaine, stimulants, heroin, narcotics, and inhalants. Although the program is designed for elementary and junior high students, it can also be beneficial for high school students.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO?

In the Line of Duty 2006 38 minutes AD

This program presents ten short segments on issues that police officers confront almost every day. After each incident is shown, a series of thought provoking questions are asked. In most cases, the answers are not provided. Included is a brawl at a basketball game, a hostage incident, an angry mob, a traffic stop involving a diabetic seizure, a foot pursuit, a traffic pursuit that ends with lethal force, and use of a taser to subdue a suspect. This is an excellent program for basic or refresher training.

WHAT WOULD YOU DO? - POWERPOINT

In the Line of Duty 2006 60 minutes AD

This program presents 15 short segments on issues that police officers confront almost every day. After each incident is shown, a series of thought provoking questions are asked. The format is in DVD-ROM, which means the program must be viewed on a personal computer. Each segment is 3 to 5 minutes long, with PowerPoint slide and video segments. The segments can be viewed in any order.

WHEN CHILDREN ARE WITNESSES (VHS)

Guilford Publications 1989 48 minutes AD

This program features a dramatic presentation of portions of a criminal court trial for child sexual abuse and is designed to teach legal personnel how to make the courtroom environment less intimidating to children. The video explains that children can be reliable witnesses and demonstrates how to most effectively bring out their testimony.

WHEN LOOKS KILL! PROFILING THE DOMESTIC ASSAULTER (VHS)

AIMS 1993 40 minutes AD

This program re-creates a domestic violence incident where a woman is killed after the police officers leave the scene. The video explains (1) common mistakes made by police, (2) danger signs of a potential domestic violence murder, and (3) a profile of a domestic assaulter. A study guide is included.
WHEN ONE INCIDENT BECOMES SEVERAL
In the Line of Duty 2007  25 minutes  AD
This video shows a nearly fatal traffic accident caught on an officer’s in-car video camera. Three officers from the Utah Highway Patrol were helping a stranded motorist who went off the highway on a snowy day. While they were assisting the first motorist, a rollover accident happened right in front of them. They moved to the scene of the rollover accident and assisted the driver, who was not injured.

While they were helping the rollover accident driver, a passenger van pulling a trailer lost control on the ice and crashed into the rollover accident scene. Two of the officers were almost hit by flying debris. Some of the debris was heavy enough to cause serious or fatal injuries. The lessons learned from this incident are discussed.

A short “What Would You Do” segment at the end of the video shows a traffic stop of a woman who was stopped for a speeding violation. She left the scene of the stop and was caught a few minutes later by police. She claimed she was rushing to the hospital because her father had just had a heart attack. The officer did not believe her story and did not try to verify it. The woman was taken to jail. Her story was proven to be true and the officer was suspended for five days.

WHO'S THERE FOR THE VICTIM? (VHS)
MTI 1981  22 minutes  AD
Through documentary footage and simulated situations, this video demonstrates the important role a victim advocate plays in supporting a rape victim during the crucial hours following an attack. Advocates talk about their motivation and the problems they encounter as they represent the victim’s interests with regard to police, hospital personnel, and family members.
